There is no element so necessary to good times as confidence in the monetary system. With this, and a belief that the credit of both the nation and the individual is good, and there will be no trouble about hard times or scarcity of money. That it is to the interest of all persons except speculators to maintain a feeling of absolute safety not only at home but abroad is evident. It matters not if money be twice as abundant now as at any former time, if those who have it prefer to keep it locked up where they at least know that their principal is safe even if they do not receive interest thereon, it will not help to keep the wheels of progress oiled and running. To do that it must be in circulation and be obtainable at a low rate of interest so that the actual user can afford to pay for its use, but confidence is necessary to this condition of affairs. The Northwestern Financier says: "Despite our heavy gold exports there is about as much money in the country today as one year ago, and the stock of gold is not so low as indicated by the visible supply. But sentiment is nervous, and an increase in the visible supply is probably necessary to a restoration of confidence. Again, the present conditions lead to the hoarding of funds, particularly gold, but this money will again come into circulation when the government shows itself to be the master of the sit;

AMERICAN INVENTIONS IN INDIA. Something of Interest to all Americans. A Calcutta letter says that American in ventions and discoveries are fast displacing the older ones of English manufacture in the Indian Empire. Thus, a few years ago, the American harvesters and respers were en-tirely unknown, where now there are many. The American teicphone has been introduced in most of the large cities. Stranger than in most of the large cities. Stranger than all, the old-fashiened, huge pills are fast giving place to Dr. Pierce's Plensant Pellets, or "P. P. P.," which were first introduced in London some years ago by their American proprietors. Every Englishman who enjoys good eating, must have his dimercall and preprietors. Every Englishman who enjoys good eating, must have his dinner pill, and it is not unusual to see distinguished persons draw from their wastecats a tiny little vial of these Pellets, and take one with their wins.

After taking one you feel well instead of hilious and constipated: your sick headache, dizziness and indigestion are grome. It's done mildly and easily too. These are tiny, sugar-conted but thorough in results. One Pellet's laxative, three to four are cathartic. They regulate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels—quickly, but thoroughly. They are guaranteed to give satisfaction.
