A GARDEN SPOT.—One mile south of Milwaukie on an eminence somewhat above the country to the north and west of it is as lovely a garden as one will meet in many a day, and only three years ago the spot where it now stands was the home of monster firs and other members of the forest primeval too numerous to mention, but not too many for the indomitable energy and determination of J. F. Broetze who purchased 30 acres there in the heart of the woods and began from the wilderness to carve out a home and in place of the Oregon forest he now has flowers and fruits of the smaller varieties in abundance and his handsome place is admired by all who pass that way. It has required much hard work to clear the trees and stumps and to subdue the soil, but the work has been well and intelligently done, and it is now a real treat just to pass along the road and see the fine yard and beautiful flowers which are growing in profusion. Great beds of beautiful carnations of almost every shade abound while rare shrubs and choice varieties of flowers of almost every description are to be found. Passing from the beautiful to the useful one finds that Mr. Broetze has a numerous fine grape vines of fully 20 different varieties, currants, blackberries, raspberries and dewberries besides numerous other varieties. From a small bed of strawberries which he has harvested over $70 worth of berries this season. This fine suburban place is only a short walk from the electric line so has almost all the advantages of the city besides being in a most delightful place for a home. Its location is on a ridge which is one day destined to furnish sites for hundreds of just such fine places and that too are many more years are added to Oregon's history.

VICE PRESIDENT STEVENSON ARRIVING.—Word has been received in Portland that Vice-President Stevenson and party will arrive on Monday next, and will remain at least one day. Arrangements have been made to give the distinguished visitor a most cordial reception. The reception committee of the chamber of commerce met on Monday and made out the following programme:

That Mr. Stevenson and party be met at the Union depot by prominent citizens in carriages and escorted to his hotel. After he has had an opportunity to breakfast and rest, he will again be waited on at the hotel with carriages and with the members of his party, given a drive about the city. Upon his return to the hotel he will be called upon to review a parade, made up of a detachment of troops from Vancouver, a detachment of marines from the Monterey, and the First regiment, O. N. G. Then Mayor Mason will deliver an address of welcome and the vice-president will probably respond and then the ceremonial portion of the program will be over. The board of trade of this city might be able to secure a visit from the vice-presidential party if steps are taken at once.

A SUMMER CAMP.—The encampment of the "Merry Tramps" as they style themselves which is to be on the fine grounds of Mr. P. F. Morey's farm below this city will, according to the Oregonian begin Monday next, under the management of H. L. Wells, T. O. Gladding R. W. Hoyt and C. M. Idleman. The camp is being fixed up this week, and all the preliminary arrangements are being made. The "Tramps" will hold a basket picnic on the grounds Saturday, and invite their friends to join with them in having a merry time. The campground is a lovely spot about three miles below this city, on the west bank of the river, high up, covered with groves of trees and good turf, and right on the edge of a forest. There is good spring water on the grounds and a little creek runs through them. When completed, with its large white tents, general assembly tent, croquet and tennis grounds, it will be a very attractive place and one that will be visited often by the friends of the campers. All of the Oregon City boats stop at the camp grounds.

TAXING THE PIPE LINE.—At a recent meeting of the water committee of Portland attention was called to the tax sale notices posted along the Bull Run pipe line and the following facts brought out. Some time ago the assessor of this county demanded that the committee pay taxes on the lands in Clackamas county to be occupied by the Bull Run pipe line. The matter was referred to City Attorney Muir, who notified the assessor that, under the statutes, the lands in question were exempt from taxation. Since then, however, a deputy sheriff, acting under the assessor's instructions, has posted on trees along the route notices to the effect that the lands will be sold for delinquent taxes next month. When Clerk Dodge reported this matter to the committee Mr. Dolph moved that the city attorney be requested to take steps to have the proposed sale enjoined, and the motion was carried promptly and with unanimity. About 3600 acres of this county have been appropriated for pipe-line purposes, and it seemed to be the opinion of the committee that they cannot be taxed.

HOME FROM EASTERN OREGON.—For the past five weeks John Gleason has been in eastern Oregon in the vicinity of Pendleton buying wool for a San Francisco firm. As a matter of fact he has purchased but little wool owing to the extremely low prices holding, from 5 to 10 cents being the range. Most of the flock men are shipping to Boston on consignment receiving an advance of five cents per pound, which Mr. Gleason thinks is all that they will ever realize on their clip. He says that times are extremely dull up there and that laboring men have neither work nor money.

MAKING IT BROAD GAUGED.—The Southern Pacific is at work relaying the track of the Portland & Willamette Valley narrow-gauge road. The work has proceeded for some 17 or 18 miles out. There are three rails being used so that the road will be both narrow and standard gauge. For four or five miles south of Oswego, the 60-pound steel rails are being used, and beyond that the old 40-pound ones. The Oregonian says the renewal recently of the franchise from Corvallis to Junction leads some to think that perhaps the old project is to be revived, and the California trains brought down on the west side.

A MONTH AND A DAY.—That is the time allotted for the Portland Industrial Exposition which is to open on the 27th of September and close on the 28th of October. Under the efficient management of E. W. Allen, arrangements are being perfected for an unusually good exhibition. This exhibition is yearly becoming more and more attractive to the general public as it brings together all the new and novel mechanical appliances in use on this coast so that anyone can keep tolerably well posted by attending it a few times each year. Among the attractions this year will be Liberati's fine band.

THE OSWEGO ROAD.—A drive over the road between here and Oswego shows that it has been put in much better shape than ever before, and most of the way it is now in pretty good time for travel. Noteworthy features of the work are the straightening of the road, the throwing up of the grade well above the level of the ground and the opening out of the ditch at the sides of the road for carrying off the water. A new bridge has been placed above the old one at the point where the road strikes the river and the road has also been straightened at that point.

THE TUALATIN BRIDGE.—Complaint has been made that the Tualatin bridge near the mouth of the river has not been passable. This would have been remedied sometime since but for the fact that the town of Willamette Falls was being platted at this end of the bridge and it was deemed advisable to have the approach at this end meet the streets of the new town. These have all been located and during the past week Supervisor Prosser has been busy making the approach at this end of the bridge and the people interested have been fixing up the approach and road at the south end.

SURVEYING PARTY LEFT.—Last Tuesday morning Henry Meldrum left with a party to survey several townships of land on the west slope of the Coast mountains between the Wilson and Nehalem rivers. They left here going across the country to Forest Grove and from there they were intending to go to the forks of the Wilson river where they will leave the road and strike for the hills. The party that went from here was composed of Henry Meldrum, Ernest Rands, Henry Austen, Steve Hungate and John Howland.

AS A SUSPECT.—Last Friday Sheriff Ganong and W. H. Welch arrested Bob Young at Oswego for the attempt to murder the Chinaman, Hun, and he was brought up here and lodged in the city jail till Saturday when after a hearing before the deputy district attorney, C. H. Dye it was found that he could establish an alibi and he was released. It was claimed that his actions were most suspicious and besides this his shirt had blood on it and it was thought best to permit him to explain.

New Register the First of August.

JACKSONVILLE, Or., July 18.—Colonel

Robert A. Miller returned yesterday morning from his three-month's trip to Washington city, and found his com-mision as register of the land office at Oregon City, awaiting him. He met a very cordial reception from his many Southern Oregon friends, and while the opinion is general that his services to the democratic party were entitled to better recognition at the hands of the administration, the Colonel accepts the situation with his usual diplomacy and good judgment and will perform the duties of the office honorably to himself and creditably to his friends. He has permanently closed his law business here and left tonight for Portland, going from there to Oregon City to make arrangements to assume his new position which he expects to do the 1st of August.

Ladies' Tea.

Is a pleasant drink, which will be borne by the stomach without nausea or gripping. It acts thoroughly on the liver, kidneys and reproductive organs. A gentle physic, efficient diuretic, and is most useful in scant or painful menstruation. It aids digestion, and reduces corpulence; clears the complexion, rendering it fair, and restoring the natural tone of the skin, for it removes the bile, which, by accumulation, produces the yellow, muddy complexion, peculiar to the constipated state. Sold by all druggists.

If you are wanting a home in the pleasant spot on earth where you have all the advantages of a city with all the pleasures of a home in the country you
