"Who Will Win This Battle?"
Your kidneys are the filters of the body. If they become inactive and fail to eliminate the waste matter, they are apt to throw the whole mechanism of the body out of order, thus toxic poisons can accumulate in the system and be as deadly as snake venom.
Besides causing the minor ailments of rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago and backache, neglect of the kidneys is apt to develop into more serious diseases, such as diabetes or stone in the bladder.
Rid the body of toxic poisons—clean the bladder and kidneys and cure the twinges of rheumatism with Anuric and you win the battle of life.
Anuric was first discovered by Dr. Pierce, and has benefited thousands of sufferers as well as appeased and eliminated the ravages of the more serious kidney diseases. Now procurable at any good drug store, or send direct to Dr. V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 10 cents for trial package.
Mrs. B. G. COKER says: "When I commenced the treatment of Anuric I was in bad shape. My back ached all the time and oh! how my back would ache at night until I would have to get up. I could never sleep all night. But since I have taken the Anuric Tablets my backache is all gone and I can lie down and sleep good and sound all night. Oh! how much better I do feel—no one knows but myself. My advice to all sufferers of kidney troubles is to give Anuric a trial and they will find relief from their trouble."

HARVESTING SOY BEANS IN SOUTH
Mechanical Seed Pickers Now Being Used Successfully in Many Localities.
NEW MACHINES ARE BIG AID
Growers in Many Districts Now Consider It No More Trouble to Gather Crop Than Oats or Wheat—Time for Work.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
The difficulty soy bean growers have experienced in harvesting their crop has been the greatest handicap in increased production, but the development of new machines and accumulated experience with the crop have overcome most of the troubles previously experienced. Growers in many districts now consider it little if any more trouble to harvest soy beans except for hay than it is to harvest oats or wheat.

Harvesting soy beans for hay is practically the same process as harvesting cowpeas for hay. Any difference is in favor of the soy beans, for the vines grow more erect and do not become tangled like cow peas. Soy bean hay is usually made by cutting when the pods are half filled and partially curing in the swath before raking. Sometimes a tedder is used for curing, but not often. After the soy beans are raked into a windrow they may be hauled directly to the stack or barn, but the usual custom is to shock them on hollow racks made of poles. When the soy beans are shocked on these racks there is a hollow space on the inside which allows a passage of the air and causes more rapid and thorough curing. The hay is so thoroughly cured on these racks that it can be baled out of the shock, which frequently is done. The usual custom, however, is to store the hay loose in the barns.

Harvesting for Seed.
In harvesting soy beans for seed mechanical pickers are used quite extensively. These pickers are of different makes, but all have the same general principle. They run astride the rows and knock out the beans, leaving the stems, leaves, and hulls on the land. The machine is drawn by two mules and operated by two men. One man drives and another throws out the excess trash that accumulates in the back of the machine. The picker will hold from 4 to 6 bushels of beans. When it is full, the beans are emptied and handled in different ways. In one common method the beans are run through a half-inch mesh sieve to remove the coarse trash and then are sacked. One or two men handle the sieve. These men may be the same who operated the machine or they may be extra men. After this the beans are cleaned with a fanning mill.
Time for Harvesting.
Harvesting with a picker begins some time after the leaves of the plant have fallen. The time to begin is when the first pods pop open and throw out the beans. As the picker works best only when the beans are dry, the machine is not started in the morning until the dew is off, which is usually from 9 to 11 o'clock. When the day's work is once started, it is customary to continue work until nightfall without stopping for dinner. In the soy bean district picking usually begins about the last of October and lasts through approximately 10 days of good picking weather. If it rains, the maturing of the beans is checked and picking is resumed when the weather again becomes dry. A machine will pick from 3 to 6 acres per day.

Waste in Picking.
The waste of beans in picking usually varies from one-twentieth to one-fourth, and, as a rule, averages about one-eighth. If the plants are blown down or have long branches so the machine cannot handle them well, the waste may be more than this, or if the beans are left on the vines too late, so that many of them pop out, the waste may be higher. Varieties of beans that begin fruiting some distance from the ground can be harvested with the least waste by a picker, and this is one advantage of the mammoth yellow soy bean. Hogs are usually turned in to clean up the waste beans, so that in fact there is a very little loss.

Tried Many, Found The Best
Good digestion is the foundation of good health. Foley Cathartic Tablets keep the bowels regular, sweeten the stomach and tone up the liver. There is nothing better if one desires an old-fashioned, harmless, gentle in action, yet thoroughly cleansing in effect. J. P. Gaston, Newark, Ind., says he used a great many kinds of cathartics, but Foley Cathartic Tablets gave him more satisfaction than any other. He says they are the best cathartic tablets made.—Jones Drug Co.

Salem—Only one other coliseum in the United States—that at Madison Square Garden, New York, will be larger than the coliseum at the Oregon state fair grounds, now being constructed. This at least is the opinion of Governor Withycombe. The building will hold 10,000 people and will make a successful state fair possible regardless of weather conditions. It will be completed in time for the state fair this year, though seating arrangements will be temporary.
The dimensions of the new building are 200 by 300 feet, making it a third larger than a Portland city block. It is the only important large building ever built in the state without a special appropriation. The total cost will be over $30,000, and members of the state fair board have advanced $15,000 of their own money, confident that the receipts of the fair will be sufficient to reimburse them.—Exchange.

What is Your Time Worth?
IS YOURS A FAIRY—OR IS IT AN IMP?
IS YOUR KITCHEN WORK PLEASANT?
The Imp of Lost Time
Did you ever stop to figure how much time you spend in watching cooking processes—how often you stir the food cooking on top the range to keep it from sticking, how many times you open the oven door to turn the bread or cake, how many times you look in to see if the roast or pie is burning? If you could dispense with this constant watching, think how much extra time it would give you for Red Cross work and other necessary things, what a relief it would be to be free from the imp of lost time.
The Good Fairy of Gained Time
When you cook on a Hughes Electric Range you simplify your work so much that you find extra time added to every day. You need not spend all your time in the kitchen while the meal is in preparation. The evenly regulated heat makes it unnecessary to keep a constant watch on the cooking. You can even go away from the house for hours at a time, knowing that the food in the oven is being successfully cooked in your absence. Your cooking utensils will not get black and sooty on the bottoms. More time saved.
