THE SMUGGLERS.
Uncle Sam After Opium and Chinese Smugglers.
LOTAN AMONG THE ARRESTED.
Douglas County Treasurer in Trouble—Government On Silver Purchase.

PORTLAND, Or., July 18.—The indictments made by the recent grand jury as a result of the smuggling investigations accuse, in addition to Blum, Dunbar Lotan and Kearney, whose bonds have been approved in advance, nine others, as follows:

1. Thomas Burg, a farmer down the river, upon whose place and with whose connivance the opium is alleged to have been landed, and who is supposed to be in Arizona.
2. M. Caro, a Portland man.
3. M. Patterson, now supposed to be in San Francisco, for whose arrest warrants have gone forward.
4. A. A. Porter, ex-inspector, democratic appointee of Lotan, removed by telegraph from Washington.
5. Captain John Ross, former master of the Haytian Republic.
6. W. B. Jackling, formerly chief engineer of the Haytian Republic, and a witness before the grand jury.
7. C. J. Mulkey, special agent of the treasury department, recently removed.
8. Robert Garthorne, a Los Angeles man, alleged to have been active in disposing of the opium, and also a witness before the grand jury.
9. John Doe.

All the indictments brought in by the grand jury are thus accounted for. There are three against Blum singly, one against Dunbar singly, one against Dunbar and Blum jointly, one each against Garthorne and Jackling with both Chinese and opium counts, and two jointly against these 16: Dunbar, Blum, Jackling, Cardinell, Porter, Paddock, Lanville, Kearney, Caro, Patterson, Garthorne, Ross, Burg, Mulkey, Lotan and Doe. Blum and Dunbar are now under $12,000 bonds each.
The government's attorneys will not indicate when the trials will begin. To begin with, the trial calendar is, as Fulton says, pretty well crowded. There is a jury at work now, but it is not likely they will want to sit through August, though there is no stated time for adjournment. The district attorney, also, has his choice as to which cases he will try first. The court makes the orders but the district attorney "sits next to the dealer." He will put his best foot foremost, and present his strongest cases first, the clamor of the republicans to the contrary notwithstanding. The weak cases will be left to the last, and perhaps be dismissed, some of them, after all; though this contingency is scouted by the government.

Death of A. B. Shipley.
CORVALLIS, Or., July 14.—A. B. Shipley, a pioneer of 1852, died at 4:30 p. m. today at his residence, on College Hill, of heart failure, after an illness of several weeks. The remains were laid to rest in the Oswego cemetery. The funeral services were held at the family home, two miles southwest of this town, and were conducted by the Rev. H. Gould, pastor of the M. E. church of Corvallis, where Mr. Shipley attended religious services, assisted by Rev. R. Jones, pastor of the Oswego Congregational church. The pall-bearers were:
President J. M. Bloss, of the state agricultural college; Captain J. T. Apperson, a regent of the college, and John Kruse, Plympton Kelly, Robert Porter, O. P. Lent, Alfred Luelling and J. S. Risley.

After the exercises at the house, Oswego grange No. 175, Patrons of Husbandry took charge of the remains, assisted by Tualatin, Warner, Evening Star, Corvallis and Ponona district granges, with Dr. J. Casto, of New Era, master of ceremonies. They formed a procession, and, followed by fully 100 carriages proceeded to the cemetery, where O. Eaton, master of the Oswego grange, conducted the services in accordance with the impressive ritual of the Patrons of Husbandry.

Mr. Shipley leaves behind him a wife and six children: Milton K., Lester A. Alphonso W., Randolph C., Mrs. E. S. Miller and Mrs. Wallace R. Struble.

A Defaulting Treasurer.
ROSENBERG, Or., July 13.—At the June term of circuit court Judge Fullerton, in his charge to the grand jury, instructed them to "examine and report upon the condition of the various offices of the county," and under the direction of the county court, the work of investigating was at once begun. It was soon rumored that there was something wrong in the treasurer's office, but the amount of the shortage was not given to the public until last evening. The amount appropriated by Treasurer V. L. Arrington is reported to be $2329.31.

The treasurer has resigned. Up to noon today the sureties had not made good the deficiency, and the county court has ordered that an action at law be brought against them for the recovery of the amount due.

The Government's Views.
WASHINGTON, July 13.—It is understood the treasury department holds it is not required by the Sherman law to purchase 4,500,000 ounces of silver each month. The law reads:

"The secretary of the treasury is hereby directed to purchase, from time to time, silver bullion to the the aggregate of 4,500,000 ounces or so much thereof as may be offered, in each month at the market price thereof, etc."

Under this construction, if the price does not suit the department, it is held the purchases need not be made in any special month so long as the aggregate is maintained. The decision as to what is the market price is made by the director of the mint, who makes the purchases. The acting director of the mint expects to receive his full quota this month.

Attempted Suicide at Portland.
The interference either real or imaginary, of Julius Hammar's mother-in-law with his domestic relations, has caused him to commit an act that may result in his death.

Friday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock Hammar shot himself, at the corner of Second and Main streets. He was in company with his wife walking down the street and talking earnestly to her. Just as they passed the corner, bystanders heard him remark, "Well, Katie, here's good bye for the last time." Immediately he drew a 38-caliber revolver from his pocket, and placing the muzzle to his left breast, pulled the trigger and fell to the sidewalk. He then placed the pistol to his head and fired again, but his aim was not true. His hand was unsteady, and the bullet sped upward and lodged in a building on the opposite side of the street. The two loud reports and the shrieks of the woman soon attracted a large crowd. Hammar was unconscious, and the smoking, black wound in his breast convinced everyone that it was a fatal one. Word was sent to the police station, and a few minutes later the patrol wagon, with stretchers, was there and Hammar was taken to the hospital where he is in a fair way to recover. H. E. Smith of this city was about 25 feet behind when the would be suicide pulled the trigger.

THE MONTEREY.
Pacific Coast Defense Warship
Now Lying at Portland.

A MODEL AND UNIQUE CRAFT.
Description of the Monterey—A Double Monitor—Two Big Guns—Crowds of Visitors.

The Monterey, being as yet the only vessel of her class in commission in the new navy is naturally an object of much interest to all who believe in the duty of the United States to have a navy equal to that of any maritime power of the world. She was built at the Union Iron Works, San Francisco, where she was launched April 28, 1891, on the occasion of President Harrison's visit to the Pacific coast. Her cost was $1,628,950. The vessel was named by President Harrison, who held that in view of the fact that it would be employed in guarding the Pacific coast, it should have a name of local historical significance.

As the first state government California ever had was formed at Monterey; as the Bear flag was raised there by pioneers; as one of the great battles of the Mexican war was fought at Monterey, the president selected that name for the vessel on Christmas day, 1880. The Monterey went into commission February 13, of this year. She is a twin-steel armored monitor of 4084 tons displacement. In fighting trim the displacement is 4350 tons. The length between perpendiculars is 250 feet; over all, 262 feet, four inches. It is 17 feet from keel to main deck, and the mean draft when the turret armor is put on will be 14.9 feet, leaving a freeboard of 2.3 feet. At the present time the draft is about a foot less, as the turret armor has not been put on, the two barbettes and revolving turrets being now enclosed in wood. The barrette armor is to be 13 inches thick and the turret armor eight inches thick. The light draft enables the Monterey to choose her own fighting waters. She is short enough to be easily handled, making a complete turn in five minutes, and broad enough for good stability. She is so low in the water as to present a limited target to the shots of the enemy's guns, and so well protected with armor as to prevent her engines or guns being disabled by the heaviest ordnance. The bow is ramshaped and has been strengthened for ramming purposes. The thickness of her armor-belt is 13 inches and her speed is 16 knots an hour.

HER ARMAMENT.
One of the most wonderful features is her armament, which excites the admiration not only of the experienced naval officers, but of the untutored landsman as well. The main or primary battery consists of four monster guns. In the forward turret are two-12 inch and in the after turret two 10-inch steel breech-loading guns, marvels of workmanship and power. The two 12-inch guns have been named Betsy and Alice by the crew, and Big Betsy is quite a strapping girl, whose exact weight is 100,918 pounds. Alice is quite small compared with her sister but is branded with the figures 100,289 as indicating her avoidupois. These guns are handled by hydraulic power, and shoot an 850-pound cartridge, requiring 425 pounds of powder for a single discharge. The range is 20 miles, and the demolishing power of these guns is something frightful to contemplate. The length of the 12-inch guns is 35 feet. The 10-inch guns are 28 feet, 4 inches long, and shoot a 450-pound cartridge. Three kinds of projectiles are used with these guns, the common cast-iron shell, the common steel shell and the armor-piercing projectile.

Many of our citizens have taken advantage of the big warship's presence in port to go to Portland and inspect the vessel and nearly all have felt well paid for the trip. Both the boats and cars have been making special effort to accommodate the people who desired to inspect Uncle Sam's fighter. Some have expressed disappointment in the Monterey as compared with the Baltimore and Charleston, the big cruisers, but it is a different class of vessel and in its way is eminently worth seeing.

Speculation Dangerous.
Scarcely a day passes without the news of some large failure flashing over the wires—the usual result of speculation in stock or some equally dangerous venture. The same electric current carries to dear distant friend the sad tidings of death of loved ones—too often the result of speculation in patent nostrums. Moore's Revealed Remedy is no speculation but is sold on positive guarantee. Do not fail to go to your druggist and ask for your money if not satisfied. We know you will go and buy another bottle. For sale by all druggists.

It is to our interest to please every economical buyer. BELLOMY & BUSCH. 11
