Camps Will Open Citizens Military

The Summer Military Camps for citizens of Oregon and Washington will be organized under the direction of the Chief of Staff, 96th Division, Headquarters, 323 New Post Office Building, Portland, Oregon.

The camps will be located at Camp Lewis, Washington, and at Fort Worden Puget Sound, Washington.

Camp Lewis will require about 960 students and Fort Worden about 40.

At Camp Lewis, Red, White and Blue courses will be given for Infantry, Cavalry, Field Artillery Air Service Engineers and Signal Corps, the camps opening July 27th and closing August 25, 1922.

At Fort Worden, White and Blue courses for Coast Artillery Corps, instruction will be given from July 27th to August 25th, 1922.

These Citizens' Military Training Camps are conducted by the War Department under the National Defense Act. The object of these camps is to bring together young men of high type from all sections of the country on a common basis of equality under the most favorable conditions of outdoor life; to stimulate and promote citizenship, patriotism and Americanism; and, through expert physical direction, athletic coaching and military training, to benefit the young men individually.

Union School District No. 26 Standardized

Friday March 10, was a great day in the history of Union School District No. 26, when all requirements having been amply met. Mr. Vedder, our county school superintendent, after an interesting address presented the school with a certificate of standardization. It was an event long wished for by many but with little hope of realization until very recently. Even with the new school building it must have been longer deferred had it not been for the earnest work of the numbers of the Community Club.

Here are some of the things which have been accomplished.

A clean up bee was held before the beginning of school in which the men and women as to numbers and willingness to work. The yard was cleaned and graded, windows washed and floors oiled. Later the men of the neighborhood built a shed to shelter the horses driven or ridden to school. Mr. Kelley made a fine sand table for Miss Heacock's room. Others furnished the lumber and constructed tables and benches to be used for the basement supper.

In order that these might be and also that hot coffee might be served at club meetings, the president donated a range in good condition. Club members also gave several dozen cups and saucers. The treasurer's last report showed $185.26 received from dues, donations, sales, suppers, etc. This does not include the proceeds of the play and supper given last Saturday evening March 18, for which the report is not yet in, but for which 50 net returns is given as a conservative estimate. The entertainments, usually given with the aid of the school, have been free with the exception of the play for which tickets were sold. Some have been purely social, at others sales or suppers were held to bring in money which has been used to purchase and maintain three gasoline lamps, furnish the school with paper towels, buy play equipment as follows: volley ball, and net, travelling rings and chain, chain swings, turning bars and teeters. Good cedar posts were given by Mr. Bartell and the work of putting up was done by the men, the club buying cement and other material.

Nearly $20 was used in helping the board pay for a much needed set of maps while the latest purchase has been curtains for the stage. This leaves a very substantial start toward the piano fund—the next goal set. All feel gratified by the result of their effort but realize that it is only a beginning, so much is left to do. (May numbers and enthusiasm increase with the coming months.

WHY A CANDIDATE? Why am I a candidate for the office of county commissioner of Clackamas county?

Because I have always practiced economy. I have never taken business losses worth mentioning.

As a road builder of 16 years' experience and careful study, I can see where in most cases if there were well laid plans much more could be accomplished than is now accomplished ed in road construction as well as better quality of roads.

Ordinarily I could not be persuaded to make this run; if the county management was good or fairly good, I would keep out of it.

But now an emergency exists financially:

We are paying higher taxes on smaller incomes, with an increasing burden of debt.

I am convinced that there are enough taxpayers in the county who know the situation and believe with me that new life and efficiency, careful economical organization will give efficiency and impetus to road work thereby saving much money and that they do not believe this can be done by perpetuating the present conditions.

I think the majority of the voters also realize that politics and road building should be separated as far as possible; and instead of decisions being largely influenced from a vote counting standpoint, they should rather be governed by good road policies.

I believe it is the official duty of any man holding an office wherein he is the guardian of public funds, to be as careful in their expenditure as he would be with his own and even more so; and that he should diligently endeavor to learn all the facts both for and against—every measure of expense before making it.

I believe in courtesy; it is cheaper than discourtesy. It places a lighter tax on a man's good nature.

I will not shuffle off the smoke of good fellowship and haul on the armor of dictators after election; but will remain as your humble servant—ever ready and willing to join you in the solution of your tax problems.

George Randall, Jr., Announces Platform for Legislature

1. I am in favor of putting the state paid officers back to a pre-war salary.

2. Will support agriculture and other productive industry in every way possible.

3. Will do all in my power to put the reformatory institution on a self supporting basis.

4. Will strive to equalize taxation and lower taxes in every way possible.

5. I am opposed to alien ownership and long land lease and stand strictly for the American labor and the American people.

6. I am strictly opposed to appropriating money to the U. of O. and O. A. C. and hold them to the millage tax.

I was born in Clackamas county and have the interest of the county and state at heart.

My slogan is honesty, strict economy, and a straight forward administration.

If you want a man that was raised on the farm to represent you at the legislature.

The 1919 legislature appropriated for the Boys' Training School $125,022.12 and in 1921 the huge sum of $423,348.03. There are now in the school 165 boys. Of this amount $132,048.03 was for maintenance—an increase of $22,291.92 over the appropriation of 1919. The further sums of $280,000, $10,300 and $1000 are for repairs to buildings and return of runaways, respectively.

The local, social and economic conditions of the school should be considered, of course. There is current claim that the school had been for a number of years well-managed at $210,000 per year for the superintendent and matron and while the buildings are not modern they would with minimum improvements do for several years while there is so great need of retrenchment in the state expenses.

However, a majority of the state board of control urged the introduction of a plan calling for the $280,000 for the construction of new cottages to house the inmates and which will require from ten to twenty managers for the same in addition to a new superintendent and matron at $5000 per year.

There has been purchased for the school a 400 acre tract upon which there is only about 50 acres of tillable land. The new site for this school has been condemned by the Russell Sage educational foundational expert whom the state board invited to examine and report on the same. In fact the school ought to have a farm with good rich soil upon which to raise the food of the inmates and then see to it that under efficient supervision the boys are trained to regular honest-to-goodness work in raising their own food and produce for the state. No greater crime can be perpetrated against boys or girls than to allow them to dwell together in idleness. Persistent toil at something worth while is the greatest producer of good citizenship.

And these reformation schools can be made self supporting in Oregon, where climate, industry and intelligence is of as good quality as anywhere under the sun for production.

In Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Washington and other states the penal and reformation institutions keep their inmates employed in work that is remunerative to the state. In Washington reformatory a complete woodworking plant is kept busy. In six months during the latter part of last year the boys also made 1200 mattresses for use in the other state institutions and were themselves trained, meanwhile, in useful employments and for future service to themselves and the state. And a better spirit is shown by these youth than before they were thus steadily and profitably employed. EVERY boy in the Training School and whose health is good should do proper daily work for his food, clothing, recreation. This is one way to help reduce taxes and produce worthy citizenship. It is one of the duties of the next legislature.

Deluxe The Bedspring in Various

Poor Bed is a Robber of Energy

"We grow so accustomed to some discomforts that we fail to realize them," points out a great physician.

As an instance he cites the modern bed equipped with the ordinary coil, woven wire or national spring. These beds, even when we are young and strong, gradually rob us of strength and vitality. It is in middle age or during illness when we become acutely conscious of the discomfort that has been sapping our energy.

These springs do not allow the body to rest naturally; the hips and shoulders sink down, and there is no support for the small of the back and the neck. Hence backache and stiff neck which are often mistakenly attributed to other causes. In order to lie on such a bedspring the body must always be under tension—there cannot be complete relaxation. No matter in what position one may attempt to compose oneself, he must soon twist in his sleep to correct the spine-twisting tendency or suffer pain and stiffness which will soon wake him up. No wonder one feels tired and unrested after a night on such a bedspring. The escape from such conditions is, or should be, obvious. Select a bedspring that literally molds itself to the body and supports all parts easily—a bedspring that will not sag into great depressions but will always remain resilient. Such a bedspring is the Rome De Luxe—designed to conform to the exacting standards of physicians, anatomists and hygienists.

Examine the Rome De Luxe at your dealer's. Prove for yourself that it surpasses in luxurious comfort any bedspring at any price. See why it eliminates wear and tear of mattresses. You will know the Rome De Luxe by the Rome Quality trade-mark on the side rail—the trade-mark which identifies and certifies all Rome products. The Rome De Luxe is interchangeable—fits either wood or metal beds.
