

Captain J. L. Smith of the steamer Modoc which runs upon the upper river says that the breakwater which the electric company placed across the river the past season raised the water so far up as Ash Island where in extreme low water it increased the depth fully six inches, while at Polalla bar opposite New Era it added 15 inches to the depth, thus making boating much safer and better. The change at Rock Island is very marked both at low and high water reducing the danger of passage fully one-half at all stages. Other captains fully agree with Captain Smith in the statement that upper river navigation has been greatly improved. It is not surprising that it helped the river at low water, but that it should render Rock Island less dangerous at high water is a matter of considerable importance and quite a surprise to river men.

OF INTEREST TO YOU!

What the ENTERPRISE has to Offer--The Best Paper for the Least Money of Any in the State.

In order to give a more general acquaintance with the merits of the ENTERPRISE as a newspaper and to introduce it into every home in Clackamas county, it will be sent on a trial subscription until March 15, 1893, for 25 cents.

The ENTERPRISE will be made of special interest to its readers during the next few months. The proceedings of congress, now in session, in view of the present political complications, will be of vital interest to all. A special effort will be made to report them in full for the ENTERPRISE. The Oregon legislature, in session during January and February, promises to be of unusual interest. The most important legislation and radical changes in the laws of the state, attempted for years, will be enacted this winter. Every resident of Clackamas county should keep himself posted as to what is done. The ENTERPRISE will have an experienced reporter in attendance during the entire session, and complete reports will be given each week of all bills introduced, including the publication of those of interest to Clackamas county, and a report of the speeches and votes of our senators and representatives on all important measures. No county paper in the state will give the legislative news as complete as the ENTERPRISE.

As a local paper the ENTERPRISE has few equals in Oregon. Its corps of correspondents cannot be excelled. It gives the county news, city news, circuit, probate and county court and city council proceedings, real estate transfers, correct market reports and a synopsis of the news of the state and nation. Send 25 cents in coin or stamps for a trial subscription. Paper promptly stopped at expiration of subscription unless otherwise ordered.
