EAGLE CREEK

Lester Rivers, who went to Fort Stevens some three or four weeks ago, took sick with the influenza and died last week. The body was brought to Eagle Creek under military escort on Saturday and buried in the Forrester graveyard. There was quite a crowd in attendance at the services.

E. C. Alloway, of Oregon City, came out to H. S. Gibson's place Sunday and made his son, Henry, a visit. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Douglass and Mrs. Viola Douglass motored out to Shubel Sunday and visited with Mr. and Mrs. G. Moehnk.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Brasch have moved to Lents. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Woodie were the guests of Malcolm Woodie, of Troutdale, a part of last week.

A Halloween party was given at the home of C. H. Paddison last Thursday evening. Just the young folks gathering together and spending the evening.

ALBERTA

Mr. Conor, while plowing on Mr. Van Hoomissen's place Tuesday, had the misfortune to receive a pretty hard blow in the side with the plow handle. He seems to be recovering from the accident as fast as can be expected.

Jesse Mayfield was a visitor in Beaver Creek Wednesday. Alberta, the same as usual, is not behind in the United War Work, but went over the top and all gave liberally.

Mr. Mayfield's little son, Willard, burned his hand quite badly Tuesday. Miss Annie Mayfield drove to Gladstone Saturday on a visit.

Miss Doretha Mayfield's brother, Glen, accidentally cut her heel quite badly with the ax while cutting wood Friday evening. Miss Lela Traylor returned to her work of teaching school on Sunday.

Chet Gard, Jessie Mayfield, and Glen Mayfield spent a pleasant day Sunday at the creek, fishing. Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rogers Sunday.

Mrs. Rogers went to Portland to visit her parents Monday. School opened Monday morning after a few weeks' vacation. The district bought 25 single seats of the Estacada district and these will add some to the appearance of the schoolhouse, as the old seats were about all worn out.

Dan Stahlacker has been digging suds on his farm. He rented a place to Stanford Cox and moved his family to Portland, where he expects to work in the shipyard. Mr. Elmon also rented his farm to Stanford Cox, and moved to Portland, where he was employed in the shipyard. Mrs. Della Valen is home after a month's illness at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Park, in Estacada. Stella Smoloffski is staying with her, assisting her with her house work and attending school.

Word was received from Mrs. Ed Hodgkins saying that her husband left Portland on the ship, Nupolela, as second mate November 2nd, destination not known. She expected to leave for the home of her parents at Medford, Oregon, this week. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wilson.

LOGAN

The disappearance of little Clarence Thompson is certainly the greatest mystery that has ever puzzled the people of the Logan county and many others from far and near. The whole country for miles around the Allen home, where he was last seen about a half hour before the search commenced, has been combed over and over daily by large numbers of men. Supposed clues have been traced out and theories worked out, but the mystery is as great as ever. Maybe it will be worked out in time and maybe it will remain unsolved like the Charley Ross case of many years ago.

The silent senior partner in the firm of "Me and Gott" evidently either failed to do his part or retired from the firm. Those who believe in the direct intervention of the Almighty in human affairs, may well believe the kaiser and his followers were used as instruments to bring about the destruction of autocratic power. The war was the last grandstand play against democracy and did more for democracy than it war had been accomplished before.

The Monroe doctrine has been amplified into the Wilson doctrine and soon a great big disentangling alliance of all the nations will give insurance against the other kind that Washington warned against. We will have real written international law that every nation must read aright and obey or find the combined strength of all the others against it. World peace and world welfare are of world-wide importance and must be guaranteed by the world.

Soon the millions that have been fighting with their hands and brains will be at home fighting with the latter through the ballot box and their fair partners will take a hand in the game, too. Peace rejoicing seems to have driven away the influenza germs—at least they are quiet now. Soon the boys will be coming home and then we will have real news again.

Mrs. M. H. Riehoff has been very ill, but is some better at the present writing. The millions that have been fighting with their hands and brains will be at home fighting with the latter through the ballot box and their fair partners will take a hand in the game, too.

CHERRYVILLE

Johnny comes marching home! The boys "over there" will soon be coming "over here." America will give the soldiers of this great republic a great ovation when they reach their native land. Roy Mitchell, of the U. S. Marines, writes home that he was in four days' heavy fighting at Chateau-Thierry and Bateau Wood. He escaped without a scratch. This splendid body of men was confronted by the pick of the German army, the Royal Bavarians and the Prussian Guards, and completely routed them. The ex-kaiser said that it took ten years to make a soldier. It might take that long with the class of men he had, but with less than six months' training whipped the best men the German emperor had. Glory be!

What will we do with our cantonments? Scattered over the country they are really splendid cities with all modern improvements and they will soon be empty. Why not make them into community settlements and give them to the soldiers. They have seen such settlements in Europe where the people live in villages and work land outside. It seems a pity that such splendid homes will have to be abandoned.

The governor's special agents, appointed for election purposes, says Gus Moser, of Portland, a prominent republican, have been disbanded. They have folded their tents like the Arabs and silently stolen away, and left a claim against the state for the taxpayers of $600,000, to settle.

The "Flu" excitement is dying out and the people are lifted out of this frenzy by the splendid achievements of our boys in Europe and the desire to welcome them and cover them with honor and cherish the memory of those fallen heroes who died that all the world might be free and enjoy the blessings of free government.

The ex-kaiser, in Holland, is ranting, it is said. It is a wonder how he can rest with such a load on his conscience, and the memory of all the slain and the ruin of his country. The address of the French general, Petain, to the French army and the French nation, is a classic that deserves to be ranked with the Lincoln Memorial Address at Gettysburg.

There are no signs of winter yet and the longer it keeps off the better it is for the ranchers, as the winter supply of feed is scant. "The tumult and the shouting dies, the captains and the king depart"—especially the kings, and good riddance to bad rubbish, too. It is to be a hard winter for kings. It has taken a long time to get rid of this kind of nonsense.

True Stories of TRENCH LIFE

Sergeant Arthur Guy Empey, author of the famous war story, "Over the Top," entered the fight for world freedom and democracy long before his country got into the great conflict. When news came of the sinking of the Lusitania he left his home in New Jersey and went to London where he enlisted in the British army. For seventeen months he fought the good fight and then, incapacitated by wounds, he came home to become the foremost writer of war stories.

"Somewhere In France" WITH EMPEY

Is the title of a series of gripping stories written by Empey telling in a simple but graphic way of experiences such as hundreds of thousands of American youths have been going through on the battle fronts across the sea. The recital of these experiences of an American boy who was early in the fight is of intense interest to all Americans.

This paper has secured the exclusive rights to the publication of Empey's stories in this territory. THE FIRST WILL APPEAR IN AN EARLY ISSUE

Correct Lubrication for the "L-Head Type" Engine This "L-Head" type of automobile engine, like all internal combustion engines, requires an oil that holds its lubricating qualities at cylinder heat, burns clean in the combustion chambers and gets out with exhaust. ZEROLENE fits these requirements perfectly, because it is correctly refined from selected California asphalt-base crude. "Proven Entirely Satisfactory" Only perfect satisfaction can account for the use of ZEROLENE by the majority of automobile owners. Leading coast distributors also testify that it is "a most satisfactory motor oil." They know from the records of their service departments—and we know from exhaustive tests—that ZEROLENE, correctly refined from selected California asphalt-base crude, gives perfect lubrication with least carbon deposit. Who Should Take Nuxated Iron and Why They Should Take It THE ELDERLY INACTIVE MAN Physician Explains—gives Practical Advice On What To Do To Help Build Up Your Strength, Power and Endurance And Increase The Red Blood Corpuscles. THE TIRED NERVOUS HOUSEWIFE Commenting on the use of Nuxated Iron as a tonic, strength and blood builder, Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, said: "Modern methods of cooking and the rapid pace at which people of this century live have made such an alarming increase in iron deficiency in the blood of American men and women that I have often marvelled at the lack of iron in their blood—and who ever suspect the cause of their weakness, nervous, run-down state. Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of that virile force, that stamina and strength of will which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life. It may also transform a beautiful, sweet-tempered woman into one who is cross, nervous and irritable. I have strongly emphasized the great necessity of physicians making blood examinations of their weak, anemic, run-down patients. Thousands of persons go on year after year suffering from physical weakness and a highly nervous condition due to lack of sufficient iron in their red-blood corpuscles without ever realizing the real and true cause of their trouble. Without iron in your blood your food merely passes through the body, something like corn through an old mill with millers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. "For want of iron you may be an old man at thirty, dull of intellect, poor in memory, nervous, irritable and all 'run-down' while at fifty or sixty, with plenty of iron in your blood, you may still be young in feeling, full of life, your whole being brimming over with vim and energy. "As proof of this take the case of former United States Senator and Vice-President nominee Charles A. Towne, who at past 58 is still a veritable mountain of tireless energy. Senator Towne says: 'I have found Nuxated Iron of the greatest benefit as a tonic and restorative. Hereforth I shall not be without it. I am in a position to testify for the benefit of others in the remarkable and immediate helpfulness of this remedy, and I unhesitatingly recommend Nuxated Iron to all who feel the need of renewed energy and the regularity of bodily functions.' "Then there is former Health Commissioner William B. Kerr, of Chicago, who is past the three score year mark, but still vigorous, active, full of life, vim and energy. Former Health Commissioner Kerr says he believes in his own personal activity today is largely due to his use of Nuxated Iron and that he believes it ought to be prescribed by every physician and used in every hospital in the country. "But in my opinion you can't make these strong, vigorous, successful, sturdy, iron men by feeding them on metallic iron. The digests forms of iron in the original packages and see that this particular mine (Nuxated Iron) appears on the package. If you have taken preparations such as Nux and Iron and other similar iron products and failed to get results, remember that such products are an entirely different thing from Nuxated Iron." "Nuxated Iron must go through a digestive process to transform them into organic iron—Nuxated Iron—before they are ready to be taken up and assimilated by the human system. Notwithstanding all that has been said and written here on this subject by well-known physicians, thousands of people still insist in doing themselves with metallic iron simply, I suppose, because it costs a few cents less. I strongly advise readers in all cases to get a physician's prescription for organic iron—Nuxated Iron—or if you don't want to go to the trouble, then purchase only Nuxated Iron in its original packages and see that this particular mine (Nuxated Iron) appears on the package.
