chance of again becoming emperor of Germany as the writer has of becoming Grand-Khan of Tartary.

Apparently the only kings who will be left when this little scrap is over will be Albert of Belgium, the king of Italy, George of England, and the monarchs of Rumania, Norway, Spain and Denmark. It looks as though Sweden and Holland might become republics. The royal family of Great Britain are about the best of the lot, and they are a German importation, and have cost that country a great deal of blood and tears. In his history of Modern Europe, Hazen says:

"George I, at the time of his accession to the English throne, was a German. He continued to be a German prince, more concerned with his electorate of Hanover than with his new kingdom. He did not understand a word of English and, as his ministers were similarly ignorant of German, he was compelled to resort to dubious Latin when he wished to communicate with them. He was king from 1714 to 1727; and was followed by his son, George II, who ruled from 1727 to 1760, and who, though he knew English, spoke it badly and was far more interested in his petty German principality than in imperial Britain."

Of George III this writer says:

"His mother was a German princess, attached to all the despotic notions of her native land, and had frequently said to him, 'George, be a king.' This he strove to do, backed by the Tory party in England. But the Whigs, representative of the people, opposed him, and he could not get enough Englishmen to enlist to overcome the colonies which were in revolt, and had to import Germans from Hesse to do the job. The ruling family of England, German in blood and sentiment, has drawn its wives largely from the German court. The fall of that court will result in the final breaking away of England from German influence, and the permanent sealing of a friendship with its ancient rival, France."

Many students of the Bible say that we stand at the threshold of a new alliance of ten states comprising what was once the ancient Roman empire. This alliance would not include Poland, Russia, Germany, Scandinavia, or the United States, as they were not within its ancient boundaries.

This new alliance is to be a precursor of the end of this age of human history, and the dawn of a new millennium, during which the Christ will have his perfect way upon earth. Whether this is true or not remains to be seen, and every student of human affairs will watch the course of events with intense interest. We are living in days in which history very rapidly is being made.

PRaises THIS PAPER FOR HELPING RAISE WAR FUNDS

Mr. C. W. Robey, Editor Courier, Oregon City, Ore. Dear Sir: Please permit me, at the close of this great campaign, to express to you the gratitude of this office for the splendid assistance rendered during the period preceding and during the drive.

At the outset when I first wrote you concerning our plans for newspaper news, it was my firm conviction that there would be a hundred per cent response to our appeals for necessary space. At the close of the drive, this has been fully demonstrated. With one accord the editors of every kind of publication in the state of Oregon, so far as my information goes, responded to every call, and volunteered a great deal of space not specifically asked for by this office or by local committees.

As a newspaper man I have often thought that no one has yet written an adequate story of the remarkable service contributed by the press in the winning of the greatest of wars. While it may not fall to my lot even to attempt such a task, I want you to know how deeply we appreciate all that you have done for us during this drive. The results speak for themselves.

May you enjoy long prosperity in your field of endeavor. Sincerely yours,

W. H. WARREN, Supervisor of Newspaper News.

How a Salesman Suffered

R. J. Porter, Sterling, Col., writes: "For six months I suffered with a painful weak back. As a traveling salesman I had to stoop frequently to pick up my traps, which I grew to dread as the pain when I straightened up was awful. Numerous remedies failed to reach my case. I was induced to try Foley Kidney Pills. Relief was immediate. Say, they are great. Any one afflicted as I was should try a bottle or two of Foley's Kidney Pills." Good for pain in the back, rheumatic pain, aching joints, sore muscles.—Jones' Drug Co.

NO LICENSE NEEDED NOW FOR ERECTION OF BUILDINGS

No license is now necessary, regardless of cost, for the erection of farm buildings, flour and feed mills, wheat warehouses, and grain elevators, according to an announcement from the non-war construction section at Washington, D. C., received by the State Council of Defense and forwarded to George R. Hyslop, professor of farm crops at the Oregon Agricultural college.

The telegram reads: "War industries board has removed, effective at once, all restrictions on all buildings including houses and garages costing not more than $10,000. Between $10,000 and $25,000 State Council of Defense can issue licenses. Above $25,000 Washington approval necessary. No license necessary irrespective of cost on farm buildings, flour and feed mills, railroads and public utility work, highways, streets and bridges, wheat warehouses and grain elevators. When schools, churches, hospitals and municipal buildings do not cost over $25,000 they can go ahead."

Cut This Out—It Is Worth Money

DON'T MISS THIS. Cut out this slip, enclose with 5c and mail it to Foley & Co., 2835 Sheffield Ave., Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup; Foley Kidney Pills, for pain in sides and back; rheumatism, backache, kidney and bladder ailments; and Foley's Cathartic Tablets, a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic, for constipation, biliousness, headache, and sluggish bowels.—Jones Drug Co.

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES HERE DRAW ATTENTION OF MANY

Supplies for the making of bandages at the Red Cross rooms in this city were about exhausted Friday, when an unusually large number of workers were at the rooms. Knitting and the making of refugee garments will be the work for the next few weeks.

With winter at hand there is a great need for sweaters for the men in service, and knitters are urged to aid. A supply of yarn was received some time ago, and there will be plenty of work for those who will. The articles made by the Clackamas county women have received much praise when sent into headquarters at Portland.

A number of donations have been given the local chapter this week. Mrs. C. I. Stafford gave $5, and John Bittner turned over $10, the money obtained from selling the wood from several trees. Mrs. Nicholson has brought to the rooms two handsome quilts to be sold by the auxiliary, the money therefrom to be turned into the fund. Work at the rooms will be continued for some time, although some varieties of the work will be discontinued.

All orders directing the movement of Students' Army Training Corps men to officer training schools are revoked, according to a telegram received at the college by Colonel Alfred C. Sharpe, commander. This announcement was received with regret by many of the S. A. T. C. men, who had been picked to train as officers. They included half of the varsity football squad.

PIONEER PASSES AWAY AT CLACKAMAS FRIDAY NIGHT

In the death from influenza at Milwaukie last Friday night of Chas. S. Wolfer, Clackamas county loses another member of one of the pioneer families. The deceased was born in the Needy district, near Canby, on January 3, 1884, and was a son of the late Samuel and Margaret Wolfer. Surviving besides his widow and a three-year-old son, are two sisters, Mrs. Grant B. Dimick, of Oregon City, and Mrs. J. Coleman, Mark, Aurora, route 4, and a brother, Henry A. Wolfer, of Canby. The widow was formerly Miss Mabel Meeks, also from one of the pioneer families.

Mr. Wolfer resided in the Canby district for a good many years until about two years ago when he removed to Willamette, and a few months ago moved to Milwaukie, after securing employment in the St. Johns shipyards.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at the Aurora cemetery, interment being made under the direction of Holman & Pace, of Oregon City, and was attended by a large number of friends and acquaintances.

MERLE BINGHAM KILLED WHILE ON BATTLEFIELD

Merle Bingham, of this city, who enlisted in the Marines over a year ago, has been killed in action, according to a report received here by his mother, Mrs. Lillian Axford, of Oregon City, route 1. A letter received this week from France states that young Bingham was killed on October 4, during one of the big engagements.

In letters received from her son several weeks ago he told of going over the top several times and said he was to go over soon again. He said he would write in a few days telling more of the actions he had been in, but no further word has been received until the sad report of his death came.

Merle Bingham was 19 years of age, and a junior in the Oregon City high school at the time of his enlistment. He is survived by his mother, a sister, Miss Emil Bingham, and a brother, Lydon Bingham, all living in Oregon City.

FUNERAL OF CALVIN HANSON CONDUCTED IN CANBY FRIDAY

Funeral services for the late Calvin Hanson, a former resident of the Macksburg district, were held at Canby Friday. The body was brought from Fort Worden, where he had been stationed less than three weeks, having been drafted from Aerial, Wash., where he had made his home for the last few years.

He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hanson, who met a tragic death some 13 years ago, at their farm home at Macksburg, when they were blown up with dynamite which was accidentally placed in their kitchen stove along with some wood. Calvin Hanson, before leaving this vicinity, had been employed by R. W. Cochran, of Macksburg. His wife died July 4 of this year of tuberculosis.

The deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Cora Slater, of Dallas, Oregon, and Mrs. Eva Hyde, of Pasadena, Cal. Interment was at the Zion cemetery at Canby, services at the grave being conducted by Rev. F. W. Lanner, of the English Evangelical church.

Summons

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Clackamas. Maria Agnes Fleifs, Plaintiff, vs. Victor T. Fleifs, Defendant.

To Victor T. Fleifs, the above named Defendant: In the name of the State of Oregon you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above named suit within six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, and if you fail to appear or answer said complaint, for want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief prayed for in the complaint: For a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between plaintiff and defendant.

This summons is published by order of the Honorable J. U. Campbell, Judge of the Circuit Court, which order was made on the 21st day of Nov., 1918, and the time prescribed for publication thereof is six weeks, beginning with the issue of Nov. 21, 1918, and ending with the issue of Jan. 2, 1919.

JOHN DITCHBURN, Attorney for plaintiff, 401 Dekum Bldg., Portland.

Victor Supremacy means—the greatest music by the greatest artists

It is indeed a wonderful thing to have the greatest artists of all the world sing and play for you right in your own home.

The instrument that accomplishes this inevitably stands supreme among musical instruments.

And that instrument is the Victrola.

The greatest artists make records for the Victrola exclusively. They agree that only the Victrola can bring to you their art and personality with unerring truth.

Caruso, Aida, Calve, Culp, De Gogorza, De Luca, Farrar, Gadsdi, Galli-Curci, Gluck, Hempel, Homer, Journet, Martinielli, McCormack, Melba, Ruffo, Schumann-Heink, Scotti, Sembrich, Tetrazzini, and other famous singers of the opera and concert stage. Elman, Kreisler, Paderewski, Powell, Zimbalist, and other noted instrumentalists. Sousa's Band, Pryor's Band, Conway's Band, Victor Herbert's Orchestra, and other bands and orchestras of world-wide renown. Harry Lauder, Nora Bayes, Raymond Hitchcock, and a host of other favorite entertainers.

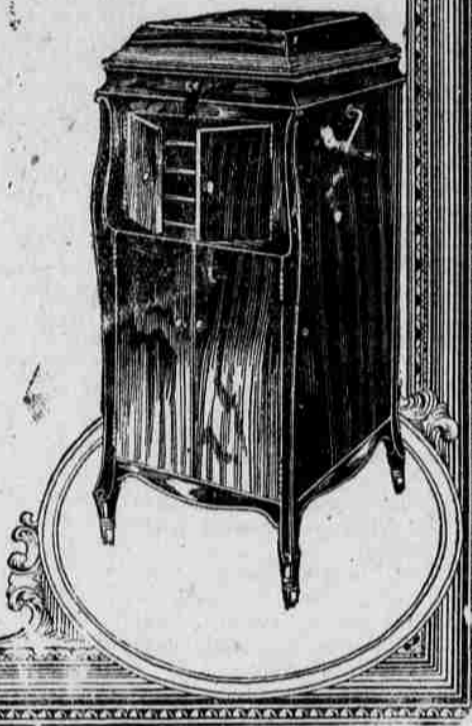

No Victor dealer can get more than half his usual stock this year because the Victor factory has devoted half its output to airplane manufacture. If you plan for a Victrola in your home this Christmas—order it now. We will hold it for you till you are ready for it.
