COURTS.

Circuit court convenes first Monday in November and third Monday in April. Probate court in session first Monday in each month. Commissioners court meets first Wednesday after first Monday of each month.

The way to build up Oregon City is to give Oregon City people your patronage.

SPRAY OF THE FALLS.

County court is in session this week.

Don't forget the board of trade meeting next Monday night.

Lou. Doolittle is recovering from the effects of his gunshot wound.

One price to all and all goods marked in plain figures at the Park Place store.

J. S. Courtney M. D., physician and surgeon, room 5 and 6, Charman block.

Full stock of lubricating oils, best and the cheapest at Seventh street drug store.

School department cards one cent each, good for term, at the ENTERPRISE office.

Furnished rooms and board in private family. First door back of Commercial bank.

The board of trade will consider the matter of advertising next Monday evening.

Take your babies to the New York gallery and get a good picture while you have the chance.

Who keeps PURE PREPARED PAINT? Why! Charman & Co., City Drug store. Sample cards free.

It will pay you to call early and secure one of those school suits at the Park Place store. They are selling like hot cakes.

Keep your canary bird healthy by using clean, pure seed for sale by Charman & Co., druggists, at ten cents a package.

Marriage licenses were issued this week to Catherine P. Wheeler and J. Harless, and Maggie A. Linn and Chas. E. Martin.

Now is the time to prepare your windows and Charman & Co., City Drug store, have all sizes of glass. Special sizes cut without extra costs.

Just arrived from New York over 100 Boys and Youths suits at the Park Place store. Just think, we can sell you a good school suit for your boy for only $1.25. Come and see them.

About 1700 badges will be required for the school children of the county Columbus Day. There is now money enough collected for only little more than 1000 of them.

Just opened at the Park Place store twenty cases of boots and shoes which we are selling equally as cheap as you can buy at any bankrupt sale. We buy direct from the manufacturers.

Now is the time to paint as the rain had laid the dust and Charman & Co., druggist have the only PURE PREPARED PAINT on the market and thirty-two elegant shades to choose from. Special rates on large quantities.

Mrs. H. S. Caswell of New York, secretary of the Woman's Home Missionary Union of the United States and editor of the Home Missionary Magazine, occupied the pulpit of the Congregational church last Sunday morning.

Two features of this year's assessment in Clackamas county are, first, the Oregon Iron & Steel company may pay taxes on about $46,000 instead of covering its entire valuation up with indebtedness; and second, J. S. Purdom pays a tax on one dog valued at $50.

City Attorney Cross had to redeem a horse from the pound last week. He was very glad to do so, however. The animal had strayed away and its whereabouts had been unknown for a long time. He considered the $2.35 he had to pay the poundmaster a small fee for the recovery of the animal.

Pope's hall last Tuesday evening was crowded with people who were interested in having a free public reading room opened. There was a pleasing program of music, several short addresses were made, a constitution was adopted and a subscription paper started. Mr. Brownell was ill and Mayor Sullivan presided in his absence. The reading room project is a sure thing this time.

A WEDDING AS WAS A WEDDING.

Marriage of David H. Close and Lizzie E. Scollard at Park Place.

Quite a ripple was raised on the placid surface of the Park Place and Gladstone society circle, which widened as such ripples only can till they burst and surged against the walls of Oregon City and called forth many of its prominent citizens. The event which crowned such a stir was the marriage of the popular railroad man, David H. Close, with Lizzie E. Scollard. Both parties had a wide circle of acquaintances and a large and enthusiastic assembly awaited their arrival at the new school house at Park Place, where the ceremony was to take place. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Gilman Parker, who tied the knot with the utmost grace and dignity. The couple appeared on the scene about 8:30. The bride wore a close fitting gray dress which set off her figure and dark complexion to perfection and she carried in her hand a beautiful bouquet of white roses.

The bridegroom looked the picture of manly dignity, and happiness beamed from his twinkling blue eyes. It was evident he was taking a partner that he was proud of. The bride was given away by Grandpa Straight.

After the knot had been tied firmly in good old Episcopalian style the 200 guests present were invited to adjourn to another room where a long table literally groaned with roast chicken, sandwiches, etc., etc., not to speak of the wedding cake, and I don't suppose that all the books in the world would contain the dreams that were dreamed over that same cake. Suffice it to say that every body was well supplied and congratulations poured in on the happy couple. The bridegroom literally reveled in the company of his guests. After supper dancing was in order and the light, lustrous toe continued to beat a gentle tattoo till the wee small hours of the morn.

In the meantime the Willamette Silver Cornet band arrived and played serenade after serenade. The bride and groom were very much pleased and presented the band with $15 to get supper with. Everything has an end and everybody was sorry when the small hours of the morning warned them of the approaching Sabbath and one by one they disappeared in the gray dawn of morning, casting back many a wistful look at the scene of their recent festivities.

BUSINESS CHANGES.

The Postoffice Shifts its Location—Williams & Burghardt Dissolve.

Thursday afternoon of last week Postmaster Rands got a telegraphic message permitting him to move the postoffice to the room in the Commercial Bank block formerly occupied by A. J. Lawthwaite. The removal was effected Sunday and the office is nicely settled in the new quarters which are much neater than in the old building.

G. W. Rich also removed the remnant of his tobacco and confection stock to the store on the opposite side of the street, a part of which was occupied by Mrs. Rich's fancy needlework shop, where he is closing it out.

The Odd Fellows, who own the building the postoffice was moved from, are cleaning up and refitting it and have given a five years lease of it to Burmeister & Andersen who will occupy their new quarters about the 20th of this month.

C. O. T. Williams and W. H. Burghardt, who have been doing business under the firm name of Williams & Burghardt, dissolved partnership Tuesday. Mr. Williams retains his old location near Caulfield & Huntley's drug store and Mr. Burghardt has removed to the front of the postoffice, occupying the south side of the room.

The Western Union telegraph office will remove to the north side of the room in front of the postoffice soon as permission from the superintendent shall be obtained.

In view of the prospective vacation of the store now occupied by Mayer & Arkesman several parties have been trying to rent the place but no lease of the property has yet been definitely agreed upon.

The Parting of the Ways.

Wilkins and Watkins were college chums and close friends. They had been hard students and had taken little out-door exercise. When they shook hands and had said goodbye, at the end of their college career, they were in impaired health. Both had dyspepsia, liver troubles and troublesome coughs.

Wilkins had plenty of money, and decided to travel for his health. Watkins was poor. "I must go to work for my living," said he, "but I'll try the remedy that Robinson talks so much about—Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery." In less than two years, Wilkins came home in his coffin. Watkins now in the prime of life, is a bank president, rich and respected, and weighs 250 pounds. "The Golden Medical Discovery" saved my life at a critical time," he often says. Oh, if poor Wilkins had only tried it! For weak lungs, spitting of blood, all lingering coughs, and consumption in its early stages, it is an unequalled remedy.

Garfield Roll of Honor.

GARFIELD, Oct. 2.—School at this place has been in session four weeks. There are thirty-one pupils enrolled. Those pupils who have been neither absent nor tardy during the month beginning September 5th and ending September 30th are: John Miller, Lloyd Yocum, Lee Yocum, Archie Yocum and Leona Krigbaum.

MYRTLE E. TAYLOR, Teacher.

Card of Thanks.

CANBY, Or., Oct. 2.—I desire to thank the people of Canby through your paper for their kindness in our late bereavement, especially Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, Millard Lee, and Jas. Hodges. JAMES SUTER.

Weakness of sight is frequently the result of general debility. When the blood is impoverished every organ and sense suffers. As an effective, powerful, and economical tonic-alterative, Aves' Sarsaparilla may be relied on every time.

FELL OVER THE BLUFF.

A Child Goes Down about Seventy Feet and Survives.

Carl, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Moore, fell over the bluff at Fourth street Tuesday afternoon and was seriously but not fatally injured. The boy was playing about the edge of the bluff where boards cover over a cleft in the brink of the rocks, and a fence prevents the possibility of anyone falling over the edge accidentally. The girl in charge of the child says he was intent on following up and watching some ants and that one of the boards slipped, or gave way in some manner, letting the youngster fall down the face of the cliff. The fall, as nearly as can be estimated, was about seventy feet, broken about half way down by a projecting ledge of rock moss-grown on top.

The girl descended the steps and tried to reach the child but could not get up to his landing place on account of the steepness and looseness of the rocks. She then went to the harness shop to inform Mr. Moore but before he reached the scene a traveling man had seen the boy crying and rescued him from his still perilous situation.

Dr. Carl was at once summoned. He made an examination of the boy and found there were no bones broken though there were several quite severe bruises. The worst of these are on the left arm and on the right leg. There is also a slight bruise on the cheek, but the skin is not broken. The child did not lose consciousness at all. Dropping from such a height down the jagged face of the rocks it is little short of a miracle that the boy was not crushed to death.

Councilman White Has a Word.

OREGON CITY, Oct. 4.—[TO THE EDITOR.] As ex-Councilman Wilkinson desires a public statement from me I will say for the public enlightenment if it is necessary, that I never ran on any issue previous to my election to the city council. I asked no one to vote for me. I did not expect to be elected. I never said in public that I was elected on the cow issue. I did say that many in both wards spoke in favor of restricting cows from running at large and that I believe Mr. Cooke and others of the city council were of the same opinion about election time. I thank the citizens of the second ward for their confidence in me as shown from the result of the last election. I am not convinced that they want their cows and horses roaming about town, to the disgrace and annoyance of the general public and our citizens generally. I have frequently driven cows off the walks in order to let school children go on their way. I have done a similar service more than once for ladies.

When I lived in Iowa I noticed that in villages of two and three hundred inhabitants, to say nothing of the incorporated towns where I went to school and worked, that the cows were driven out by some one hired for the purpose and returned at night. And, strange as it may appear, it paid financially. This is a better grazing country. Why won't it pay here? It is worth while trying. The interest and energy displayed by a few of our people in fighting the so-called "cow ordinance" is worthy of a better cause. Other evils exist here that need remedying. W. A. WHITE.

Be Your Own Master.

Few people appreciate how much their impressions, their whims and impulses, and in fact all their mental energy depends on the harmonious action of all the vital organs. A poorly digested dinner may make one quarrel with a friend. A congested liver may bring imaginary gloom and trouble into the sunniest day. A rheumatic pain may keep you from business or work and entirely change some marked out policy. A few doses of Moore's Revealed Remedy will give tone to every function and make you enjoy your friends and your work.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

An Indiana Man is Saved by a Discovery. A remarkable case has occurred in our territory. J. N. Berry, a man about thirty years of age, was going down rapidly. He tried physician after physician, patent medicines, home receipts—in fact, everything. He went to a noted sanitarium and returned no better. We all thought he was dying with consumption, and that only a few weeks of life were left for him.

He commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and at the same time commenced to rest. He has used about two dozen bottles, and is still using it. He has gained in weight, color and strength, and is able to do light work. It is just such a case as we should have listened to rather suspiciously, but when we see it, we must believe it.

It has trebled our sales of "Golden Medical Discovery." JOHN HACKETT & SONS, Druggists, Roanoke, Ind. "Discovery" strengthens Weak Lungs, and cures Spitting of blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections. Don't be fooled into taking something else, said to be "just as good," that the dealer may make a larger profit.
