HUNG BEFORE TRIAL.

The Extrapatse has published numerous onto the fails later. resolutions from various parts of the county condemning the county court for various and sundry acts. These resolutions have in the main copied after the first set which were published in this paper, and it is not necessary or wise to take up valuable space each week reiterating the same

When the first set was published we said it was but fair to give the new system. which the court has deemed best to adopt, a fair trial before condemning it. The conrse pursued by those objecting is calculated to bring the plan into disrepute before it has been tried. These resolutors would hang a man and afterwards have the trial, which is manifestly unfair to the party

For forty years the old plan has been tried time to try some other plan for securing good roads. As the roads which we now and when the service will warrant their have are as bad as they well can be, we are not likely to be any worse off than we are at present, and with a fair trial of the new plan we stand a chance of having much helped to improve this county by encour- around. aging the building of better highways. This is no time and Clackamas county not the take. Something has got to be done, and they were laboring under a misconception when it has been tried and proved a failure, provement over the old way. They say plan which at best has been a failure.

In estimating and ordering the improvement on Main street the committee and mark of truth and wisdom in the course council should take into consideration the of a speech in Boston last week. Washington street, Portland, is already giving out under the steady strain of constant travel, and unless the coating be renewed within a short time that fine thoroughfare will speedily fall into discrepte and disuse. The experiment is likely to prove an expensive one for the property owners of Washington street and it is not desirable that it should be repeated in Oregon City. Vitrified brick, which is the material selected, is without doubt good and substantial, provided the brick be thorshall be lasting. It is part of construction.

WHILE it seems hard lines that the proprietors of the boat line, which has done much towards building up this city and practically secured for it cheap fares to Portland, should now find its business sadly crippled by the completion of the motor line which is now largely patronized to the exclusion of the boats, we believe that with the exception of a present loss the ultimate good health. result will be such an increase of trade between the two cities as will give to both lines a good patronage and adequate return upon their investments. Each will find business much increased and both will be important factors in building up a city here which will support both.

THE, "Cross road law" has met with such general approval throughout the state and particularly the Willamette valley that its Baker, Mrs M E condemnation by the resolutors of Highland savors of something rather more than an interest in progressive road buildang, which is the most crying need of thin county today. The laws passed at the recent session of the legislature relative to road matters are in the main good, and such as have the merit of having stood the test of ariat, the Cross law among the rest.

TO CORRECT AN ERROR.

Several years ago townships six and seven sorth, in range three west, were improperly surveyed and thrown open for settlement. Settlers who filed on land therein had to employ a surveyor to run their lines as the government surveyor did not do his work | parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lehman, properly. The filing of the plats and usual ofice recently published are not intended to interfere with settlers or, der the former Ulling of the plats, but simply to correct er- grafting and budding near Mount Tabor. The register of the Oregon City land office says concerning this matter:

In the matter of the filing of the township plats of towns six and seven north, in range three west in this office on April 4th and 11th, 1805, I would state that said plats are evidently to correct the surveys previously made of said townships. As it appears on Entered at the Post Office in Oregon City, Or., the records of this office that said townships were previously platted, and there is but very little public land in either township that will be subject to entry upon the filling of the maps above referred to.

> THE proposition of J. W. Potts to go over the records and list all lands to which the county has a shadow of claim was an extremely modest one, inasmuch as at every tax sale for years past the county has bid in a large part of the property advertised for sale simply because no one had confidence enough in the law governing tax sales to risk his money. Should the list be made it is not likely that the county could collect one with a light attack of the grip. We have half the amount of the bill for compiling which would probably be about one tenth of same complaint. the valuation of the county. A soft snap that contract would have been, surely.
