Married, in Oregon City, Oregon, on April 3, 1893, at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. G. Wm. Giboney, Mr. George Marr and Miss Mary L. Andrews. Only the immediate family was present at the ceremony. The young couple are well and favorably known here, and have the best wishes of a host of friends for a long and happy voyage through life.

The plans for the new passenger station and Electric Company's offices are prepared and builders are going over them for the purpose of making up their bids, as the contract is to be let on Monday. The main building is to be two stories high 30x65, built facing the river, with the end down stream. The lower story will have a waiting room in the central part, while at the north end will be fitted up for rail road and land office and the south end as an electric office. A telephone room will also be supplied, and all furnishings will be of the most modern style. The upper story will be fitted up with very neat living rooms which will probably be occupied by H. Z. Burkhart. Besides this building there will be two smaller neat wood buildings adjoining into which passengers can go to get aboard the cars without going out of doors. The whole structure will be very neat, convenient and ornamental when done.

Easter at the Churches.

In spite of the inclemency of the day Easter Sunday was generally observed by the churches which had made preparations for the day by numerous artistic decorations, and special exercises of some sort.

WITH THE CONGREGATIONALISTS.

Easter was celebrated by Easter anthems, calla lilies and a characteristic sermon on the "Incarnation of Christ in human lives" notwithstanding the heavy rain in the evening delegations of Christian Endeavor came from Portland, Milwaukee, Park Place and Mountain View to visit the Endeavor society after which Rev. Mr. Dougherty delivered an eloquent address to young people on the difference between choice and desire." Mr. Dougherty's sermons are eminently educatory.

AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

For four days before Easter the ladies of St. John's had been busy each afternoon decorating the altar and church, till on Sunday morning it appeared resplendent with fair flowers and evergreens. First mass and holy communion were celebrated at 8 o'clock, followed by a German sermon. At 10:30 o'clock, solemn high mass was celebrated and an English sermon preached. Grand solemn vespers were celebrated in the evening. A specially attractive feature of the services was the excellent choral service with full orchestral accompaniment. One of the best features of the musical service was an overture composed by Dr. Schubert.

WITH THE PRESBYTERIANS.

Not much in the way of specially prepared services was undertaken at the Presbyterian church, but the room was neatly decorated as a simple reminder to the congregation that the day was one of more than ordinary significance to church people and, the exercises of course referred to the event and its importance to the Christian world.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Was elegantly decorated partly in honor of the day and partly in the way of a wordless welcome to the new rector who was expected to conduct the service for the first time on Sunday morning. The altar and pulpit were lovely with their wealth of ferns, evergreens, white petanias and jonquils, while a profusion of beautiful calla lilies lent their grace and purity to the artistic arrangement. Two neatly fashioned arches, an anchor and cross with a rich profusion of flowers scattered about the church completed the arrangement. Unfortunately the elements conspired to prevent the congregation of St. Paul's from listening to the voice of their new rector, Rev. J. A. Eckstorm, in the impressive Episcopal service, and he did not arrive till Monday. The morning services were conducted by H. L. Kelly and no evening service was attended.

Father Hillebrand Denies.

To THE EDITOR—Dear Sir:—Please allow me some space in your esteemed paper for the publication of an item contained in the Sunday Mercury and showed to me by a certain gentleman of our city. Have also the kindness to publish my comments on said item.

"Oregon City has in its midst a young lawyer, who is evidently emulating the example of Talleyrand by keeping a diary in the hope that when he wins fame and honor its publication will be as anxiously awaited as that of the great diplomat. The youthful attorney is not, however, exemplary in his conduct and does not hesitate to visit places where sin, sorrow and pleasure combine. Last week the young man changed his clothes but forgot his diary, so that when his mother made up his room in the morning, she observed the book, and glancing through its pages, was horrified at the depravity of her darling boy. She is a devout Catholic and made her son confess to the parish priest."

Thus far the item in the Sunday Mercury. At first I did not intend to reply to so curious an item, as upon a little inquiry I found out that the incorrectness of said article was generally known in Oregon City. It soon occurred to me, that sooner or later perhaps some one having read aforesaid item might cast a slur upon me or my congregation and therefore it might be the wiser course to show everything in its true light.

For the benefit of the general public I therefore most emphatically deny, that there resides in Oregon City or adjacent country, a lawyer or even an aspirant to the bar belonging to my congregation. In the second place I hereby state, that above mentioned lady, the mother of said young man, is neither a Catholic nor ever has been to my knowledge.

In the third place, that said young man came to confession to me, the parish priest, I being the only one in Oregon City, and even if he had done so, though no Catholic at all, I should by no means have divulged whatsoever might have been confided to me, moreover I would consider such conduct unworthy a man of honor and self respect.

Yours truly,
A. HILLEBRAND,
Rector of St. John's Church,
Oregon City, April 4, 1893.

Grove Prince.

Farmers and teamsters are beginning to appreciate the advantage to be derived from breeding and rearing good horses and especially heavy horses, which cost but little more for raising than scrub stock. Grove Prince was imported from England by the celebrated breeders Galbraith Bros. of Janesville, Wisconsin, and is beyond doubt the finest horse in the state of Oregon. He is of a dark brown color and stands about 16 1/2 hands high, being very muscular and blocky; short, clean legs well feathered; strong broad bones and possesses both great strength and substance; has sound constitution, good temper, magnificent action, and he has proven himself to be a good foal getter. He is of pedigree stock, No. 961 American and 5088 English. He will be at Noblitt's livery stable in Oregon City Tuesdays and Wednesdays until noon where he can be inspected and his pedigree noted. E. K. Jones of Fulton is the owner of this magnificent horse.

Resolutions of Respect.

To the worshipful master, wardens and brethren of Multnomah lodge No. 1, A. F. & A. M.

Your memorial committee, instructed with the preparation of resolutions, expressing the sentiments of this lodge on death of brother L. H. Calkins, respectfully submit the following:

On the 25th day of this month, the spirit of our beloved and honored brother L. H. Calkins took flight from its earthly tabernacle. Death, in pursuance of the unalterable law of nature, has gathered to her fold, one who in all his life never wronged anyone knowingly, who was not envious of the prosperity and honors of others, who never spoke unkindly of anyone and who lived an honorable and upright life. One who was not weary of living nor afraid to die.

The brethren who knew him will always retain loving remembrances of him, and speak kindly of his memory and regretful words for his absence.

We honored him in his lifetime, and with feelings of fraternal affection, softened by sorrow, would gladly pay a fitting tribute to his memory, therefore,

Resolved, That in the death of brother L. H. Calkins, his daughter was deprived of a loving father, his neighbors a true friend, this lodge an honored and worthy member, and the community an upright citizen.

Resolved, That we recognize in the life of Brother Calkins, those noble qualities, a constant effort to dare and do right. Where others faltered or failed, he gained strength to rise, and in the sorrow we feel at his departure is mingled something of the triumph that he feels in the great unknown.

Resolved that we offer our heartfelt sympathy to his loving daughter in the grief that she must feel in this separation; while we kindly call her attention to the joyous reunion on the other shore.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved daughter, given to the Oregon City ENTERPRISE and the Oregon Courier for publication, and that they be engrossed on the records of this lodge.

THOS. F. RYAN,
PETER PAQUET,
GEO. F. HORTON,
Committee.

Resolutions of Respect.

WHEREAS, Our beloved Comrade John O. Wetherell, a worthy member of Meade Post, No. 2, G. A. R. has fought honorably the battle of life and having been mustered out and gone from our ranks, joining the great army that has gone before us. Therefore be it

Resolved, That we hereby honor and memorialize his loyalty to our country, his bravery as a soldier in its defense, his uprightness, as a citizen, and his fraternal charity as a comrade and a member of Meade post.

Resolved, That we especially admire the brave fight that he made in his last battle against disease and death, and though he fell in the conflict, he fell with his face to the foe

Resolved, That we tender our deep and sincere sympathy and respect to the widow and children of our deceased comrade.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be placed in the records of the post and a copy be given to the family of the deceased.

By order of Meade Post No. 2, G. A. R. at its regular meeting Monday, April 3rd, 1893.

WM. RUSSELL,
