LEADERSHIP

Some day there'll come an army strong, To fight for truth and conquer wrong. With ranks untouched by jealous blight 'Twixt creed and dogma, form and adrite, United righteousness shall stand In one unbroken loving band, For common cause of God and men. I wonder when!

Wrong's clarions, when their tones resound, Bring all wrong's force to common ground: Deceit, defilement, falsehood, all With hate respond to Evil's call. There'll yet be found the common field, A place in which God's forces yield Each to each his rightful share. I wonder where!

In all the hope of world's advance, Each man doth have his equal chance To lead the van with giant stride— Exemplar, swordsmen, master, guide! To the front shall spring the waited life, To hold love's banner 'midst the strife, And fight for all that's good and true. I wonder who!

This place is yours as well as mine,

If we obey the call Divine! Who leads must fearless move ahead, With poise of soul and certain tread. And yet we stay, and neither leads! We still contend, while duty pleads! We We argue on, though men shall die. I wonder why! (Copyright, Charles E. Whelan.)

Two special Southern Pacific trains carrying 351 tons of silk valued at approximately $5,600,000, left San Francisco on the evening of June 4, for New York. The silk shipment, the largest to pass through the port of San Francisco this year, came in on the Tenyo Maru, Nineteen special silk cars were used in transporting the silk.

It Can't Be Done

Every so often we read of the newspaper editor who starts out to tell the truth, and we note that he doesn't last long. Not that we want to discourage truth-tellers; on the other hand we merely want to say that you can tell the truth anywhere else but in the newspaper. The latter example comes from Southern Kansas, when an editor wrote the following about a wedding in his town. "Married, Miss Sylvia Rhode to Mr. James Canahan, last Sunday evening at the Baptist church. The bride is an ordinary town girl, who doesn't know any more about cooking than a rabbit knows about making soda water, and who never helped her mother three days in her entire life. She is not beautiful by any means, and has a gait like a duck. The groom has been a shiftless sort of fellow and a confirmed loafer, having lived off the old folks all of his life. They are going to have a hard life while they live together."

He told the truth, that Editor. But he had to catch the first train out of town.

It Costs You More to rot buildings than it does to let paint save them

CHECK the costs. Compare the prices of lumber and paint. They will show you how extravagant it is to allow buildings to depreciate for lack of paint.

And buildings do depreciate rapidly unless they are painted when they need to be. Paint saves the lumber. It protects your investment.

To enjoy the biggest saving in painting, use the best paint. It spreads more easily—saves labor cost. It covers more surface per gallon than "cheap" paint.

It serves five or more years longer than "cheap" paint. The best paint is most economical because it is scientific in formula and preparation. We have been making best paints for 73 years.

They contain the finest materials. Our white lead, for instance, is PIONEER WHITE LEAD. It is super-purified and ground so fine that it will pass through a silk screen with 30,000 meshes to the square inch.

So with the other materials—pure linseed oil, pure zinc and pure colors—all of the finest quality, combined in Fuller's Paint in scientifically exact proportions with long-time skill.
