

A GLORIOUS FOURTH

THE FALLS CITY WILL CELEBRATE IN A FITTING MANNER.

A Day of Patriotic Fun in the Parks—Big Fire Works—Illumination of the Falls.

Next Monday will be a great day in Oregon City. It will be a real Fourth of July, not merely a holiday.

For several weeks preparations for a proper celebration have been in progress. A great deal of work has been done and done well. Portland will have no celebration to speak of and thousands of people from that city will spend the day in Oregon City. Boats will run hourly between the two towns from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m. The trains will have extra facilities for carrying big crowds. The up river boats will bring hosts to the Falls City to celebrate. It will be a large day for Oregon City.

In the oak grove at the west end of the suspension bridge a considerable part of the day's exercises will occur. It is a most attractive place. The procession will pass under an immense arch at the east end of the bridge that is now being put in place. There will be unrivalled advantages for witnessing the contests on the river and on land. The base ball game and some of the races will take place on the bluff on the east side on account of the superior accommodations for them there.

The electric wires were this week strung across the falls for the illumination Monday night. This feature of the celebration is alone sufficient to bring a great crowd of people to Oregon City. The display will be magnificent and novel. The vari-colored lights on the roaring cataract, the search lights, colored fire and fire works will make a scene of indescribable splendor. Twenty thousand people can have an unobstructed view of this spectacle.

The program for the day appears below:

BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS

James Chase Erecting New Structures—The Park Place School House Etc.

James Chase is having extensive improvements made about his place on the bluff. He put up a neat cottage on Center street which will be occupied by the Huntley's. The house cost about $1800. It is of an attractive style of architecture and conveniently arranged.

Another cottage has been built over by Mr. Chase and made good as new. It will be occupied by Mr. Salesbury's family.

Mr. Chase has also built a fine stone barn on his residence property. The structure is one and a half stories high and 25x32 feet on the ground. It is so well built that Mr. Chase's family is living in it while extensive changes are being made in his residence.

The changes being made in Mr. Chase's home include the building of a three-story addition 16x40 feet on the south side and the building of a three-story tower on the northwest corner. A mansard roof will be put on the whole house. The entire interior is being rebuilt and remodeled, first story will be finished in natural hard woods. This improvement will cost about $5000 and it will not be completed till about the first of November.

M. E. Willoughby's cottage near the foot of the Falls View stair is completed and it is an attractive addition to the homes of that locality. It costs about $1000.

H. M. Foote has taken the contract of constructing the new school house at Park Place. The foundation is already completed and cost about $800. The contract price for the superstructure is $3200. The main part of the school house will be 34x40, two stories high, with a T 16x34. The building will have four school rooms and it will be the finest school house in the county. It will not be ready for use before the first of October.

THE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

What the Teachers who did not go Missed.

The Clackamas county teachers' association held its regular meeting for the month of June at Union, one mile east of Damascus last Saturday. One feature of the meeting worthy of notice was that since the organization of the association, July 1891, there has never been gathered to welcome the teachers a larger or more enthusiastic audience of patrons of the schools and many were the expressions of disappointment by those assembled that the number of teachers present was so small.

The meeting was held in the M. E. chapel which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion by three young ladies of Union. The dinner was one feature of the meeting that will never be forgotten by those who had the pleasure of partaking. As team after team drove up to the school house in the morning and handed out basket after basket of the choice delicacies that the good wife could think of; and after all had been spread on the festive board in the shade of the fine fir grove surrounding Union school house, one and all joined in an exclamation of "What an abundance!" The cordial invitation of all the providers to "fall in" was responded to with alacrity by all of the teachers. Not one left the table without having hungrily appeared as indeed it would have been impossible to have done, for invitations to have some more, were being constantly poured in from all sides, and it may be truthfully said that all did justice to the dinner which had been so liberally provided.

This was the last meeting over which Superintendent Thomson will preside. Since the organization came into existence Prof. Thomson has done all that human power could do to make it a success and the result of his work is apparent in many a school where teachers just beginning the good work have been benighted by the experience of older heads. All members of the association regret the loss of Superintendent Thomson as presiding officer but hope to still retain him as an active worker, knowing that his fertile brain will always have something new, interesting and instructive for the teachers. In old times it seems to be thought that a medicine must be nauseating to be effective. Now, all this is changed. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one of the most powerful alteratives, is agreeable to most palates, the flavor being by no means medicinal.

The Hop Market.

Cablegrams to Mr. Osborne from three different growers in England dated last Friday all agreed in the following statement of the condition of the hop crop:

Our hops look only middling; vice is backward, weather has been unkindly, a good deal of fly and lice in places and some people are spraying. From present appearances we will not grow more than half to two-thirds of a crop.

From a dealer in London the following cablegram was received:

Since you left there has not been much alteration in our market. Brewers only buy just what they want. If hops were pressed for sale less money would have to be taken. Nothing is doing in old hops. The reports from the plantations are generally favorable. Vine is well up the poles; no flies or lice worth speaking of.
