A PLEASANT VISIT.

LAST Thursday the family of J. M. Findley of New Era enjoyed a most pleasant visit and reunion with some of their relatives and friends from San Francisco. They had previously received a telegram from them stating that they would try and stop on that day and in compliance with this promise part of the party which numbered 16 all told came up on the morning local from Portland and were met by Mr. Findley who drove them out to his pleasant farm east of town where they spent the balance of the day reviewing old times. At one o'clock the rest of the party who had stopped to look about Portland came up as far as Oregon City from where they took teams out to Mr. Findley's place arriving late in the afternoon. They could only remain a short time as they had to get back to town in time to have their special car attached to the overland going south that evening. The party left their home in San Francisco the last of March, since which time they have visited New Orleans, Washington, New York, Boston and Chicago where they attended the World's Fair, besides numerous other points of interest. Those constituting the party were, R. H. Pratt, Assistant Superintendent of the Southern Pacific R. R., a half brother of Mrs. Findley's, accompanied by his wife, Mr. E. J. Lillis, wife and daughter, Mrs. Sherman and son Robbie, Mrs. Porter, of Maine, and Miss Carrie Pratt.

THE GOVERNOR'S PET.

The stove plant at the penitentiary has been put in operation by its recent purchaser, the state. About forty men—all old hands practiced at the trade—were at work in the moulding room. Convict bosses having charge of ten men each have been chosen, and they wear white caps to designate their authority. Under their direction, everything was moving forward like clock work in this big room, capable of accommodating some eighty-five men. The finishing room had been started up, and the hum of machinery made it look lively. They had just put on the trucks to take the shipping room the first complete stove manufactured under state supervision. In another room some steel ranges were being finished. They were working on an order for thirty of these, and ten of them will be completed in time to ship tomorrow. The nickel plating room will be ready for work today. The fact is every department of these great shops is getting into running shape—and they will be ready very soon to turn out stoves at the rate of 30,000 a year—and will go so if a market can be found for them. The system of credits for good work will be the same as under the rule of the company that owned and operated the works for the ten years prior to last January—giving each convict from 20 cents to $50 a month. The works, in full blast, will employ some 225 convicts and about a dozen free men.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES.

The Grand Army boys are arranging for appropriate exercises on Memorial and Decoration days, and have invited the other fraternal societies of the city to join with them in making the exercises attractive and successful. A committee of the post consisting of G. A. Harding, S. B. Cahill and C. H. Dauchy has charge of all arrangements and are planning for an attractive program which will be announced later. An orator for the occasion they have secured the services of H. H. Northup, late past commander, who will prove himself fully equal to the task.

FISHERMEN LEAVING.

For the last two or three weeks the chinook salmon have not been biting the nets very numerously and the fishermen have been making preparation to pull out for the Columbia where they will fish for chinook and blue backs. They would have been away ere this but as one of them said they knew that there were one or two salmon left here yet and they thought it best to clean them out so that none of them would be guilty of trying to scale the governor's fish ladder.

RECEPTION TO MISS ACKERMANN.

Last Friday afternoon the hospitable parlors of Mrs. Clinton Latourette were thronged from 2 o'clock till 5 at the W. C. T. U. reception in honor of Miss Jessie Ackerman, the celebrated writer and speaker. Among the guests may be mentioned Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. C. O. T. Williams, Mrs. E. E. Charman, Mrs. N. O. Walden, Mrs. H. E. Cross, Mrs. G. E. Hayes, Mrs. J. W. Noble, Mrs. J. W. Noble, Mrs. Geo. H. Brownell, Miss Brownell, Mrs. C. H. Dye, Mrs. Donaldson, Mrs. E. Cahill, Miss Nora Cahill, Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Marr, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Slight, Mrs. Block, Mrs. G. Parker, Mrs. Seaver, Mrs. Gaul, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Driggs, Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. H. L. Kelly, Misses May and Miss Kelly, Miss Porter, Mrs. Godbould, Mrs. McGehean, Mrs. E. B. Andrews, Mrs. F. Andrews, Mrs. Caples, Mrs. Warnock, Mrs. Muir, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Carey Johnson, Mrs. LaForest, Mrs. Meldrum, Mrs. Jennie White, Mrs. E. M. Rands, Mrs. Cocks and Mrs. Moresse. In the evening this talented lady addressed a large audience on the "Women of Asia." The magnificent courage and diplomatic tact displayed by Miss Ackerman has been applauded by the press of the entire country. At the close of the lecture $75 was contributed for the education of child widows in India, a subject in itself well worthy a lecture. This branch of the W. C. T. U. work has made a deep impression on the high caste Brahmins and bid fair in time to undermine the pernicious system of child marriage.

PIONEER ANNUAL REUNION.

A circular letter from Geo. H. Himes, secretary of the Oregon Pioneer Association states that the next meeting is to be held in Portland but the date is not given. Plans are being made for a good time and nothing but the absence of pioneers will prevent this being a most enjoyable occasion. Those who were present two years ago will remember the special feature of the evening of Pioneer Day. The auxiliary committee of Pioneer Ladies of this city are preparing something similar this year, but even more interesting, so that those who are not present will miss a rare treat. Reduced rates have been secured over the Southern Pacific Co's lines, and it is believed that other lines entering Portland will grant reductions. Hon. N. L. Butler, of Dallas, Polk county, has consented to deliver the annual address, and Hon. Seymour W. Condon, of Eugene, Lane county, the occasional address. All who came prior to 1855 may become members and those having relics of pioneer life of any kind—cooking utensils, farming implements, looms, spinning wheels, old letters—anything used in pioneer days or brought across the plains—are earnestly requested to inform the secretary of the fact. The purpose of this is to secure a permanent collection of such articles for the association and to make a feature of each annual reunion. A number of articles have already been secured; among other things a wagon that was brought across the plains in 1852 will be on exhibition.

READING ROOM MEETING.

On Saturday evening there was a well attended meeting of the reading room officers and contributors. In the absence of the president E. G. Caulfield, Dr. W. E. Carll was elected chairman. The reports of officers showed the affairs of the society to be in a fairly prosperous condition with the receipts just about equal to the expenses. Were it not for the fact that some debts were contracted in getting the room on its feet the officers would be more than encouraged as the reports relative to attendance show that the room is well patronized. In order to relieve the secretary from a portion of his arduous duties he was authorized to employ the person in charge of the reading room in helping him to make collections, and a vote was passed allowing the collector 25 per cent of all subscriptions which he secured over $50 per month. The meeting discussed the advisability of giving an entertainment at an early date to provide funds to enlarge the scope of the work being done and it was decided to have a sort of lawn party at the west end of the bridge about the time that the station is completed at which will be served refreshments interspersed with lively toasts and literary exercises, but more of this matter later on. The committee on arrangements consists of Dr. W. E. Carll, F. S. Kelly, F. E. Donaldson and J. P. Shaw.

SPORT AT THE FALLS.

The back water from the Columbia has reached the stage so ardently longed for by the expert angler, when he can take his place on the island and engage the wily trout upon his hook and then wrestle all over the rocks with him in his arduous endeavor to take him in out of the wet, and this he styles sport. Anyway this is what anglers are doing these fine days with a fair degree of success. The first of the season were caught on Saturday, the lucky man being Mr. Christie of Portland who caught four, the largest of which weighed six pounds. Old fishermen are confident that the spoon fishing will be much better this season than it has been for years, owing to the high water which is almost certain to come. Scarcely a day passes now that the sport is not good. In addition to the line fishing it is expected that many fine young fish will be taken by dip nets just below the falls.

O'CONNELL & GLASS, The One Price Clothiers, Hatters and Furnishers.

WHAT WAS IT?

The Ironworker contains this account of a queer aquatic animal recently captured near Oswego: "J. M. Likes informs us that on Monday in P. F. Morey's private park, a Chinaman captured a peculiar fish in a small surface stream running into a gulch. The fish resembled a catfish somewhat, had fine and everything to proclaim it a member of the finny tribe, was thirteen inches in length, but a curiosity to those who saw it. It had two fore and two hind legs 1 1/2 inches long with claws. The intention was to preserve the fish but John Larsen had cut off its head. Inside was found a good-sized frog. Mr. Likes could not give it a name, never having seen any of that family before." This was probably some marine animal sent out by the monsters of the deep to inspect the governor's fish ladder.

SPECIAL POUCH SERVICE.

Last Thursday Assistant Superintendent of the railway mail service, F. W. Vaile of Portland was in the city in consultation with Postmaster E. M. Rands relative to the advisability of establishing pouch service between this city and Portland. The result of the conference was that on Monday evening an order was received directing that a pouch be sent to Portland each morning on the 9:30 train containing Portland mail and stating that a pouch would be left each evening by the 6 o'clock train. This arrangement will be a great convenience to business men as it will enable them to write to Portland in the morning and receive an answer the same day either in the way of goods ordered or by letter. This will give three mails each way daily.

STATE FLORAL SHOW.

Under the auspices of the State Horticultural society there will be held sometime about the middle of June at the Industrial Exposition building in Portland, a flower show which will last three days. Various premiums are offered, ranging from five dollars up to fifty, the sum total amounting to several hundred dollars. As flowers greatly beautify the home and exercise an improving agency, this show is calculated to do much good. It will also prove very attractive to all lovers of the floral kingdom. For full information relative to prizes address Mrs. M. E. Shafford, secretary, Portland, Or.
