THE-PEOPLE'S SAY Oak Grove, May 15th, 1922.

Editor Banner-Courier: I told you so where was the police? It was told the taxpayers of Oak Grove that the ground would be policed and of course we believe everything we hear. The license was granted under the protest of a large number of the taxpayers and citizens of this district including myself as we knew what it would be. Last night (Saturday night) was the opening night and it was a fine affair. A lot of drunken sots and a good and free for all fight—sore heads—cursing and swearing and vulgar talk all night long and was as citizens had to listen to it. Who are the people that runs the things anyway? If that thing continues to run in that kind of shape our property wont be worth paying taxes onas people wont come in here and build homes and try to raise families in such a community. What will we do? E. D. OLDS.

The party has been on the road for three weeks, but visiting many interesting places while enroute. The trip from Chicago to Ogden, Utah, was made over the Lincoln highway, which was in good condition, but after arriving in Utah the party encountered heavy rains and covered in one day's time in that state was 75 miles. Mr. Browne says: "I have heard that it rained in Oregon, but if you had seen the weather we encountered in Utah, you would have thought it rained in Utah, for this weather we are now having is delightful. The party remained for three days in Utah, in Twin Falls, Idaho and several other cities. The party will remain in Oregon during the summer months, and say that many motorists are planning to make the trip as soon as weather conditions over the Blue mountains are more favorable. While in Canby they are making their temporary headquarters at the Cottage Hotel. Mr. Browne is a nephew of H. E. Browne, a newspaper man of this city.
