MEN OF CLASS 1 IN WAR SERVICE

JULY CALLS FOR TRAINING CAMPS TAKE LARGE LIST OF REGISTRANTS

1918 CLASS MAY VOLUNTEER

Local Exemption Board Arranges for Many Increments—Squad of 55 to Depart on Saturday

With the exception of the 100 men in the ship yards, and the 192 boys of the 1918 registration, Clackamas county's class 1 list is cleaned up in the filling of July quotas. On Saturday there will be 65 depart for Fort McDowell, and on or about July 22 there will be an increment of 89 to Camp Lewis. These, with the alternates, are given in this column. The Fort McDowell contingent, the names of which were listed in a former issue, will leave here at 9:18 p. m. Saturday on a special train. The exact hour of departure for the 89 has not yet been set.

It is expected that the work or fight rules will bring in a few more men, as Clerk Harrington, of the exemption board, states that a number of young fellows have been notified to seek connections in other lines of endeavor.

In speaking of the rules and regulations, Miss Harrington says "The exemption board is receiving a number of anonymous communications from people who are endeavoring to do their patriotic duty by notifying us of men who should be re-classified, or who are employed in non-productive work, contrary to law. These letters are often signed 'Patriot,' 'Citizen,' 'Voter,' 'One who has sons in the service,' etc., and are eventually written with the intention of helping the cause along. However, we cannot use their information unless their names are signed to the communications. The law requires us to keep this information and the source of it confidential, and no one need fear that they will incur the enmity of a friend or neighbor by giving the war board the information which they must have in order to fulfill the functions of the selective service board. It is the patriotic duty of every person having information on cases that the board should investigate, to report, either in person, or in a signed communication. We shall not reveal their identity."

A call for mechanics and artisans for the Engineers' Corps has also been issued, and volunteers are asked for. No men in the July calls may enter this service, but those in deferred classes, and the new class of 1918 registrants may serve. In volunteering for this call, a registrant waives all claims to exemption and deferred service. The date of enlistment of this squad has not been announced, nor has the number of men required been released.

In the new contingent scheduled to take training at Camp Lewis, are the following, who will assemble here about July 22:

William Bartels, Molalla; William Edward Nelson, Parkplace; Frank Anderson, Astoria; Clyde Hunt Schick, Estacada; Arthur Nowak, Newberg; Umberto Minelli, Milwaukie; Alfred Gus Olsen, Portland; Lee Frederick Gly, Oregon City; Warren William Freese, Canby; John Alvin Ritter, Aurora; Michael W. Korman, Oregon City; Leonard Lean, Milwaukie; Henry Peter Jaeger, Sherwood; Samuel Maddax, Portland; Oliver Hendren Heinz, Aurora; Fred Giles Daugherty, Molalla; John Casanova, Clackamas; Edward Benjamin Burkert, Woodburn.

RED CROSS DATA IS GIVEN TO THE PUBLIC

CAMPAIGN MANAGER SULLIVAN COMPILES FIGURES ON 2ND WAR FUND

Following is the tabulated report of Campaign Manager Sullivan, of the Second Red Cross War Fund drive in Clackamas county, and it shows the different quotas assigned the districts, and the amounts raised by them.

In speaking of the reports Mr. Sullivan said, "In the original issue of the quotas to the various districts, that for Molalla No. 35, was given as $204.00, through a clerical error. As it should have been, and is here, the quota was $404.00."

The total amount subscribed by the county to date has been $28,337.08, while the minimum quota was but $15,000. Clatsop was the only county in the state which had a better record than Clackamas, and they went over by more than 200 per cent.

The final report on the drive, and the amounts collected follows:

KENT WILSON, IN FRANCE, KEEPS IN FINE TRIM

Word has been received from Kent Wilson, by his parents, Sheriff and Mrs. W. J. Wilson, to the effect that he recently won high athletic honors at a big A. E. F. field meet in France, where he is stationed with the medical corps. He states in his letter that in the 440-yard foot race he beat Cross of Chicago, and Overton, of Yale, two star track men of the east. The meet took place at Blois, on Decoration day, and the Third Oregon band was there to dispense the music for the day. Besides being first in this event, he took second place in the 100 and 220-yard races, and was the recipient of a medal from the French Minister of War for being second highest individual point winner.

Kent has always taken a strong interest in athletics, and while at the U. of O. was leading man in a number of track events. In his letter he speaks of soon leaving on a leave of absence, and intended to make a visit to the Alps, and down into Italy. He is well known here, where his many friends are rejoicing at his victories on the athletic field of France. He was recently promoted to a higher rank in the hospital corps to which he belongs.

TITLE TO PROPERTY IS DECREE TO MUMPOWER

Mrs. Anna Sprague, as administratrix of the estate of her husband, Mark Sprague, who died a short time ago, has been ordered by decree of Judge Campbell, of the circuit court, to transfer title to a 20-acre tract held by her to W. E. Mumpower, the plaintiff in an action just closed. Mumpower, who is the father of Mrs. Sprague, claimed that the title to the land had been given to Mr. Sprague during his life time to secure a loan of $250. This obligation had been met, said the complaint, but the other party to the agreement had died without taking the action necessary to give title back to Mumpower. The action of the court Tuesday sustained the demands of the plaintiff.

Bennett-Beaty

Licensed to wed this week were Peter Gordon Bennett, aged 33, and Mary Beatty, aged 33, both of Portland.

Uptegrove-DeShazer

William Uptegrove, aged 23, of Eggle Creek, was licensed to marry Miss Ueella DeShazer, aged 20, of Boring, on July 1st, and the ceremony immediately followed the securing of the license.

CELEBRATION OF FOURTH PLANNED

EMPLOYES OF BIG PAPER MILLS FRAME UP FINE LIST OF FEATURE STUNTS

PUBLIC WILL PARTICIPATE

Excellent Entertainment Will be Held at Gladstone Park—Home Guard to Take Big Part

Preparations are complete for the celebration of the mill employes at Chautauqua park July 4th, when the two big mills here will co-operate in staging their annual Independence Day festival.

Committees of the two institutions have worked out a great program of stunts for the day, and a speaker has been supplied by the American Loyalty League, in the person of J. L. Etheridge.

The committee has arranged for special train service on the P. Ry. & P. lines, and the crowds will have ample facilities for getting to and from the park. They have prohibited the use of fire-works on the grounds and are taking every precaution to make the event successful from every standpoint.

The grand parade at 10:00 a. m. starts the day, and for this the Home Guard band will furnish the music. Following the parade there will be speaking and a musical program, followed by a Home Guard drill, for the best showing of platoons. A $25 prize is hung up for this event.

At 1:00 o'clock the athletic contests start with a tug of war, with four teams of ten men each, competing for a prize of $5. The elimination contest will leave the two strongest teams to pull for the grand prize of $20.00. For the hose contest, with 9 men to a squad, there is a prize of $10 and $5. In the board sawing contest the first prize is a Simons' blue-ribbon hand saw, and the second and third prizes $2 and $1 respectively. At 2 o'clock the ladies have their innings with a nail driving contest. They will hammer spikes into a board for 60 seconds, and the prizes for this run $3, $2, and $1. In a relay race twice around the track, with four men to each team, the contestants will strive for an $8 prize. For boys under 12 years there will be a sack race of 25 yards, with $2 and $1 prizes for first and second. The three-legged race for the same distance carries the same prize, while the fat man's race, for buskies over 210 pounds, will go 50 yards for the same money. Following this there will be an elderly man's race, for those over 50 years of age, a boys' race, 12 years and under, a girl's race, 16 years and under, and another 12 years and under, mixed race for juveniles under 6 years, a young women's race, for those over 16, married women's race, and a fat women's race, all of which with the exception of the juvenile race, will be for 50 yards, and for the first and second prizes of $2 and $1.

In a 100-yard race will be boys under 16, and another event for the same distance, will be staged for the young men over 16.

At 3:30 the ball game commences for a 7-inning contest for a $30 first prize and a $10 second. Following this the fat men and the lean ones will cross bats for a 5-inning struggle, the winners to get $10 and $5 as first and second premiums.

Dancing in both the afternoon and evening has been arranged for, and at 5:30 the prize waltz for $5 will be held. Basket luchoons will be the order of the day, and the enterprising committee has provided hot coffee and buttermilk, which will be furnished gratis to the employes and their families. Besides the events listed, a troupe of performers, consisting of a magician, an impersonator, lady singers, and musicians, has been engaged, and will add in entertainment of the crowds which are expected.

The park is open to the public, and an invitation has been cordially extended by the committee to the residents of the community to meet with them for their annual frolic. The program is looked forward to, as being one of the best ever prepared by the mill employes for the Fourth.

FIRES THREATEN PROPERTY IN MANY PARTS OF COUNTY

A dense haze of smoke obscured the sun and the high hills to the westward Tuesday evening, and throughout the whole county the farmers and the residents are combating grass and brush fires with all their might. In Chautauqua park at Gladstone, a fire, which for a time threatened to be serious, was quenched only after a strenuous war was waged by a number of volunteers, recruited by Miss Frances Cross, who first noticed the fire, and who took possession of a Ford car to warn the people of Gladstone that a fire was in progress. At a late hour Tuesday night the fire was well under control.

PORTLAND YOUTH IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

MERCENARY AMBULANCE COMPANY VIOLATES PRINCIPLES OF DECENCY

The story below describes an automobile accident which took place last evening, but the object of this article at the head is to direct the attention of the proper authorities to a misuse of the Red Cross emblem. When the accident occurred, the Red Cross Ambulance company of Portland, was called to take the injured party to the hospital. When they arrived, they refused to remove the injured person before payment was guaranteed for their trouble. This was bad enough, but the Red Cross emblem was on their ambulance wagon, and it looks to THE COURIER as if this was a flagrant violation of the law, as the Red Cross emblem is supposed to be used only in connection with the Red Cross association.

The COURIER publishes this article for the reason that when this company's ambulance arrived on the scene of the accident, they refused to remove the injured to the hospital until payment was guaranteed for their trouble—and the title is the RED CROSS AMBULANCE COMPANY. The Red Cross association is the greatest humanitarian organization in the world, and when an ambulance company steps out and calls itself a Red Cross company, and charges in advance, it's about time something was done.

The address of this ambulance company is 304 Hoyt street, Portland.

In an accident Tuesday afternoon on the east 82nd street road, just south of Clackamas, a young man believed to be Dave Cameron, of Portland, was seriously injured, when the motorcycle he was riding was smashed into by an automobile driven by H. L. Martin, of this city. The machines struck squarely, and the auto passed over the young fellow on the motorcycle. Bystanders assert that the accident was unavoidable, as there were a team and a large truck obscuring the roadway ahead. As Mr. Martin came up to the two outfits to pass, the motorcycle dashed out from behind, and ran fairly into the machine.

The young man was rushed to the hospital here, where an operation was performed in an effort to save his life. Late reports had it that he was out of danger, although a broken leg and complicated internal injuries resulted from the accident. The machine he was riding carried the state license number "T-47," which is listed in the directory as belonging to Evert Hill, of the DeMoy hotel, in Portland. In a moment of consciousness, the young man stated that his name was Dave Cameron.

PEACE REIGNS ON LOCAL SECTORS

SHERIFF WILSON PREPARES A STRONG DEFENSE AGAINST INVADING FOE

HOME GUARDS MUSTERED IN

Large Crowd Congregates in Expectancy of Street Riot Between Strikers and Mill Men

In preparation of the anticipated mix-up between striking mill men and the employes of the two big plants here, Sheriff Wilson on Saturday afternoon and evening was assembled for instructions at the armory, and later dispatched to various posts of duty throughout the city. Like a good general, the sheriff posted his men at strategic points, and had the force so thoroughly organized that no attempt at violence was made. When the 4:30 shift from the Crown Wilamette mill came across the bridge, the approach was clear, and fighting men were conspicuous by their absence. A morbid crowd of onlookers was lined up on the corners in anticipation of another blood-spilling such as took place the previous Saturday. Sheriff Wilson is determined to see this thing to a finish, and is maintaining his force of officers on duty as emergency may demand. The Home Guard members of two companies were sworn in as special officers, and were armed for the fray Saturday. A detachment of State Police was also within easy reach, in case the trouble came to a head, as had been threatened. The sheriff has sounded a warning that there will be no more loitering tolerated on the streets at a time when a riot is likely to be precipitated at any moment, as the danger to life and property would be enhanced by a crowd

LIMIT CLUB AIDS W. S. S. CAMPAIGN

CLACKAMAS COUNTY AS WHOLE MAKES FINE SHOWING IN LARGE DRIVE

COMMITTEEMEN LABOR HARD

Early Returns on Drive Show Out- side Districts First Over—City Lags up to Last Minute

Clackamas county has made good! In a strenuous campaign which called in the aid of hundreds of patriotic workers throughout the county, the National War Savings Stamp drive is winding up with victory attained. The campaign commenced on Saturday, June 22, with a great convention of committeemen and canvassers at the court house here, and has gone on without cessation during the almost two weeks' interval. Literature, printed matter, and personal solicitors have bombarded the citizenry from all sides, and while the response has been but moderate, the consideration of the times shows the result to be highly satisfactory. There are but two districts not yet over with their appointments—Estacada and Oregon City. The committeemen have not relaxed their hard work, and the expectation is that each individual district will attain their quotas and thus leave a large oversubscription.

The amount of War Savings stamps to be sold in Clackamas county during the year 1918 was set by the government as $745,000. At the rate they were selling, through a desultory campaign in the post-offices and school districts, this amount would not have been sold within the allotted time, as up until the middle of June but $145,000 worth had been disposed of. Thus the drive just completing, was set for the balance of the year's allotment, or $600,000.

In canvassing the city for the big drive, the committee took the opportunity of organizing a "Limit Club," for those who could afford to invest one thousand dollars each. This sum is all that the government will allow any individual or corporation to put into war stamps, and there have been about 20 members secured here, besides several of the large incorporated concerns, which came in for the maximum subscription.

Final figures on the drive have not yet been compiled, but indications are that Oregon City is but a few thousand dollars behind, and it is the belief of the committee that this deficiency will be taken care of in another day's work. The Estacada situation is also in fair shape to be cleaned up before the end of the week, thus making a clear record for the county.

Heading the local committee is County School Superintendent J. E. Calavan, and as assistants he has had a number of the leading citizens of the community. All have worked hard and faithfully, and the accomplishment of the successful W. S. S. drive stands as a monument to their patriotic endeavors.

Club Aids in Red Cross Work

The members of the Saturday club met at the Red Cross work rooms Wednesday evening to aid in making the sphagnum moss pads, as the result of a recent meeting of the organization. They decided to lend their assistance as a club to the work of the Red Cross, and will be occupied at first in picking over and sorting the moss, which has just been received from the coast counties. The work is progressing rapidly, and the chairman of the workroom reports a hearty response to her pleas for aid from the women and girls of the city.

Corporation Contests Title

The Henry Weinhard estate, a corporation, is instituting proceedings in the circuit court here to secure title in fee simple to the easterly half of lots 3 and 6, n block 23, which their complaint states is claimed by Robert M. Franklin, defendant in the action.

Outlook Fourth of July Celebration

There will be a Fourth of July celebration at Outlook, Clackamas county, near the Methodist church. An appropriate program for the day will be rendered. Rev. John Ovall and committee will have charge. Everybody invited to attend.

Swafford Becomes Banker

George Swafford, formerly with the Huntley Drug company and later with the Jones Drug company, as pharmacist, has accepted a position as assistant cashier at the First National Bank, and commenced on his duties Monday.

Gleason Will Up for Probation

Anna Gleason Haas, administratrix of the estate of her brother, Thomas Francis Gleason, who died here on the 20th of June, has petitioned the county court to admit the will to probate. The valuation of the estate shows cash and negotiable paper to the value of $2815.00.

G. W. DIMICK WAS PROMINENT PIONEER

MAN LONG CONNECTED WITH HISTORY OF STATE HAS PASSED AWAY

George W. Dimick, father of Senator Walter D. Dimick, and uncle of Judge Grant B. Dimick, died early Sunday morning at his home, two and a half miles from Oregon City, at the age of 81 years.

Mr. Dimick was one of the oldest pioneer farmers of the Willamette valley and had been a big factor in the growth of the agricultural and livestock industries in this section for the past sixty years. He came to Oregon in 1847 with his parents, began working on a farm almost immediately and had conducted that work all his life. For a great many years he owned and managed a grain and livestock farm of over a thousand acres near Hubbard. A few years ago he retired from extensive farming and came to Oregon City and lived on a smaller farm nearby until his death.

The deceased had been an active temperance and prohibition worker all his life and an earnest member of the Methodist church for over 60 years. He was one of the first farmers in Oregon to join the Grange when it was organized in this state and retained his membership through the years.

George W. Dimick was born near Springfield, Ill., April 28, 1837. Ten years later his parents brought their family across the plains to Oregon by ox team and took up the old Dimick donation land claim near Hubbard. This claim, with additional land added to it at different times, was the home of George W. Dimick for 60 years. His father was Augustus R. Dimick, a well-known pioneer figure in the early days.

The funeral was held at the home near Oregon City at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. From there the remains were taken to Hubbard for burial and short services held at the grave.

George R. Dimick is survived by his widow, Mrs. Addie Dimick, and children, George D., of Salem; John A., of Hubbard; Lottie M. and Walter A., of Oregon City; Bud of Portland; Orrin, of Portland; Ray, of Fort Canby, and Ada, Harold and Raymond, of Woodburn.

BIG HUDSON CAR IN DITCH COMES REPORT TO OWNER

Word was received here Tuesday to the effect that the big Hudson automobile, stolen two weeks ago from the garage at the home of W. A. Long, of the Star theatre, has been located at Ashland, Oregon. The report had it that the car had been ditched, and Mr. Long left Wednesday for southern Oregon to ship the car back.

It is said that two young men from here stole the car, and later ran into Portland. There a few days ago, they stole a California license tag from an auto on the streets, broke into a store and secured provisions for a trip, and started south—their destination being California. The machine, under the severe strain of reckless driving, doubtless refused to run, and they have probably left it and proceeded on their way by train.

The police are looking for a young man who lives here by the name of Tom Moore, as suspicion points strongly toward him as being the vandal. He has been connected with auto robberies before, and the job has all the ear marks of being his brand. He has been seen in the car and a sharp lookout is being maintained for him.

HOME GUARD PLAY TO BE ONE OF SEASON'S EVENTS

Everything looks bright for the Home Guard benefit play, being staged Wednesday evening at the Shively opera house. The Courier, due to the fact that it is issuing one day earlier this week, is unable to give an account of the performance, as we go to press before the curtain rises. In some respects newspaper people are human, and as Independence Day this year happens to drop right in on our regular publication day, we felt it within our prerogative to slip the press day up a notch and let the force take in the celebration.

However, the committee in charge of the business end of the affair report that indications point to a good sized audience, as the tickets have been going rapidly at the reduced rates of 50 cents and 35 cents. The cast has been hard at work rehearsing, and the directors state that with the extra drilling and the new features which have been added, the show will this time exceed in quality the two former productions. The program has been added to so extensively that those who saw the first performance will be surprised at the ability displayed by the all-star, home talent cast.

This show, Renalies' Follies of 1918, has made a big hit in the eastern centers where it has shown, and nothing but high compliments have been heard from those who saw it last Wednesday and Thursday. At the former production, the committee, under the direction of C. L. St. Claire, made a good showing for the

BIG PROGRAM IS OUT FOR SESSION

JUBILEE ASSEMBLY WILL BE BEST IN HISTORY OF CHAUTAUQUA

GLADSTONE PARK IN SHAPE

Secretary Burke Announces Special Season Ticket Rates, if Taken in Books of Ten

Everything is in readiness for the big jubilee session of the Gladstone Chautauqua, which convenes Tuesday, July 9th, for thirteen days.

You can enjoy the 26 big main attractions, and the many other features which take place in the morning for the small sum of $2.00 if you get your name in a "book" before the end of this week. Judge Swears and Dr. Milliken of Oregon City, are getting up the books and will be glad to take your names and money if you do not have one already made up.

The main features embrace the following:

LECTURERS:—Walwyn Evans, nephew of Lloyd George; Lincoln Wirt, war correspondent; Captain de Beaufort, of the Belgian army; James A. Burns, founder and president of Oneida Institute; Charles Crawford Gorst, the bird man; Ned Woodman, cartoonist; Dr. C. J. Bushnell, U. S. Reserve; Dr. Arthur A. Carpenter, scientist; Dr. Eliot A. Boye, inspirational lecturer; Henry Warren Poor, official war photographer of the United States; Moana Victoria, New York; Minoasacu Tochi Yamamoto, Japanese statesman; Marshall Lewis Mertons, humorist; D. F. Fox, inspirational lecturer; Judge Roland Baggott, "Juvenile Court in Action"; Edna Eugenia Lowe, health lecturer; Mildred Leo Clemens, Hawaiian lecturer; Judge C. G. Burton, G. A. R. lecturer; Dr. F. G. Brainard, Bible lecturer.

ENTERTAINMENT:—Thaviu's Exposition Band; New York City Marine Band; Royal Hawaiian Quintet; Old Soldiers' Fiddlers; Schubert Serenaders; Metropolitan Artists; Fenwick Newell Company; Morrison-Smith Company; Zedeier's Symphoniac Quintet; Treble Clef Club; Apollo Concert Company; Moana Victoria's Royal Hawaiian Quartet; The Elchorns; Josephine Beasley, entertainer; Gladie Mae Gordon, entertainer.

OTHER FEATURES:—Baseball games, Bible talks, Symposium in charge of Mrs. Eva Emery Dye; athletics in charge of Dr. Smith, of Portland Y. M. C. A.; Forum Hours, Food Conservation classes, Junior Chautauqua.

In addition to the main auditorium attractions each day—some 26 in number—two hours each morning will be devoted to a demonstration of domestic science in charge of Miss Lorraine Parker of the O. A. C. extension department, specializing the making of war-bread and other appropriate foods, together with thorough instruction on the proper use of food substitutes, which has proven a most perplexing problem to Oregon women. Miss Parker will have a complete laboratory on the grounds and her classes will prove a most attractive feature to the hundreds of women who annually enjoy the morning hours of Chautauqua.

Mrs. Eva Emery Dye has completed her schedule for the daily symposium which is to convene at 5 o'clock daily. Among the well known speakers who will take part in the symposium are Mrs. C. B. Simmons, president Portland Women's Clubs; Mrs. L. W. Wood, manager Portland Women's Red Cross Shop; Mrs. Linn Jones, and Mrs. J. B. Lewthwaite, of Oregon City; Mrs. Alice Benson Beach, Mrs. F. S. Meyers, assistant state food administrator; Mrs. A. B. Manley, Mrs. L. Gee, Miss Florence Olsen, Miss Alice Handsaker, Miss Ida Jontz, Mrs. William MacMaster, Mrs. Sarah A. Evans, and other prominent Portland women; Mrs. H. B. Carlidge and Dr. Ruth Latour, ette Eaton, of Oregon City. The symposium will deal with all war-time activities and the part that women can take in helping win the war.

The Oregon Congress of Mothers plans a big time for Monday, July 15, at 11:00 A. M., when Dr. Esther Gleason Lovejoy, late from European war centers, will be the speaker of the hour.

Under the direction of Mr. M. Frances Swope, a series of 11:00 o'clock hours in the main auditorium on "The War Tasks of Oregon Women" will be given. The speakers will be Mrs. Mary Mallett, Mrs. M. M. Sleeth, Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp, Dr. George B. Pratt, Mrs. Lucia Faxon Addition, and other well known talkers.

The Federated Women's Club will also have charge of one of the 11 o'clock hours, and also the Women's Press club will hold an interesting gathering featured by an address by Mrs. Addison, on "Pen Women in War Service."

Only cheerful letters from home to the boys overseas are the kind to send, according to numerous Y. M. C. A. war work secretaries.
