

BONUS BILL PASSES SENATE WITH 25 MAJORITY

Amendments Added May Help Defeat Measure—Tariff Bill Sidetracked

FIVE OPTIONS GIVEN

Now Goes To Conference—Next Move Up To President Harding, Whose Veto Is Expected.

The senate has passed the soldiers' bonus measure sponsored by Fordney and McCumber. The vote was 47 to 22.

The next step is to send the bill to conference, after which it will be presented to the President for his signature. It is expected that it will be reported to the senate within ten days and will then go to the White House.

It is believed that the President will veto the measure, which may put an end to it, as it is considered unlikely that enough congressmen can be found who will pass it over his veto.

Two amendments, added by the senate, are among the features objectionable to the President. One of these is by Senator McNary of Oregon, and is a land option, and the other by Senator Simmons, providing that the interest on the allied foreign debt shall be used in payment of the compensations. Both may be stricken out in conference.

Under the terms of the bill the veterans of the world war may make application for either of five bonus plans—cash, paid up insurance certificates, farmer home aid, land settlement and vocational training.

The following was the line-up on the bill:

For—Ashurst, Brandagee, Broussard, Bursum, Cameron, Capper, Colt, Cullerson, Cummins, Curtis, Fletcher, Coffey, Gooding, Hale, Hefflin, Hitchcock, Jones of Washington, Kellogg, G. Kendrick, La Follette, Lenroot, Lodge, McCormick, McCumber, McKellar, McLean, McNary, Nicholson, Oddie, Pittman, Pomeroy, Ransdell, Rawson, Reed of Missouri, Robinson, Sienkoff, Shortridge, Simmons, Smith, Stanfield, Sutherland, Townsend, Trammell, Walsh of Massachusetts, Walsh of Montana, Watson of Indiana, and Willis.

Against—Ball, Borah, Calder, Dial, Dillingham, Edge, France, Frelinghuysen, Glass, Keyes, Myers, Nelson, New, Phelps, Reed of Pennsylvania, Shields, Smoot, Sterling, Swanson, Underwood, Wadsworth and Williams.

Hecker, convicted July 1st of the murder of Frank Bowker, was taken to Salem to await his execution, but upon appeal from the lower to the supreme court, was removed to the Multnomah jail pending final decision.

Autos Are Enroute. Considerable difficulty has been experienced during the summer by dealers in obtaining cars for the trade. Bishop Lloyd Will Preach. Bishop Lloyd of New York City will preach at the eleven o'clock service at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Sunday morning. Rev. Lloyd is one of the leaders in the church and a prominent figure at the great convention now in session in Portland.

CANBY TAKES OVER LIGHTING PLANT

At a meeting of the city council, held on Tuesday evening, it was decided to take over the electric light equipment of the Molalla Electric Co. by October first.

This has been under discussion at the council meetings for some time, and the purchase is the result of high rates established about a year ago, to which many of the people objected. It was a case of purchasing the interests of the Molalla Electric Co., or installing a new plant to supply Canby with electricity.

At a meeting of the city council the first of May it was decided to take over the equipment, provided the company would come to the city's terms. A later meeting was held August 7th, at which time it was agreed to offer the Molalla Electric Co. $7,787 for its holdings. This was accepted by F. G. Robinson, manager, provided $1,350, which the city of Canby has claimed as an equity in the plant, be eliminated. It was decided to eliminate this. Mr. Robinson has been manager of the electric light company for a number of years.

At the meeting Louis Lent was appointed chief of police of Canby.

The school, now under the name of "The Oregon Business College," is located in the Barclay building. Classes are in session every evening of the week, except Saturday and the outlook for a successful year is very promising.

POTATO OUTLOOK NOT ENCOURAGING

That the outlook for the potato market is far from encouraging, is the opinion of George H. Brown, Clackamas county king of potato growers and extensive shipper. While the crop may average fair, the prices will probably be low, is his statement, which is corroborated by heavy shipments and low prices everywhere over the country.

Oregon's production is not sufficient to affect seriously the markets outside the local communities of the state. The farmers and raisers will reap small reward generally from this phase of effort.

City Hall Muddle Will Go On November Ballot

Measure For Increase Number Firemen Will Be Voted On This Fall—Fourth Man Now Maintained.

The city hall matter became more entangled at the Wednesday evening session of the council. A petition demanding that the recorder place a measure on the November ballot, submitting the recall of the $35,000 issue of city hall bonds, was read.

No action of the council on this petition was necessary, however, as the initiative statutes make it compulsory for the provisions of a legally constituted petition to be carried out. At the previous election the bond issue was voted, a majority of 271 being polled for it.

The fact that the council a few weeks ago voted to submit the matter of a location to the voters at the general election, further complicates the tangle. This action was not nullified, consequently the voters will be asked, in November, to vote for or against the bond, and for either an up-hill or down-hill site for the city hall. In event the issue is recalled and a site chosen, the action is nullified, and in event no site is selected and the bonds are not recalled, then the same situation that now exists will continue.

Councilman Cross made a motion, seconded by Councilman Bridges, to instruct the finance committee to purchase the Caulfield property on upper Seventh street. Mr. Cross, who was one of the signers of the bond recall petition, stated that the circulators of this petition would withdraw their fight against the bonds, provided the Caulfield property was immediately purchased.

The city attorney and city recorder pointed out that the recall petitions could not now be withdrawn, also that none of the bonds may be sold as long as there is litigation. The petitions to recall the bonds were rejected by the council on vote, which action, however, does not affect the status of the measure to be voted on.

Action was taken to grant the petitions of the city's business men urging that a paid fire department of four men be maintained until the end of the year out of funds on hand, and that a measure be drawn up to be placed in the November ballot to give opportunity to the tax payors of Oregon City to vote an additional one-half mill tax levy, with which to maintain the department at the strength in the future.

The proposed ordinance which was intended to give to the Southern Pacific Company the right to extend the depot along Railroad avenue and into the intersection of Sixth street, was unanimously ordered laid on the table by the council.

UNION HIGH SCHOOL ENROLLMENT LARGE

The West Linn Union High school opened its doors for school week Tuesday morning, Sept. 5th, with 165 registered. Many students are working in the hop fields and on the farms, but will enter before the week is over, so that the total number will probably reach 200 before the second week has passed.

Actual school work began Wednesday morning with little confusion or conflicts, due to a new scheme used in registration.

A complete corps of ten teachers is looking after the school work, which has been organized in a very efficient manner. The students are all enthusiastic over the prospects of the new year, and are predicting this will be the biggest year in the history of the school.

Active work in student activities has already begun—about thirty aspirants are out for a place on the football team, and Coach Beattie will put them through a thorough training before selecting the team. Eleven members of last year's team will put on the mole-skins this week for light practice. Actual scrimmage will begin next week.

New typewriters and a Burroughs Duplex adding machine have been added to the commercial department, making it complete and modern in every respect. Additional machinery has been added to the manual training shop.

About twenty taxpayers, representing different parts of the county, attended the meeting. Plans were laid for a subscription list to finance the recall.

POLITICAL POT NOW SIMMERING IN THIS CITY

Candidates Are Being Urged By Friends To Make The Race

SHANNON UP AGAIN

Three Candidates Out For Office Of City Recorder—Petitions Are In Circulation.

With the idea of November approaching, there is heard the gentle simmer of the local political kettle. The wise dopesters are applying themselves to handing out, free gratis, the future results and conditions post election date.

James Shannon, for the past two years mayor, has announced himself a candidate for re-election. His petition is now on file. Mayor Shannon has made no effort to emphasize the spectacular, has been conservative—in the conduct of the city's affairs and his friends believe he is entitled to the honor of a second term and will be easily re-elected.

For city recorder there are three applicants—the present incumbent, C. W. Kelly—John K. Morris and R. E. Woodward. All of these men have been residents of the city; all have many staunch friends and the triangular contest will be interesting, as it will be lively.

U. convention, to be held at Clackamas, September 29th.

OREGON CITY AGAIN SUFFERS FROM BAD BLAZE

Upper Story of Bank Of Oregon City Guttered By Flames Saturday A. M.

BELIEVED FIRE SET

Offices Of O. D. Eby and J. F. Clark Ruined—Others Badly Damaged—Loss To Building Large.

Another disastrous fire has visited Oregon City, this time, as on other recent occasions, the business section suffered serious loss.

At one o'clock Saturday morning, special night officer Mass discovered smoke issuing from the second story of the Oregon City Bank building and gave the alarm of fire immediately.

Entire Building Damaged. The fire department responded promptly and within a short time had the flames under control, but not before the inside of the building, including the Clackamas Abstract Company office of J. F. Clark, the law offices of O. D. Eby and of Schuebel & Beattie, the real estate office of H. A. Heater, insurance office of E. H. Cooper & Son, and the rooms formerly occupied by Dr. R. S. Smith, had been seriously damaged by the fire, water and smoke. The offices of Eby and Clark were so charred and ruined by the water that both have moved into the Andressen Building, where they occupy rooms recently vacated by Dimick & Mulvey.

While the upper floor rooms were seriously damaged by fire, they were also damaged by water applied by the fire department. Books and furniture were badly damaged, but may in part be restored by new bindings and redressings. The fine law libraries of O. D. Eby and Schuebel & Beattie were badly damaged. The bindings only on the Clark abstract books were damaged.

The Oregon City Bank itself was injured by water, which flooded the floors and disfigured the mahogany wainscoting, the walls, warped doors and made redressing of the cages necessary. Neither fire nor water could affect the safety vaults or Corliss safe, the former enclosed in cement and steel and fire proof, the latter also fireproof and standing on a fireproof solid base.

The injury to the Oregon City Auto Company's stock was by water, which warped and discolored furnishings and equipment and rusted stock.

Estimates Incomplete. The losses have not been adjusted and even an approximation is difficult. J. F. Clark places his loss at $1,500, with no insurance; O. D. Eby, $2,000, with insurance; Schuebel & Beattie at $2,000, with insurance. The auto company makes, so far, no estimate. The bank, which owns the building, awaits the report of the architect now working on plans for rebuilding, before arriving at an estimate.

Incendiarism Suspected. The fact that night officer Mass detected the odor of burning oil upon discovery of the fire, together with other circumstances, has established, generally, the theory of incendiarism as the cause.

REPUBLICANS HOLD GET-TOGETHER MEET

Tonight occurs a get-together meeting of the Clackamas County Republican Central Committee, at the Paramount restaurant, this city.
