WORRY

It is a scientific fact that more people die from WORRY than from overwork. The greatest cause of worry is lack of money. The majority of people who worry from this cause are those who never appreciated the value of a BANK ACCOUNT. A growing Bank Account eliminates worry of this kind. With your mind FREE from worry, you can work better, eat better, sleep better and be more successful in your business and a happier man. Under these circumstances, isn't a bank account worth while?

AID DAIRY COWS KEEP OFF FLIES

Stop Decrease in Milk Production in Hot Weather by Eliminating Insects.

ADDS TO DAIRYMAN'S INCOME

Losses of Live Weight, Discontent and Unrest Are Promoted Among Animals in Summer as Consequence of Little Pests.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Help dairy cows fight flies, for it is worth while, not only because of the comfort it gives the animals but because it adds to the income of the dairyman by increasing the milk yields. Decrease in milk production, losses of live weight, discontent and unrest are promoted among herds during the summer months as the consequence of the activities of the common stable fly and horn fly. An average decrease in milk flow of from 25 to 40 per cent is not uncommon as the direct result of flies and the extreme heat of summer.

Under existing conditions with a keen demand for dairy products and with prices at a high mark, it is highly desirable that every dairy farmer exercise a maximum of care and caution to eliminate the fly evil.

Some Practical Remedies. Remedies are darkened barns, stable sanitation and spraying with fly repellents. Thorough treatment of manure, its daily removal from the barn to a distance, the use of hanging bur-lap or other devices in the barn doors to brush flies from the animals, baited fly traps placed outside the barn and closed milk pails are among the necessary requirements for keeping flies away.

The stable fly, armed with biting mouth parts, punctures the hide of cows and sucks their blood, while the horn fly locates at the base of the horns where it irritates the skin and causes the formation of congestions which resemble mosquito bites. Both species of these flies propagate rapidly and require only from 10 to 16 days in which to hatch their eggs and produce new hordes of pests which operate for cow discomfort.

Means of Eliminating Evil. The stabling of cows during the heat of the day in cool, darkened barns is recommended as one of the best means of eliminating the fly evil, provided adequate labor is available to keep the stables clean and sanitary.

As manure provides an ideal breeding material for flies it is imperative that none of it be allowed to accumulate in or around the stable. Spraying such animals with some fly repellent, such as kerosene emulsion, is an effective remedy, but requires repeated applications. Repellents should be used with great care, as no good one has yet been devised which is not likely to slightly taint the milk. It is best to spray the cows just before milking each evening, using a hand spray pump or applying it with a brush or a sponge. There are some antily solutions on the market which are more or less effective. Most of them consist of some coal-tar product combined with either fish oil, oil of tar, or rosin. Lime sprinkled about the barn on manure is also useful in destroying flies.

Prevent Disease in Flocks. Poultrymen Should Secure Thorough Sanitation to Avoid Ailments and Insect Pests.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) Poultry breeders should be more careful than ever to secure thorough sanitation and thus prevent disease in their flocks. Good sanitation also checks the rapid multiplication of lice and mites, but does not destroy them. For this, an appropriate insecticide should be used.

High kickers abound here as elsewhere, nor are they exactly chorus girls either, but just plain ordinary kickers. An old settler says this is a great country for gossiping and back-biting and anyone serving the public gets a big share of criticism, no matter what he does. This is especially true of a post master, who is the target for all manner of abuse from a certain class. If a little mistake is made it is magnified a thousand times and sometimes a lie is circulated, made out of whole cloth. All postmasters that the writer has interviewed, have the same experience. The department is aware of this state of affairs and pays but little attention to these childish complaints.

Oh! How dry we are! Well, they've igned another "scrap of paper."

Not much prospect of rain until fall now, the old-timers say. S. C. Runyan has gone to Oregon City, where he has a position in the paper mills. His family will remain here until fall.

The busy season is at hand for the farmers, as haying and harvest will begin after the Fourth. It will be a busy season for the president, too, as he will be home after the Fourth and get busy with the Senate, regarding the League. The senators will sign like the Germans for all their bluffing and bellowing. They know that the people demand that this League be ratified and every senator who has been in active opposition to it is dead politically. Borah, Johnson and Poindexter have knocked themselves out of the Christmas tree. The Republicans will probably nominate General Wood next year. He is a good man, being fearless, and a man of action, not more so than McAdoo, whom the Democrats are likely to nominate. Really, both are able men and a credit to the American nation. A certain clique of eastern Republicans would like to nominate "Boob" Penrose, of Penn., or "Blackguard" Sherman, of Ill., but they know they would not be elected.

The president has had a wonderful run of good fortune. Twice elected on a minority ticket. Triumphant with his League of Nations in the face of strong opposition, and now it is almost a dead certainty that he will succeed in getting his League ratified by this country.

The Bohemians (i. e., the Catholic element) have demanded that their priests be allowed to marry and that they be preached to in their native language instead of Latin. The writer never supposed he would live long enough to see any progress made by this institution of the Dark Ages. One thing certain, there are no intelligent Americans among them.

Dave Douglas will soon begin the erection of a new house on his ranch north of town. Archie Averill will begin building it after the Fourth. Let the eagle scream! The Great Republic now stands first and foremost in the list of nations, with a history unexcelled in peace and in war among all nations.

Mexico seems to be breeding a scab on its nose, so to speak, as a little more trouble down there, and Uncle Sam will take a hand. Carranza, however, is trying to placate the people by dividing up large tracts for the poor peons, into small tracts of 2 1/2 acres, providing they will live on them and cultivate them.

It appears that the Dominion of Canada does not sell land to speculators to hold it out of use until active settlers, developing the country, cause an increase in value. They give land to actual settlers and help them to get a start. In the city of Edmonton, a body of land was held by the Hudson Bay company under an early grant and they would not sell at any price. The city soon got busy and raised their assessment so high that they were glad to sell. Land alone is taxed according to rental value, but improvements are not taxed. Then as soon as a man begins to make improvements, his taxes are raised yearly.

The radical element in this country will do well to consider the work of the Non-Partisan League in North Dakota. The farmers there, who are in a big majority, knowing they had the votes if they stuck together, have swept everything before them, electing all state and national officers. Lately they have ratified radical measures at the polls, enacted last winter by the legislature.
