GLADSTONE.

What do You Think of It?

A party in search of a desirable location for a home, would have to walk one-half hour from the east end of the suspension bridge in Oregon City to find a lot for $200 and up hill at that. You can walk 30 feet and take passage on a splendidly equipped electric motor car and in six minutes for 25¢ be landed in the handsomest suburb in the world, where you can buy a better lot for $150, $20, down $10 a month.

On Tuesday, Hon. Geo. C. Brownell received a telegram from New York stating that his mother who has been in poor health for some time had died that morning and the funeral would occur on Wednesday. Mr. Brownell who has not been feeling well for some days was quite prostrated by the sad news.

GENERAL WADE HAMPTON HERE.

The Noted South Carolinian Catches Salmon at the Falls.

On Tuesday morning Mr. Koehler of the Southern Pacific, telegraphed their agent, L. B. Moore at this place, that General Wade Hampton and party would be here in the afternoon to try fishing for salmon at the falls, and he at once spoke to several of the leading gentlemen and best fishermen about town to make such plans as they thought would insure to the General and party a pleasant time while here. Acting upon this suggestion Dr. W. E. Carl, E. E. Charman and E. R. Charman procured a carriage and provided fishing tackle so that there might be no delay, but the special train which was coming from the south did not reach here till after 4 o'clock at which time it was met by a delegation of citizens who were glad to welcome so distinguished a person to the city.

Such members of the party as wished were soon enroute for the falls where most of them fished from the rocks on the island, but General Hampton was taken in a boat which was anchored just below the falls where he soon hooked a fine salmon which he played for twenty minutes before he could get him to the side of the boat and then unfortunately the line broke leaving General Hampton without any fish, but then he had experienced all the excitement incident to fishing for the king of fishes except the reward gained by a successful landing. As the General is an enthusiastic fisherman he was delighted with the sport and declared his intention of returning on Wednesday to take his fish in out of the wet if he could possibly arrange his business so as to do so.

General Wade Hampton is a member of the interstate commerce commission and is making a thorough examination of all of the subsidized roads of the Pacific coast. He has been on the Southern Pacific lines since the 27th of last month and is just completing his work on that line. The party was here under the direction of Mr. W. G. Curtis, assistant general manager of the Southern Pacific railroad. The party consists of the following named persons: General Wade Hampton, Miss M. S. Hampton, Miss Lucy Herndon, Miss Virginia T. Long, Miss A. H. Haskell, Chas. E. Thomas, W. G. Curtis and wife, Newton Foster and wife, D. R. Sessions, W. M. Thompson and Frank Jaynes.

General Hampton has for many years been a prominent figure in the state politics of North Carolina and in national politics, having filled creditably many positions of honor and trust. He is now 75 years of age but aside from the loss of one leg which causes him to walk somewhat lame, he is still a fine appearing and well preserved man and considering his age and crippled condition gets around with remarkable agility and appears to enjoy life thoroughly.

Successful Surgical Operation.

Last Tuesday Frank Kruse went to Portland to have an operation performed upon him which should reduce the accumulation of fat which had been becoming more and more a burden. Dr. O. W. Yeargan of this city was present and telephoned up as we were going to press that the operation had been successfully performed at St. Vincent's hospital and that a fatty tumor weighing about forty pounds had been removed from his abdomen and that Frank had stood the operation remarkably well. In operating, it was necessary to make an incision almost three feet long, but the physician who used the knife and those assisting him think that it will heal readily and that their patient will get along nicely. Frank himself sent word to the Enterprise after the operation that he was feeling first rate.

An Invitation.

The Presbyterian young people cordially invite you to spend the evening of Tuesday, June 27 at Shively's hall at which time and place they will present a well arranged musical and literary program and serve delicious refreshments. Some novel and highly interesting features will be introduced. Program at 8:30; admission 25 cents.

General Wade Hampton spent the greater part of Wednesday angling for salmon at the falls in company with Dr. W. E. Carl and Sidney Smyth, and although the fish were not taking the sport very lively he found the sport enticing enough to keep him there most of the day and had the pleasure of taking to his special train two fine young chinook which weighed 10 and 15 pounds. The General is an ardent fisherman and enjoys the sport immensely. He found the pull of a 15 pound salmon as enjoyable and exciting as any experience of his life with the finny tribe.

After a four week's trip through the East during which time they visited most of the largest cities and many points of interest, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Caulfield returned to their home last Sunday morning somewhat tired but well pleased with their trip.

Ernest and H. A. Rands returned from Forest Grove on Wednesday accompanied by a fellow student at Pacific University.

Clean rage wanted at the Enterprise office suitable for wiping presses. Highest price paid.

THE FOURTH AT GLADSTONE.

Big Preparations for a Gala Day at that Place.

Arrangements are now well in hand for observance of the natal day at Gladstone where Oregon City will go this year to enjoy the day. The grounds which are as pretty as any to be found in the state are being cleared off and will include many acres of woodland and glade park where it will be a delight to spend the day especially as the exercises games and sports will be of a character to please all no matter what their tastes may be. As a fine lot of prizes have been secured for the contestants in the several games some exciting contests are to be expected. The prizes include handsome sterling silverware of elegant design and finish and those who wish to see them may do so by stepping to Huntley's drug store where they are on exhibition.

The committee on speaker have secured the services of the Hon. Thos. H. Tongue who is too well known to require any eulogy of his oratorical talents. A ringing, patriotic speech is insured, one that will be a real treat to hear.

Miss Fannie G. Porter has consented to read the Declaration of Independence and Rev. Gabriel Sykes will act as chaplain of the day.

The committee is planning to have a fine exhibition of fire works in the evening which will be ahead of that given in this city last year so that take it all around those who go to Gladstone for a day's outing on the Fourth will have plenty to engage their time and if they tire of the exercises or games the cool shade and pleasant retreats will furnish the choicest of resting places.

Messrs Johnson, DeWert and Teller, Oregonian typos made this office a visit Thursday. They rode their cycles up but concluded that it was too hot for pleasant wheeling so took the steamer back.

Capt. Geo. H. Moffit editor of the Evening Telegram was in the city on Tuesday accompanied by his son Archie who wished to try the fishing at the falls. The Captain was unfortunate enough to fall on the rocks and bruise his hand severely.

Dr. J. Casto president of the county horticultural society was in town today on his way home from Monmouth where he had been attending the graduating exercises, and submitted a program for the next meeting of the society which occurs the 15th of July.

C. H. Porter and family came down from Prairie City on Saturday intending to spend a month in this city where they have many friends. Mr. Porter who has been away for two years says that Oregon City is growing and that he can see a marked improvement in the place in the time that he has been away.

Judge J. B. Cleland of Portland was up for a few hours Tuesday evening trying his hand at angling. While changing his position on the rocks at the island he had a narrow escape from a cold bath as he slipped and fell just at the edge of the swiftest water. Had he gone an inch or two nearer he would have certainly gone in.

The Contract Let.

The city council held an adjourned meeting on Wednesday evening and let the contract for the improvement of Main Street with vitrified brick and gravel. The cost will be $416. per lot for vitrified brick including everything but sidewalks and the bid on them is 30 cents per lineal foot. The cost of gravel improvement is $156. per lot without sidewalk and the trestles including sidewalk are to cost $170. per lot for the one at Moss street and $175 for the one between 14th street and the Abernethy. There was but one bid for the brick and gravel work and that was by the Western Contractor & Construction Company which secures the contract. Mr. Jas. McKendrick a member of the company says that as soon as the contract is signed they will begin work by laying the curb. The contract is now being prepared and it is expected that it will be signed today. The trestle was let to two different parties, H. E. Cross securing one together with the sidewalk and Mr. Wycliff the other. The council was divided on the advisability of letting the contract at this time two members being afraid that the tightness of money would work a hardship upon some who will have to borrow for the work.

Mrs. Morey's Tea Party.

Neat invitations were sent out last week announcing that Mrs. Morey would be at home Wednesday afternoon from three to six and would be pleased to meet her friends at tea. When the ladies arrived on the afternoon named they found Mrs. Morey's beautiful home elegantly bedecked with roses. Not a conceivable spot where a blossom could be placed to add to the beauty of the rooms was omitted, thousands and thousands of the choicest roses obtainable in the city having entered into the decorations. As one of the ladies expressed it "there were wagon loads of roses" all grown in Morey's garden or in those of her friends who were glad to contribute their mite. Nearly all of the ladies invited availed themselves of the invitation and the rooms were all well filled with a merry and very sociable company who enjoyed most thoroughly Mrs. Morey's generous hospitality and the society of the gay company present, and all unite in pronouncing it one of the pleasantest events of their lives.

AN OPEN LETTER.

William F. Butcher Pays His Respects to Dan Murphy.

In the Oregonian there recently appeared a long letter from Hon. W. F. Butcher from which the following extracts are taken. He says:

"I, as one who is not deterred from saying what I think by reason of the fact that he is appointed to a prominent position, to which he is neither entitled nor competent to fill, think it an outrage upon decent politics, an insult to democracy of this state, a reward to treachery to party principle and party ties, and countenance to a precedent which in the future will render it unnecessary to go out to electioneer for votes. It (referring to the Evening Telegram) may that harmony prevails, and that Murphy's appointment gives satisfaction but my opinion is that to find it would require more than the natural eye. I am sure I have not heard anyone so express himself, not even among those who were misled by him last fall. I have yet to learn that it is approved by the national committee for this state, the chairman of the last state convention, any of the electors, any of the delegates to the last national convention, by either of the candidates for congress at the June election last year, by the candidate for the supreme bench last year or by any one who is personally well acquainted with the lack of brains and general incompetency at the head of the present state central committee of the democratic party in Oregon. I do not say these things because of any personal ill-feeling toward Mr. Cleveland for appointing him, for I earnestly believe he did what he believed to be for the best interest of the district and of the democracy in the state, nor because of disappointment to any personal ambition, for I am one of the self-supporting institutions of this country, nor because of any personal feeling toward Mr. Murphy of harshness, but simply because I desire to express in as forcible a way as my limited abilities will permit my disapproval of the rewarding of any such 'damphoolishness' as we democrats had to endure last fall.

Very democratically,
WILLIAM F. BUTCHER.
