ONE WAY TO HELP.

While it is undoubtedly true that Oregon City is feeling the ill effects of the depressing times less than any other community in the state we cannot boast of absolute freedom of the evil consequences attending the general lack of confidence which has caused money to be hoarded by those fortunate enough to have it.

The following true incident which happened in a small town in Linn county a few years ago will illustrate the advantage of putting money in circulation and shows that in the course of trade it does not take a fortune to pay a good many dollars of small bills.

While this bill circulated faster than it would naturally do in the ordinary conduct of business it serves as an illustration of the good that money in circulation may do, while that which is locked up in the pocket of the bank is doing no one any service.

DEMOCRATIC FRUITS.

If the republican party were now in power the democratic press from one end of the land to the other would ring the changes upon its responsibility for the distressing times to which the country is subject.

The platform on which Grover Cleveland was elected was a protest against progress and a declaration of war upon prosperity. The return of the democratic party to complete control of the government, unless the solemn declaration of principles put forth by the Chicago Convention was a tissue of deliberate falsehoods, meant ruin for American industries and debasement for American currency.

Republican party to do all within their power to protect their nation's industries and currency from the onslaught of the Bourbons. In the mean time there is nothing to be gained by perverting or concealing the truth.

Even those who make a study of the money question and ought to be able to speak understandingly of the financial outlook have been staggered by the action of India in stopping the coinage of silver. That country has heretofore been considered one of the solid silver countries and but little thought had been given to the possibility of her taking the step which she has and which seems to have astonished not only financiers but officials of this government.

COMPANY F finds itself at the end of its four years of life in a more prosperous condition than ever before. Since its organization on the 28th of June 1889 it has passed through many trials, some of which seriously threatened its existence but under the wise and conservative command of Captain Ganong and his associate officers the company has steadily advanced in discipline, efficiency and numbers till it will now compare well with the other companies of the state, especially as it has not had the advantage of battalion drill as have the Portland companies.

The Clackamas County Horticultural Society will hold its second meeting in this city on the 15th of next month, and while the subjects up for consideration are such as are of special interest to fruit growers the meeting has a special concern for all, since every one is interested in the fruit industry either directly or indirectly.

The New York Commercial Advertiser in speaking of the changed conditions between now and two years ago says: We tear from Uncle Sam's ledger a page giving the balance of trade favoring us for the first four months following the passage of the McKinley act, and the balance against us for the first four months of 1893, following the democratic victory, with free-trade legislation highly probable.

You take your choice at the polls, but the silent law of cause and effect runs remorselessly on.

Recognizing the great importance of better roads California has called a road convention and among subjects for investigation will be the influence of good and bad roads on rural life, upon taxation, and upon the development of the resources of the state, as well as the effect of good roads in making rural postal delivery probable.

With the United States committed to the doctrine of protection it would be much easier to maintain any standard of money which should seem to us best for this country alone, but with a party in power committed to the policy of free trade, which involves extensive dealings with the nations of the earth, we must be guided by the standard required by the countries with which we do business.

and farmers have reason to thank the administration for the extraordinary price of wool. Mrs. E. Warner has a very fine flock, perhaps the best in this part of the county. In fact Mrs. Warner is a successful farmer having been a shining light in Warner grange for many years.

Springwater Celebration. SPRINGWATER, June 26.—We shall celebrate the glorious Fourth. Our people will repair to the grove of W. H. Cornett where seats have been provided, a merry go round erected and where pea nut stands are in course of construction and there we will be jubilant.

Rev. Forbes of Portland, has been holding a week of protracted meeting here. A deep interest was manifested throughout. We are sure they have been of great good both in strengthening the church and in promoting interest and harmony among outsiders.

The prune crop promises to be immense. Mr. Gutteridge thinks that even with doubling the capacity of his dryer (which is over one ton of dried fruit in twenty-four hours now) he will scarcely be able to care for it all.
