The concerted effort of all of these plants has made it possible to carry on the business of our city, and to the gradual increase of the population which has been in prospect during the past year, we owe much.

Why not try it now? It is not too late.

In the meantime, keep your eyes open and your ears alert.

For the benefit of all, the following quotation is reprinted:

"If you have a good idea, go ahead and try it. If it fails, go back to the drawing board. If it succeeds, go back and try it again."

The next step is to organize and get the facts in order. The facts are now in your hands. Now what are you waiting for?
