Make Oregon Safe for the Republican Party

RE-ELECT

Ralph E. Williams Republican National Committeeman

The Only Westerner Ever Elected Vice-Chairman of the Republican National Committee

Keep the West in Power

The Republican National Committee consists of one member from each state in the Union and is the political organization of the party.

In June, 1921, at the Committee's first meeting after the inauguration of President Warren G. Harding, every state cast its vote for Ralph E. Williams of Oregon for vice-chairman of the Committee, recognizing by their unanimous vote his fitness and ability as a leader to fill this responsible position.

A vote for Ralph E. Williams for Republican National Committeeman will confirm the action of the forty-eight states in electing him vice-chairman of the Republican National Committee, a position never before held by a Western man.

Ralph E. Williams of Oregon, as vice-chairman of the Republican National Committee, is directly in line to become National chairman, the highest position attainable in the Republican organization.

A National Committeeman on the National Committee does not make or execute the laws, but carries out the policies and platform of the party adopted by the delegates at each previous National Convention.

Mr. Williams is senior member of the National Committee. Seniority in this committee gives one the same power as seniority in the U. S. Senate.

age of my convictions, and the ability to ably present those convictions in your behalf in the State Senate. Delayed spring work on farm due to late spring will make it difficult for me to make a complete tour of county, so will use the press. Will try to speak at a few meetings whenever possible. RALPH WILLIAMS MAKES GOOD RECORD

Ralph E. Williams, Vice-Chairman of the Republican National Committee, has served continually as Republican National Committeeman from Oregon for fourteen years. As Vice-Chairman of the National Committee, Mr. Williams occupies a position second only in place and power to that of National Chairman, who is the leader of the Republican party of the United States. He is the first Committeeman representative of any Western state to have been elected Vice-Chairman of the National Committee.

Because of the recognized power of the Great West in National politics, as well as by reason of his seniority in service, Mr. Williams is logically in line for the Chairmanship of the Republican National Committee. He has an intimate acquaintance with every Republican leader, not only in Washington, but throughout the States generally. He is recognized as a powerful influence in the highest councils of his party; as a man who can, and does, meet the big men of the party upon an equal footing in shaping the destinies of the party.

CHERRICK FOR SENATOR

Reader, if you have a sense of humor and enjoy jokes, please read the Republican Voters pamphlet. (I said Republican because brother Woodbeck will probably say the Democratic pamphlet is all tragedy.) Kind voter, just notice that nearly all the would-be officials were raised, brought up on, and worked on farms. The thought struck me, friend, that if it's men with the farm aroma that is wanted, why not elect CHERRICK for Senator. He is a farmer now. Not a HAS BEEN. He was not entirely farm raised, but partly in a city and later a town like Oregon City. He has BACKSLID or FORWARDSLID to the farm.

Don't vote for me just because I am a farmer, but only because you believe I understand the problems of the 90 per cent. Because I am one of the masses. Because my convictions are yours. Because I have the cour-
