Three Men and One Woman Taken In Raid—One De- troys Quantity of Booze

CAPACITY STILL 30 GALLONS DAILY

Location Of Cleverest Kind And Equipment Most Complete Ever Discovered In County

In the dense timber about nine miles east of Estacada in the upper Garfield section, Sheriff Wilson and his deputies found on Saturday last one of the most cleverly concealed as well as one of the largest and almost completely equipped moonshine outfits ever discovered in Clackamas county.

In an underground room about 16 feet square and ten feet high the manufacture of booze was in full progress when the sheriff and his deputies made their unannounced evening call. Pauch, one of the operators having been appraised, in some way of the approach of the officers, was found pouring the finished moonshine through the floor of the room.

The side hill location of the still was ideal and very cleverly concealed, the entrance being through under a log and covered in such a way as to make discovery most difficult.

The equipment consisted of pumping apparatus for obtaining water from the nearby creek, gas burners and barrels and other paraphernalia capable of producing 30 gallons of booze per day. 2400 gallons of corn mash, ten gallons of the finished products together with large quantities of corn and sugar were destroyed by the officers.

J. E. Hager and his wife Pauline also George Walsh beside Pauch were arrested and brought to Oregon City where the men were lodged in jail and the woman released under $250 bail. On Monday the men were bound over in bonds of $500 each.

E. T. BEVERLIN WINS OVER J. E. HEDGES IN SCHOOL ELECTION

Oregon City School District's Debt Increased To $125,240.56 In Clerk's Report

E. T. Beverlin, Mountain View grocer, with limited acquaintance outside the district where he serves his patrons, defeated J. E. Hedges, president of the commercial club, member of the board of "higher curricula," and director of the school board for many years, by a decisive majority of 77 votes in the annual election Tuesday in Oregon City school district.

The official count gave Beverlin 540 and Hedges 463.

Upon the reorganization of the board a new chairman will be seated. If the usual custom is followed and the member longest in term of service in the board is chosen, it will be O. A. Pace. The clerkship—a prerogative of the "Enterprise" since the mind of man runneth oft to the contrary, will be decided also at the first formal meeting of the board.

The clerk's report shows the district in debt $125,240.56. Of this tremendous liability, $45,740.56 is a floating debt on which six per cent interest is paid. The $79,500 bond indebtedness exacts five and one half per cent. The annual interest on the indebtedness is $7,116.93. The cost of the schools last year, according to the clerk's report, was $75,128.77, with an increase in the floating indebtedness of approximately $2,000.

OAK GROVE DANCE HALL IN LIMELIGHT AGAIN

Complaints against the Oak Grove dance pavilion last year, characterizing it as a place of moral debauchery, finally culminated in a petition to the county court to refuse the management a license for further operation.

This petition represented an overwhelming majority of the residents adjacent to the place and in Oak Grove.

Two members of the court granted the license basing their action on the claim that the conduct was not worse here than at similar dance resorts elsewhere in the county and that the sheriff's office would assign a deputy to patrol the place accordingly. "Jack" Frost has been deputized for this work and was on the job on Saturday night when more "fame" was added to the resort, resulting in the arrest of Jack Davis and Richard Zehfeld both of Portland.

Frost states that Davis forced himself onto the dance floor, drunk, and that he and the floor manager put him off and that the deputy then phoned to Wilson's office to send for him. Zehfeld was brought along with Davis but was not held. Davis was permitted to go his way under the tremendous burden of $25 bail, imposed by Judge Nobel.

Oak Grove residents declare that conditions at the resort are this year as last, a disgrace to the community and county and an insult to the residents who are forced to bear the vile language and vicious conduct of the place and its patrons.
