WHERE RESPONSIBILITY LIES

Although the republican filibuster during the closing days of the Sixty-fifth Congress defeated several appropriation measures that were of vast importance in the administration's reconstruction plans, the government departments are going ahead with their work in such a way as to merit and receive the commendation of the country. Though handicapped by lack of sufficient funds, by redoubling efforts the departments are accomplishing a great deal that is helping to stabilize conditions and get the country back into its normal swing.

Particularly is this true of the United States Employment Service. Labor officials have charged that the defeat of the appropriation for this service, which had made extensive plans to get hundreds of thousands of discharged soldiers and sailors and released workers back into peacetime employment, was inspired by certain interests seeking to impair the efficiency of the department of labor. Despite the failure of the appropriation, labor department officials have through state and private aid obtained sufficient funds to not merely keep the service going, but to open scores of new employment offices and thousands upon thousands of released fighters and war workers are being placed in good paying jobs in essential industries.

Nevertheless, we have the spectacle of seeking private aid in order to discharge a duty the federal government owes to the men who heeded the call to the colors when the national emergency arose, and the American people, remembering the G. O. P. filibuster, will know where to place the responsibility.

POSTMASTER GENERAL REPLIES TO CRITICS

In answer to the critics of his administration of the post office department, Postmaster General Burleson has issued a statement that, of all the postal establishments of belligerent countries, "America's and hers alone is the one that did not break down to a certain extent. We organized an efficient force in France," he also declared.

In regard to the enforcement of the Espionage Act, he said:

"To exclude from the mails treasonable and seditious matter it became necessary for postmasters to read not only the English papers, but to acquaint themselves with the contents of newspapers regardless of whether the contents were printed in Hungarian, Polish, Italian, French, Yiddish, or what not. That was the most undesirable task ever imposed upon the postal establishment. But we got away with it! Notwithstanding the postmaster general was denounced from one end of the country to the other as an autocrat, a tyrant, and a person who was constantly practicing arbitrary acts, we enforced that

Don't Let It Linger

A cough that follows a gripe or any other cough that "hangs on" from winter to spring wears down the sufferer, leaving him or her in a weakened state unable to ward off sickness and disease. Jos. Gillard, 148 Fillmore St., Nashville, Tenn., writes: "I was suffering with a dry, hacking cough and a pain in my chest, but since taking Foley's Honey and Tar I have been relieved." It soothes, heals and cures coughs, colds and croup. Good for whooping cough. Sold Everywhere.

HOW THE DOUGHNUT WAS MADE FOR OUR YANKEE BOYS

It was the doughnut which led the Salvation Army into fame with the doughboys of France, although, of course their deeds of mercy maintained the fond friendship which the famous crullers first made.

And it was "Pa" and "Ma" Burdick, the doughnut king and queen of the Salvation Army, who served overseas for two years, who introduced the doughnuts to the doughboys. Incidentally they are back now aiding in the campaign to secure sufficient funds for the Salvation Army to conduct its work in the United States for one year. Oregon has been asked to make its contribution June 22 to 30 and a state-wide organization of business men, prominent women and live-wire Elks are preparing to handle the campaign.

But for the ladies—here is "Ma" Burdick's recipe for doughnuts (this is a batch of 600 cut portions according to the number you desire.)

SALVATION DOUGHNUTS

Twelve quarts of flour.
Six quarts sugar.
Twenty-four tablespoonfuls baking powder.

Three teaspoonfuls salt.
Three quarts milk.
Fry in deep fat.

"The secret's in the mixing," said "Ma."

"Ma" Burdick's Shrapnel cake was another favorite with the boys. Here is the recipe:

SHRAPNEL CAKE

(36 pieces)
Two large cups sugar.
One cup molasses.

Two cups milk.
One cup strong black coffee.
Three heaping teaspoonfuls cinnamon.

One heaping teaspoonful cloves.
One teaspoonful salt.
One teaspoonful baking soda.

Four teaspoonfuls baking powder.
Two large cups raisins (the shrapnel).
Flour to make a stiff batter.

GEO. ROESER, FORMERLY OF THIS CITY, MOVES MT. ANGEL

George Roeser was in Oregon City the first of the week, and incidentally dropped into the COURIER office to pay his subscription for another year. Mr. Roeser formerly lived in the Maple Lane district on what is known as the I. C. Underwood farm. Later, he moved to Sublimity, Oregon, and has been farming near that place for several years past. He and his family have moved to Mt. Angel, where Mr. and Mrs. Roeser will take life easy for the rest of their days. Mr. Roeser claims that farming is hard work, and that in his advancing years is compelled to do lighter work. He has moved his family, however, primarily to give his children better educational advantages at Mt. Angel.

WOMAN'S NERVES MADE STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Winona, Minn.—"I suffered for more than a year from nervousness, and was so bad I could not rest at night—would lie awake and get so nervous I would have to get up and walk around and in the morning would be all tired out. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thought I would try it. My nervousness soon left me. I sleep well and feel fine in the morning and able to do my work. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make weak nerves strong."—Mrs. ALBERT SULTZ, 603 Olmstead St., Winona, Minn.

How often do we hear the expression among women, "I am so nervous, I cannot sleep" or "it seems as though I should fly." Such women should profit by Mrs. Sultz's experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

asking the court to allow them damages in the sum of $2,500. Plaintiffs allege in their complaint that they entered into a contract with the defendant to purchase all of the cedar timber on the defendant's property, outside of enough to make 1280 cedar posts. The plaintiffs allege that they erected a mill and other buildings on the property, and that they made roads and bridges on the land to operate the mill. They claim that defendant, after allowing them to do this work and build a road to the mill, put a fence across the road and ordered them not to disturb it. They claim by the action of the defendant in building the fence across the road, and ordering them not to disturb it, made it impossible for them to operate the mill because of this fence, and that they have suffered a heavy financial loss.

OREGON CITY DEFEATS SCHUBEL TEAM—11 TO 8

Oregon City won the game Wednesday from Schubel by a score of 11 to 8. The battery for Oregon City was Baker and Hartke, and for Schubel, Stabin and King. The Oregon City team out-played Schubel at every point, although for awhile the game was close. The local team here challenges any independent team in the state for a match game here or at some other place. During the past two weeks the team has picked up wonderfully, and is proving more than a match for all comers.

GLADSTONE ASKS COUNTY FOR AID IN ROAD BUILDING

Gladstone citizens and tax payers met with the county court Friday for the purpose of asking that body to pave roads leading into Gladstone from the north this summer. These two roads link the main highway with that of Portland from this city. The matter of paving the roads involves the expenditure of special road money along with general funds levied by Road Dist. No. 47 running from the Milwaukee section to Gladstone. Residents of that section, ex-

THE SMOOTHEST SMOKING TOBACCO

Smoke over your problems. A little drawin' on a fren'ly pipe often saves a heap of drawin' on a bank account.

Velvet Joe

Velvet is a friendly tobacco in the truest sense, because, like friendship, it has been allowed to ripen naturally—nothing forced or unnatural.

There are "hurry up" ways with tobacco but only patient ageing (two years in wooden hogsheads) can bring out the mellowness that sets Velvet apart.

You know what mellowness is—now think of a good friend who is never harsh to you.

There you have the big thing about Velvet—mellow friendliness.

You and Velvet—begin your friendship today.

cepting those who live at Jennings Lodge argued Friday that it was the intention of the tax payers to provide for the improvement of Steel avenue in a westerly direction running to the bottom of the Holowell hill on the river road. Gladstone residents want the court to improve the road running from the east on Steel avenue, running south connecting with the northern part of Gladstone, at Portland avenue. The river road through Gladstone is in bad condition, and Judge Anderson pointed out to the Gladstone contingent that nothing had been done by them to keep this road in condition during the past year.
