ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—George Young of John Berreth a mowful of straw was delivered early last week. The terms of the bargain are said to have specified that the straw should be hidden in the mow only sufficient to show it away properly. However, while the straw was being delivered in Mr. Berreth's barn he thought it was not being packed tight enough so he gave assistance in treading the straw in the mow. To this proceeding Mr. Young assented. Thereupon Berreth threatened to implead upon a pitchfork whomsoever should interfere with his occupation in making a compact mow, and when the mow was seized he undertook to apply a leather argument whereupon Young rebuffed him on the jaw, so it is alleged. Berreth invoked the aid of the law and the case was heard by Justice Paine Monday. It was a jury trial and after all the evidence was in the six hours wrestled with the matter till late at night when, there being no hope of agreement upon a verdict they were discharged. The jury was evenly divided between conviction and acquittal. The county pays the costs.

BURNEY VS. THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC.—Last week W. T. Burney began a suit against the Southern Pacific railway company to restrain it from selling certain land in this county which he purchased some time ago. The complaint recites the history of the land and states that plaintiff bought from defendant some 1666 acres of land in Clackamas county, embraced in said tract, which is now worth $12.50 per acre. He paid for a part of the land and has to have time to pay the balance. It is alleged that the company now demands that he pay this balance at once or it will cancel his title, and sell the land to someone else. He asks that an order be granted restraining the railway company from selling the land during the pendency of this suit, and also that the company's title, be canceled and the land revert to the government. Judge Deady granted an order citing the defendant to appear and show cause why the injunction asked for should not be granted.

CROPS IN THE PALOUSE COUNTRY.—Rudolph Hesseltine, writing to the Enterprise from Fairfield, Spokane county, Wash., says: "Threshing is two-thirds done. Weather, windy, cold and wet, with frosts at night. Crops from Spokane to Garfield in Whitman county are considerably below the average. In the vicinity of Garfield, Colfax, Palouse City, Pullman and Uniontown in Washington, and Moscow, Genesee and the Potlatch country, in Idaho, crops are generally better, but not near so good as last year. Wheat sells here for sixty-three to sixty-eight cents a bushel, oats, seventy-five cents per 100 lbs. The Northern Pacific and the Pacific Elevator company are doing a very slim business this season owing to the immense warehouses and other facilities the Farmers alliance has built along the lines of the Northern Pacific and Union Pacific railways throughout the Palouse country."

CLACKAMAS SCHOOL CHILDREN.—According to the report of Superintendent Thomson filed with the state superintendent of public instruction the number of children of school age in Clackamas county, March 1 was 6415 of whom 4337 were enrolled on the records of the county schools. Only four counties in the state—Multnomah, Marion, Lane and Linn—had greater numbers of school age and only Multnomah, Marion and Lane had greater numbers enrolled. The total number of school children reported in the state was 106,172; number enrolled 72,322.

A NEW POULTRY YARD.—E. Parker is fitting up one of the finest poultry ranches in the state of Oregon on the west side of the river. He has had experience in that line of business and is spending considerable money in providing every facility for raising and keeping all kinds of poultry. He will give much attention to breeding fowls for fanciers as well as to the more practical branch of providing poultry products for the market.

CARS ON THE CROSSING.—There has been considerable complaint lately about the frequent infractions of the ordinance prohibiting trains from standing on crossings more than five minutes. In a few cases cars have obstructed the crossing at the station all night making it very inconvenient for those who live on the bluff. The volume of railway business handled here of late has made it practically impossible to observe the strict terms of the city ordinance but the completion of the new side track is expected to afford the desired relief in handling trains and there will no longer be any necessity for obstructing crossings.

While the new track was in process of construction most people submitted to the inconvenience without grumbling but hereafter the police will keep an eye out for railroad men who carelessly violate the law.

WILLAMETTE VALLEY PRUNES.—The harvest of the Willamette valley's prune crop for 1901 is just about finished, and from carefully prepared estimates it is judged to be perceptibly larger than last year's crop. Many new orchards are bearing this year for the first time, and their product, added to the average crop in the old orchards, brings the total output up to a handsome figure. The growing of prunes in Oregon is a success, and their cultivation may be expected to increase from year to year for many years. Clackamas county has many acres of fine prune land. Oregon prunes command good prices everywhere, and they have thus far proved themselves a sure crop. The indications are that next year there will be five times as many prunes raised as there was this year.

OSWEGO TO BOOM.—It is reported that the town of Oswego is shortly to have a boom. A newspaper and a bank are understood to be among the enterprise to be established there. It is also said that an electric motor will connect Oswego and Portland. Oswego has the largest manufacturing establishment in the Northwest, the smelter and pipe works of the Oregon Iron & Steel company. It is also one of the oldest towns in Oregon. The old hotel standing on the river bank is said to have cost $30,000 and a commonplace structure it is, too. The lumber in it was manufactured in the state of Maine and brought around Cape Horn early in the '40's. It is now a boarding house for the iron men.

A GENUINE CANTILEVER.—The big cantilever bridge which is being built across the Willamette river at Albany is under the supervision of Frank J. Miller, clerk of the board of railroad commissioners, who is the engineer selected by the city to superintend the construction of the bridge, which, when completed, will be the only cantilever bridge in the state. The structure, with the exception of the floor, will be entirely of steel and will be 2,000 feet in length. The central span is to be 400 feet long and three others will be 300 feet each. The entire work of putting it in place, together with the material, will cost $100,000. It is expected to have the structure completed by January 1st.

OREGON CITY MANUFACTURING COMPANY WINS.—Last Friday the case of the Oregon City Manufacturing company vs Contractor John Martin and his sureties E. J. Jeffrey and George Ham was tried in Portland. The company made a contract with Martin to build the addition to the woolen mill here and it claimed that in order to complete the building according to the plans and specifications under which Martin was working it had to expend $845 after Martin had quit. The company got a verdict for $750.

A NEW TOWNSHIP TO BE OPENED.—The survey of township 1 south, range 6 east, has been approved and it will be put on the market next Monday, October 19. This township consists of some of the finest timber land in the Cascade foothills and it is comparatively accessible. There will undoubtedly be a brisk demand for tracts in the new township.

When we use perfume we certainly should use only the best; and judges of perfume—good judges, you know—say there are only four or five perfumers who make the best—that is, the very best. There are a dozen good ones, but only a few best. The best is what you all want in perfume if in anything, particularly when they cost no more than the next best. Connoisseurs say that Palmer's, Wright's and Stearn's are the best, a complete line of which you will find at Caulfield & Huntley's Pharmacy.
