Health Exposition Meets In Portland This Month

The Oregon health exposition which will be staged in the Public Auditorium in Portland from October 26 to November 4, will be of interest to every man, woman and child in the state of Oregon. All that goes to promote health, welfare and happiness of the nations will be exhibited.

Two hours spent in examining the wonderful displays will provide a liberal education in what is being done for individual and community health, and how the individual, by simple means readily at hand, may improve the health and comfort of himself and family. The exhibits will be so graphic that the child will quickly grasp the fundamentals of health education as well as the principals of sanitation, safety and recreation.

The exposition is being staged under the joint auspices of the state board of health and the city health bureau of Portland. A large attendance is expected from the state as a whole, for this will be the first time that this exposition has been held in the west.

HUMANE SOCIETY PLEADS FOR OREGON RANGE STOCK

During the month the annual conference of the greatest American society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, will meet in annual conference in St. Paul, Minn. Delegates will be present from every state in the union. Col. E. Hofer of Salem, president of the Oregon society, will represent this state.

Reports and statistics are to be presented showing annual losses of five cents to the western ranges running into the millions—as high as three million cattle, sheep and horses perishing in one winter from starvation, lack of shelter and water—shocking national human cruelty.

The Oregon Humane Society has made a survey in some of the greatest cattle and sheep range counties, and the delegates from Oregon will present facts and photographs showing ruthless and reckless disregard of animals in many instances driven upon the sage brush ranges to die.

Mrs. Fiske, the great emotional actress, is making it her life work to arouse the federal and state governments to action to save these dumb friends of man from this suffering and torture of slow death in the snow banks and blizzards, where often herds and flocks are total loss.

WEST LINN UNION HIGH SCHOOL

An assembly was called Thursday morning, October 5. Mr. Gary made a few short announcements and turned the meeting over to the student body president, Venetia Rauch and Steena Miranda lived things up by giving us a few interesting selections on the piano. Jack Hempstead talked a few minutes on the future of the "Amplifier," and the remaining time was devoted to parliamentary practice.

A contest was on at Union High last week for the best name offered for the high school paper. Three names—West Linnetta, U. H. S. Megaphone and The Amplifier—were chosen by the committee and put up to the popular vote of the student body. The Amplifier was chosen, having been sent in by Dennis Keddy, who will receive a prize of one year's subscription to the paper.

The six weeks' tests were put off until the seventh week of school, on account of the teachers' institute. They will come up next week, however, with full force.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week will be holidays for the students of Union High, on account of the teachers' institute, held in the Oregon City high school.

Miss Mildred Charles, who was absent a few days last week on account of illness, has returned to school.

The Senior Class held a meeting last week to decide on plans for a party. There was some talk of inviting the Juniors and renting Leisman's hall in Willamette, but no definite plans were made.

At the teachers' institute, held in the Oregon City high school the 11th, 12th and 13th of October, Miss Helen Leathers and Mr. Beatie had charge of the physical training department.

The Juniors had a meeting Friday, October 6th, for the purpose of voting for class editor of the annual and a representative to the Student Council. Linn Parker was elected editor, and Jack Graw representative. The suggestion of a party was made, but no definite arrangements were made.

Completion of the Ashland-Klamath Falls road, better known as the Greens Spring road, probably will be left to the voters of Jackson county at the November election. Klamath county has voted $300,000 in bonds to be used to complete the road from Klamath Falls to the Jackson county line, and it is estimated that it will require about $75,000 to complete the remainder in Jackson county.

The New Oakland 1923 Series

The remarkable values evident throughout the entire 1923 Series of the New Oakland reach their full expression in the open cars. Selling for less than a thousand dollars, the Touring Car and the Roadster offer to the careful buyer a degree of powerful and certain, vibrationless transportation nowhere else to be obtained at so small an investment.

Sturdily built to give enduring and continuous service; powerful and speedy enough for any emergency; beautiful to look upon and comfortable to drive—these New Oakland models are cars quite apart from the ordinary in appearance and in performance.

No matter how widely you search the automobile market, nor how critical your exactions—inevitably you will come to the conclusion that the New Oakland Touring Car at $995 and the Roadster at $975 offer more genuine value than you can obtain in other cars at anywhere near their cost.
