On Saturday last the friends of Miss Myrtle Watson gave her a surprise party. The young folks enjoyed themselves with interesting games until 10:30 when dainty refreshments were served. They then continued their games and pleasures until 11:40 when they dispersed.

If you don't find it in the Tribune Almanac don't waste your time in sending for another searching for other imitations of this great statistical register. The Tribune Almanac is everywhere acknowledged to be the best, and it has the merit of being absolutely authentic—an item of the greatest importance when you want to refer to statistics. It is the handiest and completest volume of reference published and is brought down to date, and all for 25 cents. Address The Tribune, New York.

CLACKAMAS COUNTY TEACHERS.

Interesting Meeting With Good Attendance and Instructive Exercises.

The Meeting of the association held at Harmony on the 25th inst was especially interesting and successful, a large number of the patrons of Harmony school were present and manifested considerable interest in the proceedings. We are pleased to have all who are interested in school work meet with us feeling sure that such meetings can not fail to be profitable to both parent and teacher.

Messrs. G. Swope and W. G. Beattie, Miss Rowen, and Mrs. Wise were elected to membership.

Prof. Thomson with the aid of several obliging pupils of the district, gave a specimen of his method of teaching penmanship. He took the class to the blackboard and gave them a drill in the formation of several letters. This practical way of illustrating methods is to be commended.

Miss Edna Ross in her talk on "Method of Teaching History," laid stress upon the necessity of the instructor thoroughly knowing the subject under consideration, and to this end advised a large amount of supplementary reading. This may be applied to nearly every subject with which teachers have to deal.

In methods of teaching geography C. E. Pease advocated as the best way of teaching location, surface, slope drainage etc. suggesting that as far as practicable maps series be drawn on the same scale, in order to show comparative size.

J. R. Nelson then opened the subject of grading country schools and spoke briefly of the advantages to be derived and the difficulties to be met, remarking that although a most desirable condition he feared there were too many obstacles to be encountered, and could not see how it could be brought about. He was followed by Miss Rowen, Miss Ross, Mr. Garry and Mr. Pease who thought that it was possible to grade country schools and that the difficulties were not so great as they appeared. Prof. Thomson hoped it could be done and would do all in his power to forward the movement, but had little faith in its success. Mr. Garry then offered the following resolution which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we use our efforts individually and collectively to secure grading of the country schools in Clackamas county.

Messrs. Starkweather, Rusk Phillips and others made a few pleasant remarks very encouraging to the association.

The following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That the thanks of the association be extended to the good people of Harmony for the excellent entertainment provided for us and for their encouraging words and presence.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Oregon City and the following program was arranged.

Death of B. F. Burch.

Benjamin Franklin Burch formerly of this city breathed his last on Friday morning at Independence Oregon of heart failure. He was 68 years of age, having been born in Missouri, May 2, 1825. He had been sick for nearly a year, but on Thursday he was feeling so much better that strong hopes were entertained of his recovery Friday evening a relapse came and he suffered paroxysms one after another until morning, when he passed peacefully away, apparently without pain.

B. F. Burch figured prominently in the early history of Oregon. He was one of the leading democrats of the state for many years. He came to Oregon in 1845, crossing the plains. Arriving here a young man of 20 years, he took up a claim on the Yamhill river, in Polk county, but later abandoned it and took one two miles south of Independence, which he and his wife, who survives him, partly owned at the time of his death. It was in 1848 that he married Mrs. Eliza A. Davidson, and seven children were born to them, only one is now living, B. F. Burch, jr. who is in Independence now.

In 1857 he served as a member of the constitutional convention in the territory of Oregon, which met at Salem. His services were recognized in forming our government by being elected a representative in the Oregon legislature of 1868. Afterward he was elected to the senate, and was president of that body during his term of office. He was appointed receiver of the land office at Oregon City, in 1897, by President Cleveland, and served almost through Harrison's term of office. Although occupying many positions of trust and receiving salaries in proportion, Mr. Burch leaves only a moderate estate, which his only son and his widow inherit.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurl, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles; it has cured me and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at G. A. Harding's drugstore, regular size 50c. and $1.00.

The Women's Exhibit.

The energy manifested in many parts of the state in preparing exhibits for the World's Fair has not communicated itself to any appreciable extent to Clackamas county, which could if she wished to, make a most creditable exhibit within herself. The women of the state are making a special effort to make a creditable exhibit of women's work and have issued the following call:

"The Women's Department of the Oregon World's Fair Commission is now advancing the work as rapidly as possible, and as the time for collecting the exhibit to be made at the World's Columbian exposition is limited, all persons interested in securing a creditable display in the line of the work of Oregon women are earnestly urged to lend their assistance and co-operation in accomplishing this result. To this end, those who possess articles coming within this department are requested to place themselves at once in communication with the superintendent.

The women's exhibit at Chicago is intended to be an inspiration of woman's genius, showing the evolution and progress of women's industries from the earliest times to the present. It is desired that Oregon shall have a representative exhibit in this department, comprising the work of women in the fine arts, household economy, and the products thereof, charitable, and philanthropic work inaugurated and carried on by women, books written by women, fine needle and fancy work, curios and rare specimens collected by women, and their work in all the varied occupations in which they are engaged; also as far as possible, statistics as to the amount of women's work, whether wholly or in part, that enters into every exhibit, and interesting data concerning the same. Persons wishing to make exhibits in this department should communicate immediately with the superintendent, Mrs. Mary J. Train, Albany, Oregon.

My wife was confined to her bed for over two months with a very severe attack of rheumatism. We could get nothing that would afford her any relief, and as a last resort gave Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. To our great surprise she began to improve after the first application, and by using it regularly she was soon able to get up and attend to her house work. E. H. Johnson, of C. J. Knutson & Co., Kensington, Minn. 50 cent bottles for sale by Geo. A. Harding.
