Crop Prospects.

Reports of no moisture in sections of the southwest, where it is most needed, have continued to come in during the past month. Thousands of acres sown last fall have not shown a sign of life, as the seed lies in the dry earth, without moisture enough to cause it to sprout. There have been no general rains or snows since the seed was drilled into the ground in central and western Kansas, which constitute the principal wheat-producing section of the state, and in all parts of the state the plant that has germinated is in great need of moisture as well as snow protection.

In Oklahoma, wheat has made no growth, and the condition continues generally very poor in the central and western portions of the state, especially in the southwestern and extreme northwest portions, where the drought continues severe. The present prospect therefore is that both Kansas and Oklahoma will produce the shortest crop of wheat for many years.

The department of commerce reports the prospect for most crops, particularly wheat, in France this year, are very poor, and that from 500,000 to 600,000 tons will be imported into France between now and August, 1922.

The outlook for Argentine corn crop is considered very good, but rains are needed and locusts are causing some damage in certain sections of the country.

The recent cold snap has seriously damaged the most of California's growing crops, and the markets will be in an unsettled condition until the extent of the damage to fruits and vegetables is definitely ascertained.

Picking of oranges and lemons in southern California has been halted until the growers learn the exact damage to their crops, which it is estimated, will vary from 25 per cent in some sections to a total loss in others.

Artichokes, celery, cauliflower and lettuce have all been damaged more or less, the extent of damage depending upon the locality where grown. The damage to California's crops, occasioned by the unwelcome visit of Jack Frost, has, to some extent, been offset by the bountiful rains that have provided excellent pasturage for livestock, and with the heavy snowfall in the mountains, assured an abundance of water the coming season for irrigation purposes.

BACKACHE IS DISCOURAGING

But Not So Bad If You Know How to Reach the Cause

Nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys. Oregon City people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor!

E. Schulz, carpenter, 119 - 8th St. Oregon City, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have helped me and I gladly recommend them to others. My work is hard on the kidneys and often I had spells of lumbago. I had a dull aching across my back and could hardly stoop to do any lifting and my kidneys acted irregularly. Doan's Kidney Pills from the Huntley-Draper Drug company soon fixed me in good shape by strengthening my back and kidneys."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Schulz had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. —Adv. TRAINING LITTLE CITIZENS

SOMETHING TO TAKE CARE OF

(By Lydia Lion Roberts.)

(Issued by the National Kindergarten Association, 8, West 40th street, New York City. These articles are appearing weekly in our columns.)

"Oh, mother, I wish we had a cat or a dog or a baby—or some kind of an animal," sighed the little boy one day. He was expressing the natural desire every child has to care for and protect something smaller than himself. This is a very good wish for a child to have and the wise mother uses it at once to develop a feeling of tenderness and responsibility.

The cat and the dog and the baby should be in every family if possible, but there are other ways to please the child if these are out of the question. One mother put a bowl of goldfish on a low magazine stand, and let her little boy feed them each day. He was interested in watching their habits and he and his mother often talked about the tiny, beautiful fishes. Another boy was given a geranium at a church concert and cared for it all winter. He was very proud when it blossomed before his brother's din, and watered it carefully every morning.

A small bed of pansies was given to a little girl one spring day, and she was told it was her flowerbed to care for. Her mother suggested that she supply the table with pansies, picking a few at a time for a low dish, then showed the child how to combine colors to make lovely effects. The little girl learned many things about flowers that summer and tended her garden faithfully, with love in every touch she gave the pansies.

The boys have their games, the girls have dolls, but these do not satisfy the need for something alive, something that grows and shows the results of care and attention. A kitten, a puppy, some rabbits, a few white mice, whichever suits the needs of the family best can be easily supplied, if the mother thinks it over. Of course it will be a little more care for a mother in one way, for she must see to it that the child does not shirk the responsibility after the novelty wears off, but with gentle firmness the child's own "growing thing" may become the means of helping towards an understanding and realization that all helpless things need constant, steady love and care from the stronger ones of the world.

"There is no force so great as that of an idea whose hour has come."—Victor Hugo.

The idea of kindergarten education for little children is not a new one, but it is an idea whose hour has come. Organizations all over the country are entitled to the advantages of kindergarten training, and are attempting in many states to secure legislation authorizing the establishment of kindergartens upon petition of parents.

Such laws have already been enacted in California, Arizona, Nevada, Maine, Texas, Kansas, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin—and bills making the same provision will be introduced in the 1922 legislative sessions in Georgia, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, New Jersey, and New York.

If there is no kindergarten in your school, the National Kindergarten Association will furnish upon request advice and information as to how one may be secured.
