

IRON WORKS MOVING.
The Oregon City Iron Works Plant Being Moved to Permanent Quarters.

When the Oregon City Iron Works were built it was somewhat of a question whether or not such an institution would pay here as many of the mills maintained their own repair shops and the agricultural line of repairs was not very great, but the few years of their existence under the able supervision of Jas. Roake has demonstrated that there is a field here for good machine works and they have found themselves with a constantly growing business on hand. As the shop had been built on rented ground and the time had come when it seemed best to make extensive additions to the plant, Mr. Roake decided to buy and move to a suitable place where he could enlarge the building such a way, as convenience demanded without doing it on another man's property. He decided upon the location at the corner of Fourth and Water streets and purchased the site of Stephens & Jagger, who, to make room for the iron works, had to move W. H. Davis' paint shop to the rear of Pope's hardware store. This has been done and during the past week Pate Hatch has been busy moving the plant bodily along the water front across the block to its new location, and this is being done without disturbing any of the machinery or tools so that when the building is leveled up the men can at once resume work. The upper story will be used by Jones & Son for a wood working room and additions will be made to the main building as they are required for other branches of the business. A moulding and casting department will probably be added at an early date, thus making the iron works more complete than any other to be found in a place of this size.

Biography of James G. Blaine.
The Henry Bill Publishing Company, of Norwich, Conn., has been entrusted with the publication of the biography of the great patriot and statesman.

It is to be written by Gail Hamilton, Mr. Blaine's literary executor, a writer of world-wide fame and literary ability, who is better qualified to write the biography of Mr. Blaine than any other person.

The Biography will be sold in connection with his great history, "Twenty Years of Congress," and his later book, "Political Discussions: Legislative, Diplomatic and Popular."

This will be the only biography of Mr. Blaine, approved by his family.
Hon. James W. Bradbury, formerly U. S. Senator from Maine says: "There is no other person in the country so well equipped to prepare a biography of the late Secretary of State, James G. Blaine, as Gail Hamilton.

She has all the materials of the work, and the ability to use them with a graphic pen.
Her long residence in the family made her acquainted with the man in his inner and outer life, the workings of his mind, and his manner of dealing with the important questions that came up for solution.

She so fully possessed his confidence that she is made his literary executor, and has the custody and use of his letters and unpublished papers, important to give a full idea of his labors, and his reasonings upon the subjects that engaged his attention.

She has also such reverent admiration of her relative that the work will be a labor of love that will call forth the utmost effort of the genius of one of the most prominent writers of the times.

Stopped the Run.
The San Diego Sun quotes Horace McPhee, a county commissioner of Riverside, Cal., as telling a story which is peculiarly pat at this time. He said that there was a run on a bank in an iron mill town and the depositors were being paid in silver dollars. The excitement increased and the run became a fast one. The cashier was a young Irishman, and the work put on him was more than he liked. He resolved to stop it. He sent the janitor with a bushel of silver dollars into a rear room where there was a stove, with instructions to "heat them silver dollars red hot." They were heated, and in that condition were handed out with a ladel. The depositors first grabbed the coin, then kicked. "But you'll have to take them that way," said the cashier. "We are turning them out as fast as we can melt and mold them, and if you won't wait until they are cool you'll have to take them hot." That settled it. The run was stopped. McPhee says the story is true, but denies that he was the Irish cashier.

Worthington's Illustrated Magazine for September shows great diversity of material and an excellent list of contributors. The interest and value of its leading articles, and the fine literary quality of its stories, poems and department matter, are admirably supplemented by fine press work and specially prepared illustrations which make this number as attractive as it is readable.

The leading article for September is a well written and highly entertaining paper upon "Seals and Sealing," by Joseph Stanley Brown (formerly Secretary to President Garfield).

Call and see the lounges at R. L. Holman and you will see some good ones which they are selling almost at manufacturer's prices.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.
From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Grotton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colic. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles; it has cured me and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at G. A. Harding's drugstore, regular size 50c. and $1.00.

A Gentleman
Who formerly resided in Connecticut, but who now resides in Honolulu, writes: "For 20 years past, my wife and I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor, and we attribute to it the dark hair which she and I now have, while hundreds of our acquaintances, ten or a dozen years younger than we, are either gray-headed, white, or bald. When asked how our hair has retained its color and fullness, we reply, 'By the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor—nothing else.'"
"In 1865, my affianced wife's hair kept falling out every day. I induced her to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and very soon, it not only checked any further loss of hair, but produced an entirely new growth, which has remained luxuriant and glossy to this day. I can recommend this preparation to all in need of a genuine hair-restorer. It is all that it is claimed to be."—Antonio Alarum, Bastrop, Tex.

GRAND ISLAND, NEB., April 26th, 1892.
Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
GENTLEMEN: I had been troubled with HEART DISEASE FOR THE LAST 30 YEARS, and although I was treated by able physicians and tried many remedies, I grew steadily worse until I WAS COMPLETELY PROSTRATED AND CONFIRMED TO MY BED WITHOUT ANY HOPE OF RECOVERY. I would have very likely died had I not procured your medicine, which I took as directed, and it was with the greatest difficulty that my circulation could be brought back to normal. I had been told that thousands would bring me back to consciousness again. While in this condition I tried your NEW HEART CURE, and began to improve from the first, and now I am able to do a good day's work for a man of my age. I give credit for my recovery to your medicine. I have taken any, although I keep a bottle in the house in case I should need it. I have also used your NERVE AND LIVER PILLS, and find them a great deal of use.
