NOT DESIRABLE IMMIGRANTS.

San Francisco: Among the passengers who arrived here yesterday by the German tramp steamer, Remus from the Orient were 47 Japanese, of whom 3 are women. They are of such a low class that Deputy Surveyor Gaskill and his assistants could not be certain whether they were Chinese or Japanese.

PRICE OF CATTLE RAISING.

Klickitat Leader: The cattle prospects and price of cattle is still on the rise. Last year stock cattle sold in Montana for twelve and fifteen dollars a head. We now see in the Butte Daily Miner that a large cattle deal was consummated in that state, Nelson Story selling his whole herd of 14,000 head, which are now grazing on the Crow reservation, to a company in which Mr. John T. Murphy, of Helena, is interested.

MOURNING FOR THAT WHICH IS NOT.

Salem Journal: R. H. Miller, formerly of Salem, but now editor of the Springfield Gazette, mourns the loss of a canvasser and several big dollars. A nice appearing young man struck Springfield a short time ago and the editor of the Gazette hired him to canvass for subscribers. He purchased a horse and outfit and sold them to the young man on time.

HAD NO MOSS ON ITS BACK.

Peter the Post, editor of the Klamath Star dishes up the stone man as follows: Smart Eugene folks lately put forth their best efforts to fool the old fossils of that region, but failed. They chiselled out a stone man, gave the face a fine touch expressive of the "treasury" watch dog, carted it to a lonely dell and subsequently dug it up and presented it as a cave dweller. But some of the organic remains of the last legislature examined it and pronounced it a fraud. It was too symmetrical and it had no moss on its back.

THE EDITOR'S TOUCHING APPEAL.

Bozeman Appeal.—An editor who had been pounding away at his delinquent subscribers for some time, finally brought them to their sense of duty with the following poetical parody: "Lives of poor men of remind us honest toil don't stand a chance; more we work we leave behind us bigger patches on our pants. On our pants once new and glossy now are patches of different hue; all because subscribers linger and won't pay up what is due. Then let all be up and doing; send in your mite be it ever so small, or when the snow of winter strikes us we will have no pants at all."

WENT TO THE SEA ISLANDS.

Capitol Journal: Frank C. Baker, the state printer, left last evening for San Francisco on his way to the Sandwich Islands, where he goes to visit his brother, Charles Baker. They have not met since 1872, and Mr. Baker expects to be absent about five weeks. Upon his return he will attend the convention of the International Typographical Union, to be held at Boston on June 8th. Mr. Baker states the work of the last legislature is very nearly cleared up, and during his absence the state printing office will be looked after by George Hibbert, of Astoria.

COMPARISON OF VALUES.

Astoria Bulletin: It is said that Sandy Olds, who murdered Emil Weber and after four trials was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary, is working side by side with a man who stole $20 and was sent up for five years. According to mathematical calculations the law which sent these two men to the penitentiary must have placed a value of four dollars on Weber's life as if it costs five years to steal $20, and one year to kill a man, the man must be worth one-fifth as much as the twenty dollars.

FLORAL EMBLEM OF OREGON.

Capitol Journal: The McMinville Reporter champions a new flower for the floral emblem of Oregon. It brings forward the wild currant, and advances arguments why it should be made the state flower for Oregon. For the journal the dandelion and lily are too common and lack in glowing colors. It wants a flower that is radiant, resplendent and brilliant in colors. It closes its argument by saying: "Give us the dazzling, the brilliant wild currant for state flower."

DARING ATTEMPT AT ROBBERY.

Baker City Blade: A daring attempt at robbery was made on the east-bound passenger train Saturday evening last. Three men attacked a passenger in the smoking car, who had $450 on his person. They succeeded in securing the money, but his cries attracted the attention of the conductor and several passengers who entered the car and made the robbers return the money. No arrests were made. The above happened between Union and North Powder.—Republican.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Eugene Register: The stockholders of the Myrtle Creek Consolidated Gold Mining Manufacturing Company held their annual meeting in this city last Saturday. The following directors were elected to serve the ensuing year: E. J. Davis, G. R. Chisman, L. W. Brown, B. C. Ward, of Salem, Evan Peterson. The directors then elected the following officers: Pres. L. W. Brown; Vice-pres., E. Peterson; Sec., A. E. Wheeler; Treas., T. G. Hendricks.

EXTENDING ITS LINE.

Grants Pass Courier: The Rogue River Valley Railroad Co. is talking of extending its line from Medford to Eagle Point, and on the completion of the road there we see no reason why a thriving and prosperous town will not grow up there.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

Eugene Guard: The commencement exercises of the University of Oregon will begin Sunday, June 14th, Rev. C. L. Corwin, of Salem, has been engaged to deliver the baccalaureate sermon, Arthur L. Frazer, of Portland, of the class of '82, will deliver the address before the University, June 17, at 7 p. m.

CAPTURED A TROPHY.

Astorian: John Harlan was in this office yesterday with a large gray eagle that he had killed on the corner of Main and Klaskanine avenue. The proud bird of freedom was sitting on the apex of a blasted fir when Harlan's rifle brought him down. He measured seven feet seven inches from tip to tip. He will be stuffed, and would be a good companion to the elk that goes to Louisville next month.

POSSIBILITIES OF GREATNESS.

Independence West Side: Many a writer of note has received his first lesson from becoming a correspondent to the country press. You may write for practice or practice to write, and the people of your village become interested in what you say. Thus you are encouraged to "press on" until, if you have talents in that line, after years of toil and hard study you may probably become an author or an editor.

RECORDERS REPORT.

To The Mayor And City Council of Oregon City. GENTLEMEN: The charter requires that I make a report at this term on the state of the city finances.

The only source I have to go to is the books in which the warrants are entered when issued. The warrants are cancelled in this book when returned by the treasurer. This book shows $24,685.18 of warrants uncanceled. Undoubtedly some small warrants never will be returned. There is outstanding $10,000 in bonds. This indebtedness is reduced by the amount of warrants cancelled by the treasurer and not yet turned over.

The ordinance providing for a water commission was read the second time, and passed. The following were elected as follows: T. F. Ryan, 3 years; Hiram Straight, 2 years; C. H. C. Caulfield, 1 year.

The city surveyor submitted his report of the survey of Seventh street, and an ordinance was read and ordered published establishing said grade.

The ordinance authorizing the mayor and recorder to sign lease of water right ground from the W. T. & L. C., was read the second time and passed.

Councilman Caulfield announced that B. Goldsmith, of Portland, had bid one-half cent premium on the Oregon City bonds.

On motion $309.27 remaining in the special fund, was transferred to the general fund.

An ordinance amending section 8, providing that peddlers of fruits and vegetables shall pay a license of $5 per month, was read the second time, and passed the second time. All the council voting aye except O'Connell and Trembath.

Committee on streets and public property reported favorably on the petition of E. E. and Mary Charman for a sidewalk to connect with the Clackamas Heights sidewalk.

The council canvassed the vote for city officers cast last Monday, and the mayor ordered certificates of election issued to the candidates who had received the required number of votes. Councilman O'Connell entered a protest against issuing a certificate to mayor elect T. W. Sullivan, claiming that he did not possess the qualifications of an elector. Mr. Sullivan being called upon explained distinctly that he had been a resident of Oregon City for twenty-five months, but the council refused to see it in that light, and when the matter was submitted to them to decide whether a certificate of election should be issued to Mr. Sullivan, they all voted No, except Charman. On motion the council adjourned until Wednesday evening.

TO PRESIDENT HARRISON.

Written by Miss Clara Ronald for THE ENTERPRISE.

Welcome, Mr. President! Thrice welcome are you here; Come, sit you down beside us, And taste you of our cheer. You've come a long and weary way, And need a little rest; So sit you down contented And be our honored guest. We'll give you of the best we have— The best our state affords; We've lots of other things here Besides some white pine boards. We may not raise the orange, Nor cultivate the lime; But we've something more substantial To occupy our time.

We raise the plumpest wheat, And make the whitest flour, And our crops are clean and neat, And our grapes are never sour. We boast of our potatoes, Our onions take the prize; Our orchards and our gardens, Are really a surprise. And then we have our rivers, That are teeming full of fish, All free to every comer Who loves that savory dish.

And many other things are here That much the list would swell; But 'tis no use for me to say 'T would take a day to tell. But look you, honored President, And see our squadrons come; They're marching to the music And beating of the drum. They hail you, Chief of all the States, United as in one; Each independent of the rest, Yet loyal as the sun.

With many million freemen Behind you, such as these, You need not fear a foe man From far across the seas. But see our banners flying, And hear our people shout With patriotic fire All along the route, O, is it for a man alone We make so much display And leave our work and beat the drum And dress our city gay?

O, no! it is not you alone That we so much admire; 'Tis the PRINCIPLES you represent That set our blood on fire. The right to Life and Liberty, We live now to enjoy; We feel 'tis ours by right, And none may it destroy. The right to seek for happiness In cosy, quiet homes, And eat the best we can afford Like kings upon their thrones.

Because you represent these rights We give you honor due, And while you guard them carefully You'll always find us true. LET US ORGANIZE A TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

EDITOR OF ENTERPRISE. Your generous and timely offer of space for a teachers' department should be accepted by the teachers of Clackamas county. It seems to me that we need some sort of an organization to bring the teachers together to consult and devise means for the better advancement of the schools of our county. Other professions and trades have their organizations, and why not the teachers of our public schools? In various counties of the state teachers have regular meetings for the purpose of discussing methods; for social improvement, etc.; and it seems to me that we, the teachers of Clackamas county, ought to keep abreast of the times. Let us organize a Teachers' Association, have regular meetings, and strive to stimulate professional pride. What we want is more enthusiastic teachers; teachers who are interested in the cause of education. It is true that the compensation received is inadequate, considering the ability required for a good teacher; but I recognize the fact that it remains for teachers to educate the people to the point of paying fair salaries. We must prove to the public that we are alive to the interests of the schools. We do not want teachers who are simply putting in time. We want patriotic teachers who will enliven the young with noble aspirations. Let us as teachers, employ every means, such as reading educational papers and books, attending institutes, etc., to improve ourselves. We shall then expect to receive pay proportionate to our work. I am willing to do what I can to effect the organization of a Teachers' Association for this county, because I believe the influence of such an organization would tend to advance the teachers and schools of the county. The teachers' department in THE ENTERPRISE might be made instrumental as a medium for furnishing information pertaining to the schools of this part of Oregon. We have but one educational journal in the state, published at Roseburg, and it appears to me that there are ample reasons why we should have a medium for the advancement of the schools in this and surrounding counties. Would be pleased to hear from some of the teachers of our county on the question of organizing an association. If an association is ever established I am sure it can be maintained. Yours respectfully, S. A. D. GURLEY, Oregon City, May 6, 1891.
