

Convenience, comfort and economy

Wherever you go—city, country, mountains, seashore—there you will find Pearl Oil, the Standard Oil Company's kerosene. Gives the convenience of gas without the dust and dirt of coal or wood. Easy to handle.

With a good oil cookstove you will cook in comfort all year 'round. Bakes, broils, roasts, toasts—economically. Lights at the touch of a match. No waiting for fires to come up, no unnecessary work, no waste. Concentrates a steady heat on the cooking—leaving the kitchen cool and comfortable.

Pearl Oil is refined and re-refined by our special process which removes the impurities. It is clean burning.

Pearl Oil is for sale in bulk by dealers everywhere. It is the same high-quality kerosene as the Pearl Oil sold in five-gallon cans. There is a saving by buying in bulk. Order by name—Pearl Oil.

ROAD CONDITIONS

WESTERN OREGON

Barlow-Oak Grove—Open and in fair condition, Portland to Twinbridges. Closed by snow, Twinbridges to Clear creek. No detour possible. Open, Clear creek to Wapinitia. Open and in fair condition, Wapinitia to Cedarburn.

McKenzie Highway—Open and in fair condition, Eugene to Blue river. Open, Blue river to Lost Creek ranger station, but in poor condition. Closed by snow, Lost Creek ranger station to Summit.

Willamette—Open and in fair condition, Eugene to Boulder Grade. Closed by snow between Boulder Grade and Summit.

Grants Pass-Crescent City—Open and in fair condition for entire length. For several miles between Kerby and Waldo and also for about four miles on the east side of Oregon mountain, very rough.

Pacific Highway—Open and in excellent condition, except where road construction is in progress between Medford and Riddle. Road is open to traffic at intervals during the day; traffic is held up part of the time, awaiting dynamite blasts. A section of road between Grants Pass and Rogue River is being paved and a detour on the north side of the river is necessary, over a rough road.

Crescent City-Gold Beach—Open and in fair condition, Crescent City to Brookings. Open but rough, because of recent rains and grading, between Brookings and Gold Beach.

Roseburg-Peel—Open and in good condition between Roseburg and Peel.

Medford-Crater Lake—Open and in fair condition, Medford to National Park boundary. Closed by snow between park boundary and Crater lake. No detours possible. Probably will be open July first.

Anna creek—Open and in fair condition between Klamath Falls and two miles inside National Park line. Closed by snow from this point to Crater lake. No detours possible. Will probably be open July first.

Row River—Open and in good condition, Cottage Grove to Diaston. Closed by slides and fallen timber between Diaston and Champion Mine. Will be open for teams by June 15.

Three Rivers—Open between Willamina and Tillamook. Very rough for six miles through the Grande Ronde Indian reservation; this section is practically impassable for several days after heavy rain. Construction work is now in progress between Dolph and Hebo.

Eugene-Florence—Open, but quite rough, Eugene to Mapleton. Closed over North Fork mountain. It is a narrow road, with steep grade and sharp turns, and it is only for experienced drivers.

Alsea river—Open between Corvallis and Waldport. In fair condition, Corvallis to Missouri Bend. Only passable between Missouri Bend and Waldport; very rough.

Santiam wagon road—Closed to all except foot traffic, Cascadia to eastern boundary of Santiam national forest. There are several dangerous bridges, which should not be used by vehicles. Should be open by July first.

Riddle-Drew—Open and in fair condition, Riddle to Tiller. Closed between Tiller and Drew by condemned bridge.

Bandon-Gold Beach—Open and in passable condition for light cars, entire length.

EASTERN OREGON

Flora-Enterprise—Open and in good condition for entire length. Crew is now working on this road, but traffic is not delayed.

Chico—Open between Enterprise and Chico and in good condition.

Imnaha—Open and in good condition between Enterprise and Imnaha.

Promise—Open and in good condition between Wallowa and Promise.

Powwaka—Open and in good condition between Wallowa and Powwaka.

Baker-Cornucopia—Open and in permanent summer condition between Baker and Cornucopia.

Sparta-East Eagle—Open and in fair condition, Sparta to Lillywhite. Closed by snow and washed-out bridge between Lillywhite and East Eagle. Detours not possible. Will open about the middle of July.

Baker-Prairie City—Open and in permanent summer condition between Baker and Prairie City.

Mitchell-Dayville—Open and in good condition, entire length.

Lakeview-Plush—Open, but in poor condition, Lakeview to Plush.

Prineville-Paulina—Open and in good condition, entire length.

Lakeview-Bend—Open and in fair condition, Lakeview to Bend.

Pendleton-La Grande—Open, but in poor condition, Pendleton to La Grande.

Lakeview-Klamath Falls—Open entire length. Condition poor.

Lakeview-Alturas—Open entire length for all classes of travel. Muddy in places.

Prineville-Mitchell—Open and in fair condition, entire length, with some rough places between Ochoo ranger station and Beaver ranger station.

Miss Ford's Recital
The pupils of Miss Sadye Ford will appear in a piano recital on Wednesday evening, June 25th, at the Methodist church in Oregon City. Quite a large class will take part in the event, and it is looked forward to by the people of this city as one of the junior musical events of the year.

TRAINING LITTLE CHILDREN

(By Harriet Frances Carpenter)
The world of the child is one of perpetual imagination—try to live in it with him and he will be easier to guide.

While visiting a school I overheard this dialogue between an unimaginative teacher and a small boy who was helping to remove some cobwebs from a cabinet in the classroom:

"Spider-webs are very beautiful, aren't they, Miss Andrews?"

"Hold the pan higher."

"All spiders aren't bad spiders; some spiders are good spiders, aren't they, Miss Andrews?"

"Watch what you are doing."

"I know a story about a spider. Miss Holmes told a story to her class about Robert Bruce and the spider—"

"When?" severely. The child hung his head. "If you loiter at her door again, I'll keep you in." A sullen look appeared on his face and the work was continued in silence. After he had left the room she turned to me and said: "That boy gets sulky spells. Oh, he likes nature work and stories, but I never could tell a story."

Upon my suggesting that stories stimulate the imagination, she held up her hands and with a look of horror declared: "Imagination! You don't have to stimulate children's imagination. The trouble is they have too much!"

She was unable to reconcile her adult mental attitude with a child's outlook.

A little girl, as she ran up and down the steps of a broad terrace surrounding a house in the country, kept saying to herself: "It's just like an old castle! It's just like an old castle!"

"Nellie," commanded her father, "don't do that! You'll fall."

"She is always falling," he explained to his hostess.

"Does she hurt herself?" asked the lady.

"No, but she might, she is so awkward. She gets worse all the time."

His little daughter manifested a lively imagination, but he did not understand how to make it of use in developing restraint and poise.

Live with children and one lives in a world of perpetual imagination. In no way can we more easily control the child's acts, form his habits, mould his thoughts, than along this avenue of approach to his mind. Reproof may adroitly be given by a playful appeal to the fancy.

"Poor Patsy," murmured a father, shaking his head as his heedless little son, a sturdy boy of five, stumbled and fell repeatedly during a short ramble in a meadow.

"Poor Patsy! One would think to look at him that he had nice bright eyes, but they are just beads."

The next day, running impetuously to meet me this same little fellow stumbled over a stone, fell, and got up saying good-humoredly: "If Daddy was here he'd tell me I had beads for eyes." His heedlessness was soon corrected by this jest.

"The flowers are asking why Patsy doesn't take his feet off and leave them at home when he comes to see us," I suggested one day when he trampled my snowdrops.

"What do the flowers say now?" he whispered as he quickly removed the offending members from the bulb bed and looked wistfully into my face.

"They say, 'Thank you, Patsy,' " I replied. "If you keep your feet on the paths you may bring them with you when you come to the garden." And so a rebuke attained its end without creating antagonism.

Sometimes it happens that children lose the sense of discrimination between fact and fancy. Then we should clarify their ideas without implanting a sense of guilt.

It was discovered that a hitherto truthful child was beginning to make misstatements, evidently not for the purpose of deception, but entirely through confusion of thought. I had read him an account in a newspaper of a dog that put his paws on the steering wheel of an automobile, while his master, sitting beside him, changed the gears and saw to the essentials of running the car. He made no comment at the time but his imagination seized upon the idea. A couple of months later he told me that he had seen a dog running a car on Fifth Avenue.

"His master was with him," I responded.

"No, not that one; this dog was alone. He changed the gears himself."

Shortly afterward he wanted to know what a cocoon is. I began the allegory of the Caterpillar and the Butterfly. "Don't tell it that way—don't say 'it said' and 'he said'—just tell me," he broke in. So I told him the facts of the development of the

Blizzard Cut Silage Pays--

Blizzard Cut Silage pays better because it is cut evenly of the desired length and packs well in the silo.

Blizzard Silo Fillers have long led the ensilage cutter field by reason of advanced strong construction. The Blizzard first used that unique combination of knives, fan and fly wheel operated upon a single shaft. This means a simple and much lighter running cutter than a double unit machine can possibly be.

Now the Blizzard comes forward with another great improvement, the self feed. The most reliable self feed that has ever been perfected. Come and examine the new Blizzard. Sizes for all requirements.

Stover Engines for All Needs

Use the Stover for pumping, for running the silo filler, the wood saw, the hay press and any other need about the place. You will find it reliable, economical and always on the job, ready when you are ready, never kicking and acting in every way as you have a right to expect a dependable efficient gas or kerosene engine to act. chrysalis as briefly and definitely as possible. When I had finished, thinking this a fitting opportunity, I explained the difference between fact and fiction, telling him that we should let people know whether what we told was really so, or just a story or joke.

The following incident shows his manner of applying my careful definition. He told his aunt that he had seen two squirrels running toward each other on a branch of a tree. They had their mouths filled with nuts, and they ran so fast that they "bumped heads" and knocked the nuts out: After an effective pause he added: "That's a joke. I made it up! Now this is real—" and he repeated a simple incident of a squirrel carrying away the walnuts he had laid on the ground to dry.

Some children naturally make the distinction between fact and fancy without assistance. One of my child companions usually explained his representations where they might not be obvious, so that we lived in a world of 'pretend' without any feeling of deception—"I can't come to see you, I shall be too busy taking care of my horse (you know, my toy horse), and my automobile (you know, my bicycle)."

"Ride over on your horse." "Oh, he is too wild." "Then come in your car." "It costs too much for gas and water."
