The estimated valuation of the plant now owned by the Molalla light and power company of $7787.00 was accepted by the council.

This estimate was made by engineer Beebe, and is given as the net valuation. After deduction in depreciation. It is understood that the Molalla light and power company accepts this appraisal and that the city of Canby will take over the equipment at the above figure.

Two men, hit by "moonshine", were thrown through the windshield of a ditched coupe Sunday night.

The incident occurred on the new highway within our city limits. When a man bottles up "moonshine" instead of food, in the place where only food should be, he has no moral right to jump through the windshield of his car within our city borders, and spill his moonshine on our new road. We want to keep our new road clean. Presume his coupe was paid for.
