MT. PLEASANT

Yes we are all ready for rain, we are all busy making hay and getting ready for harvest. Some grain is good some not so good.

Mr. Hobbs has purchased a new binder.

Mr. Pleasant is well represented at the Chautauqua.

Quite a few farmers are planting late potatoes, the logan berries are a good crop, the acreage is great.

We have been looking and waiting to see that hard surface road the live wires promised years ago.

Wild birds are plentiful, quite a number of Peasants and quail have been noticed in good sized flocks.

Real estate is very quiet.

The beautiful display of flowers in the boxes on the Crown Willamette Inn Porch is attracting much attention from passersby.

Different farmers have different ways and means of caring for their barnyard manures, but suffice it to say, do not let it become exposed to the rain nor the sun; if possible, keep it piled up in order to prevent the escape of gases which are rich in plant food; as often as practicable, haul the manure to the fields, scatter and immediately plow it under.

A LETTER

(Irene S. Woodcock)

I'm only a poor little, brown little dog With a cold little, black little nose; But I'm writing to the best that I can With my five little, brown little toes.

I want to remind you that hot days are here.

And won't you remember to think, All you who have brown little dogs of your own.

And won't you remember to speak a kind word Just once in a while or so, To the small trusty dog who runs at your heels Wherever you chance to go?

For all of the brown little dogs that I know And all of the big dogs, too, Whether their color or name or kind, Are loyal and true to you.

They grieve for you sadly, if ever you're ill.

And long all your troubles to mend; I'm only a poor little, brown little dog, But I'm some little boy's best friend.
