

MILK TESTING.

Dr. Farrington, of the Illinois Station, Manager of the E. H. Farrington has found the best way of testing the milk brought by each of the seven days of the week has found a way to test such milk can be neutralized and the rest. He writes of the Board's Dairyman:

"I have not previously and which have developed during the milk testing, are 1. The use of the automatic pipette for getting sour milk into proper proportion for testing. 2. The substitution of the automatic pipette for measuring the acid used with a tester.

Automatic pipettes have already been described in Bulletin 11 (Illinois examination), and since then the practical use of it has been clearly demonstrated and used. The use of a lead tube for the bottle of acid with the automatic pipette, which was formerly suggested, which has an outside diameter of 5/16 inch, and an inside diameter of 1/8 inch, and is made with rubber tubing or hose, and is at least 3/16 of an inch thick, and is wired to the lead tube and is well set up, this makes almost an airtight connection for those who have used it in other places where milk testing is done continually. It keeps the acid from being used in a closed bottle, thereby avoiding contamination or dilution of the exact quantity of acid into each of the automatic, and there is very little spilling of the acid on the hands or clothing.
