The people along the Springwater road are proposing to grade up in good shape that portion along by the old Norton place for quite a distance. That is one of the worst places along the ridge and it has been made much worse on account of the standing timber which has occupied the road and both sides. The proposition to grade the road and improve it is contingent upon the county's blowing out the stumps and trees and the court has ordered that done, so that there is now good prospect for getting some additional permanent improvements on that important thoroughfare, more than the places which the county has already fixed in very good shape.

County Assessor Bradley has had letters and numerous inquiries from parties who apprehended that the accident recorded last week might be to his family. To all such we would say that the M. P. Bradley who met with the unfortunate accident at the Clackamas is no relation to the county assessor.

One of the gentlemen who assisted in extricating Mr. M. P. Bradley and family after the accident on the Fourth dropped a fine $15 fish pole when he ran to their assistance and where he returned was unable to find it when he left it. If any one knows aught of it, he will be able to return it to its rightful owner by leaving it at this office.

The concrete work for the headgates for the west side power station is practically finished and the men who have been engaged in building it and the machinery used for that purpose can now be used for constructing the canal walls which have to be built to a point clear below the Crown mill. The river is not yet low enough for work to be begun on the coffer dam which has to be put in for the foundation of the station but the company is busy preparing everything for active work as soon as the water recedes. Electric arc lights are being placed so that the work may be carried on both day and night.

Brutal Crime at Oswego.

George Prosser of Oswego was in the city Tuesday and brought the news that Wong Heung Hun, proprietor of a Chinese laundry in that place, had been the victim a brutal assault Monday night. He was also robbed of $50 which he had saved.

As near as it can be learned it was about 10 o'clock at night when an unknown white man, who had disguised himself by blacking his face, entered the laundry and roughly demanded of Hun all the money he had. The Chinaman replied that there was no money in the house, and the intruder then drew a revolver, and without warning, shot the Chinaman in the face. The victim fell to the floor and the robber completed the work by beating him over the head with the revolver until he was unconscious. While the laundryman was lying apparently dead his assailant ransacked the house, going through the bedding and every nook and corner. He was rewarded by finding about $50—all the money Hun had in the house.

Yesterday some friends of the Chinaman called at his house and found him almost dead. Dr. Sullivan was sent for and he attended the injured man. It was ascertained that a bullet had cut the upper lip, entered the head, making a dangerous wound. Still greater injuries, however, result from the blows administered over the head with the revolver. Just above the right eye are two ugly gashes. The scalp is laid open and the bone is fractured. The wounded man was taken to Portland where City Physician Wheeler made a further examination, and the patient was then taken to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he now lies in a critical condition.

Wong Heung Hun has no idea who his assailant was. The attack was so sudden that it gave the Chinaman no opportunity to notice any peculiarities except that his face was blackened. Suspicion, however, is directed toward a certain man who was seen in Oswego acting peculiar a short time before the attack was made.

A Tax Decision.

The case of Smith vs Sheriff Kelly and Multnomah county was announced on Tuesday. This was a suit in equity to restrain Multnomah county from collecting a tax on plaintiff's mortgage under the claim that the county was not entitled to collect any other or greater sum than 65 per cent of the taxes claimed. The circuit court refused the injunction and the supreme court has affirmed this decision. The county collectors regard this as final and expect that the larger part of the remaining tax will now be paid and will proceed to collect by distraint and sale of personal property where parties still persist in seeking to evade the law and refuse to pay the tax.

A Fine Show.

Washburn's circus performed to a crowded house this afternoon and gave a first-class exhibition. This evening will be the great event of the visit to Taunton, and all who go will see a show worth witnessing. It is not as large as Barnum's, but there is enough of it to keep you laughing and entertained for three solid hours. The performers and artists are the best; the attendants courteous.—Hartford, Conn., Courant.

There was the usual crowd around the land office on Tuesday when the township in Linn county was thrown open for filings and there were over 100 anxious to avail themselves of the opportunity to secure a slice of Uncle Sam's domain. There were as a matter of course several who wanted the same piece of land but the rule of the land office which treats all filings upon the first day that a plat is open for filing as coincident does away with the disagreeable features which formerly marked the opening day.

Mr. Wilson, the contractor who is building the Willamette Falls railway station, says that he can see a great difference in the city since he was here three years ago doing some work, and he feels confident that Oregon City has a great future before it, as its water power is destined to make of this a great manufacturing city, and that too at an early day.

Molalla Grange No. 40 has passed resolutions reaffirming its former declarations as to the wisdom of adopting the "Initiative and referendum" in conformity with the action of the state grange in referring the matter back to the subordinate granges for discussion and action. A copy of the resolutions has been ordered sent to each grange in the state.

Rev. J. A. Eckstorm has been specially requested to speak upon the subjects of "Punishment" and "Christian Socialism" and will treat of the first named text next Sunday morning and the latter in the evening.

The two cars for the west side road are on their way from Philadelphia and are expected about the first of August, by which time the road will be ready for them.

Both the boats and the cars will make special efforts to make it convenient for the people who wish to view the Monterey while she is in Portland.

The contract for setting the electric poles along the Willamette Falls railway has been let to a party from Spokane.
