

CLACKAMAS COUNTY

THE ENTERPRISE CORRESPONDENTS SWEEP THE FIELD.

Interesting Neighborhood Notes—Return of Visitors to the World's Fair—Sunday School Library.

CARUS, July 17.—Haymaking progresses under difficulties, the weather as a rule being unfavorable.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church give an entertainment tomorrow evening at the residence of Mrs. Edwards of Beaver Creek.

Eddie R. Jones has been quite seriously ill with what seems to be an attack of the grippe.

R. Milo Cooper is having a well dug near the barn on his ranch, and has gone down some twenty feet. Water is present, but the work is yet incomplete.

Will Jones is also digging a well at his house. At a depth of twenty-four feet he struck solid rock. He has put in several blais and water seeps through the rock; but more blasting must be done to obtain a permanent supply.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenze Hornshuh reached Oregon City last Sunday on their way home from the World's Fair and the East.

Some farmers in this vicinity are cutting grain for hay, believing it pays well and saves labor of threshing.

Horton Graham has been quite ill, and though able to be around does not easily recover his wonted vigor.

A few of our citizens went their way to the Spiritualist campmeeting at New Era; but a majority are too intent on putting a quietus upon political ghosts to bother the spirits of just men made perfect.

The Sunday school of the Presbyterian church is in possession of a neat library numbering about sixty volumes. It is expected that the books will be ready for distribution next Sabbath.

HOOD VIEW.

A Sketch of One of the Many Beautiful Hamlets of Clackamas County.

HOOD VIEW, July 19.—I beg pardon for trespassing on your valuable time and space, but as I have so long been furnishing "News Notes from Hood View" I would now like to introduce to your many readers this new place. I say new, for the place was only two years old the spring just past.

"Hood View" is the name of a church, and is situated on the foot hills of Pleasant Hills in the southwestern part of Clackamas county about one mile and a half from each Washington and Yamhill county lines; is three miles from Sherwood on the Portland and Willamette Valley railroad, and two and a half miles from the Willamette river; also two miles from Wilsonville post office, one mile from school, one half mile from the Pleasant Hill cemetery, and overlooks a beautiful plot of farming country. It derives its name—Hood View—from the magnificent view presented of Mt. Hood, and were you here you could not help but admire the lovely sight of that snow covered mountain.

Hood View church was founded by Rev. Jerome Barber and his wife Dora, of Michigan. They were as it seemed just sailing over the world in search of a nice spot on which to alight and build a nest. Having alighted here in December '91, they commenced a protracted meeting in the Pleasant Hill school house, then the place of worship, and conducted a series of meetings, proclaiming the Gospel night and day for a term of six weeks. At the end of this time there were in this immediate vicinity a sufficient number of good and faithful Christians to combine and form a church of the Congregational faith. Papers were circulated and soon a part of the money was raised and a contract let to build a church. Its locality—a part of the old Thompson farm—was decided on by a majority of the members. The present owner of the farm, Mr. Cook of Salem—a very devoted member of the Friends church of Newberg—came to the front and gave ground enough for a parsonage and a very beautiful fir grove which lies across the road from the church and parsonage grounds and affords plenty of room for picnics. In June, 1892, a large crowd assembled to witness the laying of the corner stone, and the first picnic was enjoyed in the new grounds. In the fall a still larger crowd gathered together to hear the dedicatory sermon which was delivered by Rev. Mr. Clapp of Portland—Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Barber, Rev. Romler and others assisting in the dedicatory exercises.

The new church then floated high and dry of debt, and Mr. and Mrs. Barber, and all who had kindly assisted in this grand work were justly proud of the effect of their united labor which had cost them in good United States gold coin the sum of fifteen hundred dollars besides months of toil freely given.

The church was complete. Four lamps swung from the ceiling, two hundred and nineteen chairs occupied the seating space, the aisles and pulpit were carpeted, handsome chairs were in the pulpit, and a lovely Bible rest, secretary's table, stove and other fixtures completed the outfit.

Then began in our new house of worship services twice every Sabbath, Sunday school, prayer meetings Thursday evenings, young people's meetings Tuesday evenings, and as often as Providence will permit extra religious meetings, all under the guidance of Revs. Mr. and Mrs. Barber, the founders of Hood View.

In the fall of 1892 it was decided to erect the parsonage, and by Christmas a very neat two-story frame building was completed, paint, paper and all. The next thing in line will be a fence to enclose the church and parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. Barber are engaged to labor for us in church work for the next five years, and we all join in wishing them much happiness in this their new field of labor.

So what but only a few years ago was an old run down farm is now all clear; about 150 acres are in grain with a Congregational church and parsonage looming up at one end of it. The nearest saloon is at Sherwood, a distance of three miles, and does not affect our peace in the least, further than the thought of how much it destroys the peace and happiness of our neighbors. Hood View celebrated the Fourth of July in a very becoming manner. Rev. Romler of Portland delivered an address on his recent travels in the Holy lands, and other able speakers of our vicinity addressed the audience in appropriate remarks. A good dinner is one of the principal features of a picnic day with us; our neighborhood is bountifully supplied with good cooks and well filled larders, and you may depend none go home hungry.

Thanking the ENTERPRISE very kindly for the space I have occupied, and wishing Hood View much prosperity and happiness, I remain, very truly,

ANNA.

STAFFORD NOTES.

Killed by the Kick of Horse—Hurt by a Hay Fork—School Picnic.

STAFFORD, July 16.—Today has been the hottest of the season, the thermometer standing at 82 deg. from 11 to 6 o'clock.

A number of loads of people from here attended the funeral of A. R. Shipley at Oswego this forenoon.

Clover is nearly all cut and standing in the cock. It is extra heavy and of fine quality.

John Garter, ten years old, son of Gottlieb Garter, was kicked by a horse in the region of the heart and died in less than fifteen minutes afterwards. The spot where he was kicked did not show larger than one and a half inch around. The funeral took place at the German cemetery the following day.

Last Friday while John Gage, jr., was unloading hay with a horse fork the third and fourth fingers of his right hand were caught in a pulley. He pulled them out minus the end of each down to the bone. Nevertheless he worked in the hay field the next day with splints on them.

The Stafford school is preparing for a picnic next Friday, it being the last day of a successful four months term of school under the management of Mr. Beatrice Ely.

Miss Lizzie Schatz is visiting relatives here. She has for some time been working in Portland and feels the need of a vacation.

Mink Mutterings.

Mink, July 18.—Last Sunday Rev. Beucheler, a German Lutheran minister of Peninsula, preached in the Reformed church to a large congregation.

Quite a number of people in our vicinity have been on the sick list for the past two weeks with some disease—we do not know what, but it has not proved fatal to any one yet.

Mr. Ogles, our music teacher, will soon take a vacation on account of the coming harvest.

Fred Heft and John Hettman left last Tuesday for Eastern Oregon with the intention of doing harvest work.

Valentine Bolander has purchased a new Osborn binder.

Mr. Shannon and sons will soon have a large kiln of brick to burn.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Fosberg of Oregon City were guests at Charles Hettman's last Sunday.

Quite a pleasant surprise party was given at the Mink post office residence on Thursday evening, July 13th, in honor of W. F. C. Moehnke's 19th birthday. He lives at Tualatin, but was here visiting his sisters at the time. A very pleasant evening was spent in playing cards, music and singing. Refreshments were served at 12 o'clock. Those present were Misses Julia Kammer-Bolander, Messrs. Wm. Shriver, John A. Rath, Grace Weidner, M. Flora Moehnke, M. Moehnke, Frank E. Linn, John Fisher, F. Shiner, Wm. Bluhm, F. Kammerath, W. C. Moehnke.

Rev. R. Staub is spending a few days at Stafford with his daughter, Mrs. Bauman.

E. Learn, late of Nelson, Pa., and A. C. B. Moehnke of Tualatin, were the guests of J. Moehnke Sunday.

Willsburg.

WILLSBURG, July 17.—Strawberries are all gone and cherries and raspberries are coming in the market.

A. N. Wills and wife left on the Northern Pacific railroad Saturday for a two months visit in Wisconsin. They will stop at the World's Fair on their return.

Multnomah county is doing some good work on our road. They have graded and graveled the entire road from the Clackamas county line to Sellwood, the road running east and west past this burg.

The corner stone of the new Congregational church of this place, located one-third of a mile southeast of the station on the height, was laid Friday evening. The ceremonies were conducted by Rev. G. A. Rockwood of this place and Rev. Mr. Webb of Sellwood. Many people were in attendance. The building when completed will cost $2000. Size 28x53 with steeple. Shindler & Co. have the contract for building it.

Some one in this neighborhood has turned his attention to killing dogs, three having been killed last week. We know times are hard, but the dog killer ought to find something else to do.

Clackamas Chatter.

CLACKAMAS, July 18.—The farmers of this vicinity are busy haying.

Strawberries are a thing of the past. Owing to the low price a great many were left to go to waste on the vines.

Mrs. McVicker and Mrs. Howlett who have been quite ill, are slowly improving.

The bicycle craze has struck this place hard, and it is surely a great thing as some of the riders claim it to be a good muscle developer.

The hogs of some of our leading citizens are allowed to run the streets of Clackamas notwithstanding we have a law prohibiting hogs running at large.

Prof. Alexander Thompson started east today on a visit to his father whom he has not seen for over twenty years, and he also intends taking in the World's Fair. His many friends wish him a safe and pleasant journey.

Mrs. P. C. Humphrey has gone to Ilwaco to spend the summer.

"Keep down expenses!" is the cry of some men. Make your expenses light, so if the week's earning is small, you will not be out much. If you want furniture buy from Bellomy & Busch and save money.

WILSONVILLE.

A Description—Prosperous Community—Beautiful Location—A Thrifty People.

WILSONVILLE, July 16.—Thinking that perhaps some of the readers of the ENTERPRISE would like to know what kind of a place Wilsonville is I will try to describe it as nearly correct as I can.

Wilson is a thriving little village situated on the west bank of the Willamette river about 12 miles south of Oregon City. It has a population of about 300, and boasts of a large dry goods store of which Henry Miley is the enterprising proprietor.

The yield of 40 bushel of wheat, 45 of oats and 200 of potatoes to the acre is not unusual in the immediate vicinity of the village, while other crops, such as apples, pears, peaches, plums, cherries, strawberries, hay, hops, etc., yield in like great proportion.

To the careful observer Wilsonville will justly seem the Eden of the Willamette valley, surrounded as it is by beautiful fields in high cultivation. Now, when the grain is ripening, all about here has a very attractive appearance. The forests too, the pride of the neighborhood, with the tall firs looming up in all their majesty, add vastly to the grandeur and beauty of the scenery. But I must not attempt a further description as I cannot do justice to the place and its thrifty and intelligent people.

Hon. John Kruse's large barn was completed on Friday, July 14th, thus breaking the record of barn building in this vicinity. For four carpenters to frame and put up complete in twenty-one days a barn of such large dimensions was no light task, and J. R. McMillan, under whose able and efficient supervision the work was done, is deserving of no small amount of credit.

Mr. McMillan moved from the Kruse residence to that of C. T. Toze, where he has been employed to build a hop house, double dryer, 36x50 feet, a ware house, 40x60 feet, a palace for hogs, and a Chinese dwelling house, all to be finished on the outside with rustic. This, certainly, does not look like hard times. The fact of the matter is, times, to the energetic farmer, are just as flourishing as they ever were.

Haymaking commenced in Wilsonville the beginning of last week and is now being pushed as vigorously as the weather will permit. The yield is about an average.

Frank M. Kruse who recently underwent a serious surgical operation is expected to return home from Portland the latter part of the present week.

Bishop Seely has added another to his list of farm necessities in the shape of a brand new cart. He, with wife and baby, could be seen on the streets of Wilsonville today testing the new purchase.

The steamer Toledo, of the Kellogg Transportation Company, has been chartered to run daily trips between Portland and Mission landing, which will add greatly to the convenience of the people of this place. We think the boat should be patronized as much as possible.

STRANGER.

MILWAUKEE NOTES.

Accident in the Mill Pond—Picnic Party—Social Notes.

MILWAUKEE, July 18.—B. Finch is building a story and a half cottage which he will occupy when finished.

B. Tscherner's new house is about ready for latting and plastering. After completing this one he will start a six-room cottage a little further up the hill.

While Frank Miller and family and Mrs. Norman of San Francisco were on their way to the fish hatchery Sunday one of the wheels of the wagon broke. It did not near their trip as Mr. Miller lashed a small fir tree to the axle and they completed the trip and were delighted with the day's pleasure.

The German Evangelical Sunday school held their annual picnic last Thursday in Lehman's grove. An interesting program was rendered by the young folks. A large number of people came from Portland and Albina, and the day was very pleasantly spent by all.

Mr. Nareen, of the firm of Dahl & Nareen, butchers, is the proud father of a ten-pound boy. Mother and child doing nicely.

Mr. Brown, of Sellwood, drove his team into the old mill pond to let them drink. Not knowing the danger he allowed them to walk in too far and they became mired in the muddy bottom. In struggling to free themselves they fell over on their sides and sank, making it necessary for a man to hold up their heads to prevent their drowning. It was a very difficult task to get them out, but several men succeeded in doing so after an hour's hard work.

Ethel, aged three years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Compton, died Friday at 10:30 p. m., of summer complaint. She was buried Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Matcheson and Miss Sansome gave a delightful picnic in Oak Grove Wednesday. About thirty young people attended and enjoyed the usual picnic games and grand luncheon.

Canby Cullings.

BALD HEADS!

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

Skookum Root Hair Grower

It is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the diseases of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. "Skookum" contains neither minerals nor oils. It is not a dye, but a delightfully cooling and refreshing tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it stops falling hair, cures dandruff and grows hair on bald heads.

Keep the scalp clean, healthy, and free from irritating eruptions, by the use of Skookum Root Soap. It destroys parasitic insects, which feed on and destroy the hair.

If your druggist cannot supply you send direct to us, and we will forward prepaid, on receipt of price. Grower, $1.00 per bottle; 4 for $3.00. Soap, 50c. per jar; 4 for $1.50.
