FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1893.

MONEYLESS ELOPERS.—Last Monday evening there arrived in this city an old man who at once looked up Chief of Police, J. S. Purdon, and informed him that he was looking for his daughter, Jennie Purcell who had run away with a young man named Fred Mossman, and that he was seen that morning coming this way from Portland where the parties lived. While they were talking the recreant couple passed along the other side of the street and were recognized by the father of the girl who directed Purdon to arrest them. He did so by placing his hands upon the shoulders of the pair and telling her that her father wished to see her. This greatly astonished the damsel and when her paternal ancestor insisted upon her accompanying him home she rebelled but the old gentleman was firm and although she resisted vigorously especially when being taken aboard the electric car she was taken back while her lover was allowed to languish in jail till the 10:30 car when a constable from Portland came up and took him down with iron ornamenting his wrists. The too loving couple had stopped Sunday night at a man's place named Robinson who lives near J. S. Blaney's, he sleeping in the barn while she occupied a bed in the house. The next afternoon they started out toward Clackamas and walked up the railroad track to this place. They were both without money and claimed to be on their way to Salem where he claimed to have friends who would assist him to marry the young lady. Mossman ought to have had money enough to have got married upon as he has been firing upon the Governor Newell. When the constable's assistant went to take him from the city jail to the car Mossman broke away and gave the deputy a lively chase.

THROWN FROM THE WAGON.—Last Tuesday afternoon as Albert Harrington of Highland was in the city on his usual Tuesday trip he was driving down Main street near Eighth when the Gladstone car came up behind him and frightened his team so that they started to run down the street. He tried to stop them but when nearly in front of the court house was thrown out and either struck upon his head and received severe cuts and bruises or by holding on to the lines and being dragged, his head struck stones and was cut. He held to the lines till near the corner of Ninth street when the team broke away and turned toward the river where they were caught. Mr. Harrington was assisted to the office of Dr. H. E. Ferrin where his wounds consisting of three severe gashes several inches long, two of which went to the bone and two had bruises were dressed. These bruises will cause Mr. Harrington considerable pain and discomfort for some time but are not dangerous. Mr. Harrington thought that if the car had been stopped by the motorman, Mr. Gibson, that he would have been able to have quieted the team so as to have prevented the accident, while Mr. Gibson says that he was trying to run so as to prevent an accident and that his experience as motorman has led him to try and get the car away, as stopping does not usually seem to do any good.

ADVERTISING FOR BIDS.—The Oregon City postoffice has received notices from the department to be posted advertising for bids for carrying the mails for the coming four years in this state, commencing July next. Those who wish to see a list of the routes and the terms upon which bids will be received by the department can do so by calling on the postmaster. Bids to be received by the department must be in Washington by the first of December. Any one desiring further information can procure it by addressing the second assistant postmaster general at Washington.

FOUND IT BETTER.—C. E. Knotts, who had charge of one the large hog driers during the season just closed in the Butteville district was in town on Saturday and says that there was much apprehension among growers at the time of the driving out of the Chinese pickers lest they should not be able to save their crops but the result was a surprise to them, as all yards were saved in fine shape notwithstanding the fact that the weather was quite damp most of the time. He says that one of the largest growers in the valley told him that he had never had his crop gathered in as good shape as this year, where at the opening of the season he was greatly concerned about securing his crop. One great advantage secured by the employment of white labor is the home market made for all kinds of farm products. The white pickers will use eggs, bread, chickens, milk and almost anything that the farmers has to spare while the Mongolian will not.

THE PARTY IS HOME.—On Tuesday a party of tramps created a surprise by driving into town for it was not supposed that the genrety of that persuasion usually rode, but as they seemed familiar with this locality a closer inspection was made which revealed their identity. It was the Randall camping party which had been absent for three weeks hunting and fishing in the Coast Range. During this time their beards had grown and they looked nearly as rough and dirty as the tramp who visits our doors begging for a cold bite. They report a pleasant time in spite of the rainy days which they experienced. They were out on the lower Nehalem and got there by driving over the Trask river route to Tillamook, thence up the coast to the mouth of the Nehalem where they left their teams and ascended the river in a boat. Fish were numerous and the dried meat with which they returned speaks well for their hunting qualities.

NEW FORM OF MONEY ORDER.—The department has just sent out notice to the several postmasters that beginning immediately there will be used a new form of money order which will in time displace the form now in use. The form which will be sent out as fast as the old forms are used up will differ from the old in that it will give upon the order itself the name of the payee. This has not heretofore been done and the recipient of an order could not tell till he had presented it at the postoffice whether or not there had been made any mistake in its issue or whom it was issued in favor of, consequently there were many delays which it is hoped will not occur under the plan now adopted. Another difficulty which will be remedied is that experienced by the party having several orders to send at once. Having the name before him he need not make any mistake. The new form will not be issued at the Oregon City office for several months yet as the supply of old orders will last some time.

A MERE GARDEN PATCH.—Several weeks since the Hillsboro Independent laid claim to the biggest potato patch in the state of Washington county and cited Thos. Paulsen's 16-acre patch as that field. The Independent man ought to come over to Clackamas county and go over a few of the fields that the prosperous farmers are raising without thinking them anything out of ordinary before bragging on "a mere garden patch." There are many farmers in this county who plant every season a patch of potatoes the size of the one mentioned and several plant a great deal larger patches. Among these may be mentioned the Hon. John Kruse with his 40-acre patch which is his usual crop.

CROSS ACROSS THE RIVER.—Robert Bieble one of the prosperous west side farmers was in the city from Stafford the first of the week and makes a very favorable report concerning the crops in his section of the country. The late rains he says have damaged the late sown oats to a limited extent but this loss is more than made up by the gain to the potato crop which has been much improved by the rains, and as there is a large acreage this will prove an important item in balancing the farm ledger for the year. The ground in most places is wet enough to permit of plowing and the farmers are taking advantage of the fine weather to get in fall grains.

VOLUME SIX OF THE SIGN.—The sign is the name of the neat paper which is published at the Oregon school for deaf-mutes and with the opening of the present school year it entered upon its sixth year, and it notes that the attendance which is 37 with several more in prospect is the largest ever enrolled. Among the names of the pupils which are published we note that Miss Laura Athey and Frank Johnson are present from Clackamas county. The current issue of The Sign gives the deaf-mute alphabet as one of its interesting features.

THE NEW SIDEWALKS.—It is a pleasure to walk along the street where the new walks are down and feel the solid and smooth plank beneath one's feet while there is no apprehension in the mind lest one strike a high plank or a nail to say nothing of the former danger from loose plank. Of course the street is yet torn up in many places and it is rough getting around but the new walks are being rapidly laid and as soon as the brick are in place so that there will be no trouble at crossings it will be good enough for any one.

A SUCCESSFUL OPENING.—Monday's Oregonian contained this favorable notice of the exposition: "The exposition building will be kept open and lighted for the benefit of exhibitors who desire to work in the arrangement of their exhibits on Monday and Tuesday evenings. As the press associations of Oregon and Washington are to be the guests of the city on Thursday, Friday and Saturday it will be of great benefit to every exhibitor that all exhibits shall be in complete order at the opening Wednesday evening. Superintendent Allen received a telegram from Liberator yesterday stating that he would arrive Tuesday evening with a band that would surpass any that has ever played at the exposition. This but corroborates the reports that have come to Mr. Allen from those who have heard the band, as it is now constituted. It is safe to say, therefore, that the music-loving people of Portland are not to be disappointed, but are to have a rich treat in the music that is to be furnished at the exposition this season."

A LARGE FACTORY.—The Coquille City Herald says that the contractor for the erection of the woolen mill at Bandon will soon be at work. The building will be the largest ever erected in the county. It will be three stories in height, be built of the very best and most durable materials in order to bear the weight and withstand the vibrations of the machinery when at work, and be also large and capacious. The lumber is already on the ground. The timber and brush on the eighty acres adjoining it are now being cut down, and it is expected that this work will be urgently pushed forward. The eighty acres are to be divided up into building lots in order to accommodate the employees of the mill, etc. This is the mill in which several of our capitalists and woolen mill men are interested and shows that our Oregon City men are prosperous wherever they may be.

TO LAUNCH THE OREGON.—The Union Iron works of San Francisco has written to Mayor Mason: "We intend to launch the great battleship Oregon, of 10,250 tons displacement, on the 28th of October and desire you to co-operate with the governor and other people of the state of Oregon, so that your state shall be represented at the launch. We therefore ask you to take such action among the officials and citizens as shall best produce the result desired." Governor Pennoyer has selected to christen the vessel Miss Daisy Ainsworth, of Oakland, a native of Oregon and a daughter of Captain J. C. Ainsworth.

BRICK LAYING TO BEGIN.—Thursday of this week was the day set by the contractors for the date when they would begin to lay the vitrified brick on Main street. They began hauling for the sand for the cushion brick on Tuesday. The makers of the brick say that beginning with the car loads shipped on Monday they will be prepared to ship three car loads a day as long as they are needed. This will be about as fast as the contractors will be able to get the ground ready and get them in place on the street.

NEBRASKA'S EX-GOVERNOR.—Ex-Governor James E. Boyd, of Nebraska, visited Oregon City Sunday and was shown all the things worth seeing by Manager Goode and Messrs. Sullivan and Burkholder, of the Portland General Electric Company. Mr. Boyd evinced intense interest in all he saw and heard and was enthusiastic in expressions of wonder at the city's natural advantages for manufacturing and in predictions of its future greatness.

Y. P. S. C. E. ENTERTAINMENT.—The young people of the Baptist Y. P. C. E., will give a reception Thursday evening of this week at the church to Miss Arnold, a graduate of the Chicago training school. Miss Arnold has been called to Oregon City on a salary to take charge of city missionary work of the society. She is a young lady of great energy and zeal and the society expect great results from her labor in this city.

GOOD FOR THE PAPER MILLS.—The Union Pacific has made a rate on newspaper in carload lots from this City to Utah common points of 90 cents per hundred, the new rate to go into effect October 2. This will enable the mills here to successfully compete with the Eastern manufacturers for the trade of a section of the country which ought to be supplied from here instead of from the far east.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—One that inspires confidence and is known to all residents of Clackamas county as a synonym of integrity and fair dealing is that of Bellomy & Busch. This firm from a comparatively small beginning has from year to year increased its stock, and now can justly claim to have the largest assortment of household goods in the county.

WILL RECOVER.—Mr. Henry Samson, of Needy, says the Oregonian, has been under treatment for senile gangrene for six weeks at Good Samaritan hospital. About a week ago he underwent amputation below the knee, and his complete recovery is now very probable. He will go home in about ten days. His son, ex-Sheriff Samson, of Oregon City, has been in attendance upon him.

TO TRADE.—Two yoke of good work oxen for oats or hay. Apply to Gladstone saw mill office.
