Noted Artist Trio to Appear Here
Steelman - Marriner - Taylor Company Will Be Delightful Feature of Coming Chautauqua

Three musical artists of more than passing note are Miss Miriam Steelman, Miss Leslie Taylor, and Mr. Guy Marriner, who comprise the Steelman-Marriner-Taylor Trio, to be enjoyed by Chautauqua music lovers the opening day. Theirs is an artist program in every sense of the word—a program of worth-while music, played in a way that bespeaks sound musicianship and most delightful artistry. Miss Miriam Steelman, is a real dramatic soprano, who has met with brilliant success in concert and oratorio work throughout the Eastern states. Miss Leslie Taylor is a student of the great violin master, Auer, and one of his exceptionally talented pupils. She, too, is a brilliant recitalist. Guy Marriner, pianist, is a young New Zealander, of whom the Sydney, (Australia) Herald said: "He is an exceptionally brilliant young pianist." At Chautauqua on the first day.

CARPENTER'S UNION ENJOYED PROGRAM LAST THURSDAY

On Thursday night last Carpenters' Union, local put on an evening of speechmaking, get-together, good fellowship entertainment. Moose Hall was the scene and the attendance 150.

C. O. (Dad) Young, general organizer gave an address free from controversial sentiment and of a helpful progressive nature.

The speaker declared that where the organization functions properly the highest type of morality and the best educational advantages are found. He urged all members to good citizenship as the first requisite in the organization.

Mr. Young declared in favor of those things necessary for intelligent study of present day problems, for the maintenance of attractive homes and for the desired type of physical development. He declared also that children should be born into the world surrounded by good homes as the initial condition to a successful life. To the Carpenters' Union he credited pioneer work for the present length of working day.

After the address there were some "walloping" matches which required considerable effort from the spectators to applaud.

For real snappy effort and even entertainment with a "punch" the speaker had the "wallopers" distanced a mile.

Opie Read to Be at Chautauqua
Lecturer, Author and Quaint Philosopher Will Discuss "Human Nature and Politics"

Opie Read is one of the arch-dreamers of America. His charm lies in his keen sympathy with, and his wonderful truthfulness to the life he describes. He is an inveterate story-teller, a quaint philosopher, and a man who has kept right up-to-date in studying the big problems that confront America and the world. His philosophy of life is humorous and wholesome. At Chautauqua, the fourth night, he will discuss "Human Nature and Politics," in his own, amiable style. Back in Chicago Mr. Read is the "grand old man" of the Chicago Press Club, a former president of that body, loved and admired by thousands of journalists and fellow-authors throughout the Middle West. He is the author of twenty-five books and innumerable magazine articles. The Louisville Courier-Journal recently said of him: "In painting human nature every stroke of his brush means the mastery of art."

The right foundation

The right foundation for successful painting is B-H Paints—permanent pigments, a base consisting of a combination of pure carbonate of lead and oxide of zinc, ground in refined linseed oil. Quality paints throughout.

Cheap paint is never satisfactory, the colors fade quickly, the paint wears off.

Start right. Use the B-H kind straight through the job from priming coat to finished surface, and you'll get a lasting finish that is the best insurance for any woodwork.

Made for over 60 years by the Bass-Hueter Paint Co. of San Francisco. Recognized everywhere as the "Paints of Permanence."
