Miss Pearl Stromgreen, of Oregon City, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stromgreen, of Colton, over Sunday.
B. Sullivan was a Portland visitor last week.

LOWER HIGHLAND

Rev. Stannard preached in the Baptist church here last Sunday.
"Grandma" Rutherford is still very sick and not much hope of her recovery is held. Her daughters from Canada and also one from Portland, have been visiting her recently.
Mr. and Mrs. Newell and daughter, Harriet, of Portland, and Frank Blackburn of Gresham, spent the week-end as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Holmes.
Miss Barbara Cota spent the week-end with Miss Christina Rambo in Upper Highland.
Joe Fellows was the guest of his brother, Dan, last Sunday.
Mr. Evans, of the Oregon City Woolen Mills, was out in our neighborhood buying wool this week. The mills are paying from 40 to 50¢ a pound for wool this year.
Ruth Carlisle visited Vera Holmes last Sunday.
Isabelle Vohs and Blanche Swank have gone to Hood River to pick strawberries. Strawberries are ripening out our way now, but the yield is going to be very light this year.
Gene Kirk called on Dan Fellows Sunday.

VIOLA

Our school closed on Wednesday last for the summer. The teacher, Mrs. Mary Hollingburg, has gone to her home in Corvallis. The scholars have all done finely in their studies, and this makes the second term that she has taught here. We all wish her happiness in her new home with her soldier husband.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hollingsworth, of Gladstone, were visiting with relatives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miller from Saturday to Sunday.
Ray Mattoon and wife, from Portland, were calling on relatives here on Sunday.
Byron Randolph and Wynn Craft, of Portland, were at the Randolph home on Sunday.
Charlie Hicinbotham and wife and daughter, of River Mill, were with relatives at Viola and Redland on Decoration day.
Clark Cockerline, wife and daughter took dinner on Sunday at the home of Harve Mattoon. Lewis Gerber and wife of Redland, also called there on Sunday.
Mr. Purcell, of Gladstone, preached at the church here at 11 a. m. Sunday. He is going to fill the pulpit here once in two weeks.
Harve Mattoon has a new Ford machine. He thinks he can get to town a little quicker now than when using his horses.

Arthur and John Mattoon made a business trip to Portland Monday. They went to purchase a new mowing machine.
Viola is getting quite popular. All the machines that went through Viola Sunday made one think of the highway. There were four carloads of people, about 20 in all, who camped for a couple of days in the grove at Little Clear Creek bridge.
Will Gibbs had the misfortune to have one of his brooder lamps explode and kill and injure quite a number of little chicks.
Tennie and Janette Graham are spending their vacation at their parent's home.
Mr. and Mrs. John Ficken were calling at the Randolph home on Sunday. Also Mr. and Mrs. N. Nutt and Mr. and Mrs. W. Barker from Lents, who owned a place here 12 years ago.

UPPER HIGHLAND

(Last Week)
A large crowd of Upper Highlanders attended the play at Lower Highland last Saturday evening. Everyone enjoyed the play and themselves at the dance at the Fellows home afterwards. Among those attending were: Mrs. K. Martin and sons, August and Willie, Esther Martin, Earl and Vernon Martin, Esther and Blanche Wallace, Molly and Belle McVay, Hilda Chase, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rambo and children, Mrs. Schmidt, Annie and Willie Schmidt.
Two of our boys, Johnny Martin and Hubert Schram, were in the play and both played their parts real well.
A farewell party was given at the home of the Buzz McVay home Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and family who have left our community for Montana. Those present were: Mrs. Oro Trotter, Mr. and Mrs. Buzz McVay, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and baby, the Misses Molly and Belle McVay, Hilda Chase, Elsie and Annie Bauer, and Messrs. Fred and Harry Baurer, Bill Schmidt and James Hanhart. The crowd was small but everyone had a fine time.
Mrs. Jim Trotter and children, Thelma and Eugene, of Idaho, are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McVay.

(This Week)
We just received the returns from our eighth grade examinations. Henry Rutherford received his diploma. Esther Martin and Loeta Nicholas took the eighth grade Geography exam and passed with flying colors. Mildred Sims and Elsie Bauer took physiology and both passed. Maybe we aren't proud of our boys and girls.
Hilda Chase went home Thursday evening and spent the week-end with her parents, both of whom have been ill.
The Misses Estelle and May Ingrams, from Portland, came out to their summer home on Friday.
Mrs. J. Hanhart and son journeyed to Portland Thursday to the doctors to see about Ralph's arm.

Tuesday being election day and voting being carried on in the school house, there was no convening of school, as according to school law.
There will be a school picnic on Saturday, June 7, 1919. There will be a short program, consisting of a few recitations and songs, the school prophecy by Esther Martin—telling each of the children's nickname, favorite song and pastime, chief trouble and what they hope to be. Rumor has it that this will be funny but we hope no one will be offended if there is a joke at their expense. "Hitting the High Spots" is an original composition by Loeta Nicholas, giving important dates in the school year. The following is the program we expect to have:—
11 a. m.—Everybody come and bring something good to eat.
12 a. m.—Noon. Dinner at the Skidmore woods (if it doesn't rain), and if it does, at the schoolhouse of church.
2 p. m.—Program:—Opening greeting to parents, "Welcome"—Georgie Mason; speech—Ella May Skidmore; address—Mr. Simms; song, "Hurrah for Vacation," school; recitation—Belle McVay; song by little folks; recitation—Elva Nicholas; dialogue, "V-i-c-t-o-r-y"—little folks; song—older girls; presentation of diplomas—Mr. W. B. Rambo, acting chairman; talk—Miss Chase; closing—Mildred Sims.

2 p. m.—Remember, there may be races and a ball game after the program.
Helped Her Little Girl
Children need all their strength for growing. A lingering cold weakens them so that the system is open to attack by more serious sickness. Mrs. Amanda Flint, Route 4, New Philadelphia, O., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar cured my little girl of the worst tickling cough. I had tried many things and found nothing to help until I got Foley's Honey and Tar." Gives immediate relief from distressing, racking, tearing coughs; soothes and heals. Good for colds, croup and whooping-cough.—Sold Everywhere.

REDLAND

Will there be any fruit? Apple trees are loaded, and there will be all kinds of berries; blackberries promise to be a big crop. Prunes will be about 40% of a crop; cherries about 25%, and Bartlett pears, none. A few of the other types of pears will give a yield, however. There is a prospect of a bumper crop of other things. Clover will be short on account of poor stands last year. The stock is doing finely, owing to abundance of pasture, and 50¢ is being offered for wool.
Frost hit the bench lands on Clear creek hard enough to scorch fern, otherwise no damage done.
A larger acreage of corn has been planted here than ever before, and considering the cold nights it is doing well.
Your scribe recently took a trip on the Columbia highway and in looking over the Vista house we notice that house is spelled with a "v".
Quite a number of neighbors gave a surprise in honor of Mrs. L. E. Sinor, who left for Los Angeles the 29th for a prolonged visit with friends and relatives.
The new rock crusher is up and a-going, so we guess we will soon see the last of the plank on our main roads.
Folks that have relatives buried here were out on Decoration day in full force, paying respects to the departed.
Mr. Warren, while mowing grass in the cemetery, lost a signet ring. It has his initials on it. Finder please return it.
A. M. Kirchem, took a load of lambs to the stock yards last week. He was also doing survey work for Mr. Rose.
Mrs. Hughes and Mr. Smith and Mr. Rose as chauffeur, took in the circuit of the Jersey breeder's tour.
A. L. Allen is remodeling his house. Under the new connection with the Pacific States Telephone company, parties calling must call by numbers.

STAFFORD

The "Silent Cities" of Stafford, of which there are practically three, were beautifully decorated on Memorial day, in memory of the dear ones sleeping in their narrow beds. New posts had replaced the decayed ones in the fence of the public burying ground, and a gate put in at the east side.
The Tualatin Grange at Frog Pond, with some help from outside subscriptions, had the work in charge and other improvements are to be added.
Mrs. Nemic, a widow, was awakened by the squealing of one of her pigs a few nights ago, and rushed out valiantly to the rescue and found a man trying to put the young porker into a sack. But when he saw the apparition bearing down upon him, he fled, leaving pig and sack. He can have the latter by calling for it, but a man who would steal from a widow ought to be kicked to death by cripples.
The Gages, with two machines, went up the Columbia highway on Saturday, stopping at places of interest going, and visiting others coming back. They took dinner at Latourelle falls. When they got home at 11:30, they found that C. A. Sweek, of Burns, and E. White, of Santana, had taken possession, gotten their own supper, and were keeping the home fires burning and wondering where all the folks were.
O Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Oldham took the Columbia highway ride with some friends.
There are no new cases of "Flu," and the late victims are regaining their strength slowly.

Mrs. Holton brought her daughter, Mrs. Eva Ray, from the St. Vincent's hospital to her mother's home on Tuesday. She had been at the hospital for two weeks.
E. White left on Monday.
Mr. Schatz's sister Kate, was out Memorial day to visit the graves of her mother and father.
Mrs. C. Tiedeman and her sister from the East, visited Mrs. Nussbaum Sunday. They were old neighbors in Dakota.

TWILIGHT

J. E. Calavan, superintendent of public instruction, and Miss Snedeker, Clackamas county representative of the boys' and girls' juvenile clubs, met with the Twilight Club at the residence of A. H. Harvey on last Thursday afternoon. Raymond, Gaylord and Lowell Montgomery, George Alfred Dodds, Ernest Bradt and Norman Parish compose the membership, and this community is proud of the bunch. Now let the parents get behind these boys, do a little boosting, adding an occasional word of encouragement and our future leaders in live stock and the business world are assured.
Mr. and Mrs. Highmiller, of Portland, were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Dodds one day last week. Memorial day was spent quietly by our citizens, a large number visiting the cemeteries, depositing Nature's flowers on the mounds of loved ones, with reverent hands and sincere devotion.
A new piano was added to the home of Herman Scheer a day last week. It requires so little to please a child that I often wonder why more children are not made happy periodically at least.
Hurrah for Hawker, but three cheers for Red.

Paul Ellings had strawberries on the market the 28th.
Herman Scheer was greeted by a birthday party the evening of May 28th. It is impolite now to mention the number of candles appearing on the birthday cake.
Oregon contains no greater patriot than George Jensen of the place. He is a native of Germany, having served in the German army. His wife, an Austrian, is no less patriotic than her husband. At their home a United States flag with a service flag underneath floats in the breeze at the top of a 50-foot pole and no more liberal donor to patriotic funds, nor subscriber to war loans according to their possessions, breathe the free air of America.
The Meinlds are making extensive improvements to their tenant house on the Lazelle ranch to be occupied by Mr. Hall and wife, their new manager.
Phil King made his parents happy and his friends glad, upon reaching home last Thursday from Camp Lewis. He had served his country in France in the auto service.
Voting bonds is much like running a grocery bill by telephone. It's easy, seemingly, and is usually overdue.
At a meeting of the school board Monday evening, the budget for the approaching school year, was outlined.

EAST PARADISE

Our farmers have their crops all in, and the cultivation of spuds and corn is now in order.
George Oglesby has been sick with pneumonia for several days, but is convalescing. Dr. B. F. Gregg was his physician.
Frank Oglesby and family were visitors at Canby Sunday.
J. H. Krans is having a garage built for his new Ford.
The Gribble boys were callers at

FOLKS are a heap like tobacco. Thar's hot-headed, bitey folks. Thar's flat, uninterestin' folks. An' then thar's folks like Velvet—mild, but hearty an' fren'ly, too.

Velvet Joe

THE FRIENDLY TOBACCO

"Friendly" is a very good word to describe the positively pleasing quality that sets VELVET tobacco apart.

There is that indescribable something about VELVET that is associated in men's minds with the thought of a friend.

It is a satisfying smoke—never harsh; without a bite. Like a friend it "agrees" with you no matter how much you use it.

Long, patient ageing—in wooden hogsheads—does it. Friendship must ripen slowly. Good tobacco the same way. An army of men have learned this through VELVET.

Today is a good time to get a lot of comfort out of a pipeful of friendly VELVET.

VELVET'S natural-aged mildness and smoothness make it just right for cigarettes.

I Owe My Life to PERUNA

Mr. McKinley's letter brings cheer to all who may be sufferers as he was. Read it:

"I can honestly say that I owe my life to Peruna. After some of the best doctors in the country gave me up and told me I could not live another month, Peruna saved me. Travelling from town to town, throughout the country and having to go into all kinds of badly heated stores and buildings, sometimes standing up for hours at a time while playing my trade as auctioneer, it is only natural that I had colds frequently; so when this would occur I paid little attention to it, until last December when I contracted a severe case, which, through neglect on my part, settled on my lungs. When at last, without avail, until I heard of Peruna. It cured me, so I cannot praise it too highly."

Mr. Samuel McKinley, 3507 E. 12th St., Kansas City, Mo., Member of the Society of U. S. Jewelry Auctioneers.

Sold Everywhere. Tablet or Liquid Form.

R. W. Zimmerman motored to Portland Sunday to call on his daughter.
Memorial exercises were held at the various cemeteries near here, Friday.
Ben Wolfer has been quite sick for several days.
Geo. W. N. Taylor is getting very feeble. He now resides at Barlow. He is an old Indian War veteran and is about 90 years old.
