Story—Goods Damaged
Chiefly by Smoke and Water

At the sound of the fire alarm on Tuesday night at 9:30 o'clock, a crowd of people quickly gathered at Main and Tenth streets where they saw smoke and flames issuing forth from the rear of the C. C. Store. The firemen with the truck and apparatus were on hand promptly and soon at work trying to locate and conquer the flames. The fire had gotten into the walls and there being no wind it kept well within the anteroom and kitchen until very recently used by several of the local lodges. And with smoke thoroughly filling the building and issuing from all the windows in the upper story the firemen worked over two hours before they were satisfied that there was no more danger of outbreak.

The back part of the upper floor is badly burned, the main hall is disfigured by smoke while the stock of goods belonging to the C. C. Store owners is badly damaged by smoke and water.

J. C. Cochran, manager of the store estimates the loss on goods between five and ten thousand dollars, and John Knapp, owner of the building, places the damage to the building at from three to five thousand. Both merchandise and building were only partially insured.
