FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1893.

THE ALTONA TO SALEM.—Last Wednesday the Altona went up the river from this place to begin running as a passenger boat between Salem and Portland.

UNPRECEDENTED HIGH WATER.—The weather is always doing something out of or beyond the ordinary line and 1893 seems already to be in pretty fair shape to go down in history as the earliest part of the year was stormier than any within the recollection of the earliest settler.

THE DEBATING SCHOOL.—Last winter the different neighborhoods throughout the county took much interest in establishing debating societies which were generally well maintained as literary societies of no mean merit.

ALONG THE WIRES.—The storm, according to all reports has raged severely in all parts of the Pacific Northwest with unprecedented violence causing trouble and delay to all kinds of business.

LOOKING OVER THE GROUND.—Our correspondents in the northeasterly part of the county have upon several occasions noted the building of a telegraph line in that section of the county and last week mention was made in the correspondence of the fact that it was the intention of the company to extend the line to Oregon City.

WORK IS STOPPED.—At this unusual season of the year work of all kinds in the city is at a standstill and there is now almost nothing doing.

THEY ARE THANKFUL.—At a recent meeting of the Portland Press Club a motion was passed instructing the president and secretary to prepare and send out to those persons who had assisted in entertaining the Washington and Oregon editors at their annual meeting.

THE TOLEDO AT DAYTON.—The Dayton Herald in speaking of the Toledo and its trips from that place says: "Joel P. Geer of Butteville, owner of the steamer Toledo, was in Dayton on Saturday looking after the interest of his boat."

NEXT SEASON'S SURVEYS.—Surveyor-General Byars has been notified by the commissioners of the general land office that there has been apportioned for surveys of public lands, in the surveying district of Oregon, for the current fiscal year, the sum of $11,000.

NOVEL MILL DAM.—The Forest Groves Times describes a dam which is being built in that county which appears to be something of a novelty in its way.

PHILOMATHEAN SOCIETY NOTES.

Some Interesting Facts Concerning the Society and Its New Library.

The first meeting of the literary society since the opening of school was held last Tuesday evening. The new officers are: Sade Chase, president, Leighton Kelly, vice-president, William Lewthwaite, secretary, Daniel Tompkins, treasurer, Bert Beattie, second member of executive committee, Emily Tompkins, third member, Malcolm McCown, sergeant-at-arms.

The principal features of the meeting were the society journal, the debate and the large amount of business that came before the society for its consideration. The journal, edited by Leighton Kelly, contained an original story, school notes and lots of funny personals.

The program for the next meeting is more lengthy than usual; it calls for two debates, a society journal, declamations and songs by the original Philomathean Quartette.

Fuchs—Wolff Nuptials.

The social column of the Sunday Oregonian contained the following notice of a former Oregon City young man, Heiney Fuchs, as he was familiarly called by almost everyone in town.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. F. Wolff, father and mother of the bride, Mrs. Elizabeth Fuchs, mother of groom; Mr. and Mrs. John Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Fouts, Mr. and Mrs. George Fuchs, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Charman, Mrs. J. G. Bonnett, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Zwicker, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Buchner, Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Widermark, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyers, Misses Sophie Wolff, Helena Wolff, Rosa Wolff, Annie Graham, Ida Wood, Annie Niederman, Jessie Stora, Dora Bonnet, Anna Wolff, Gusie Oberender, Freda Wolff, Bettie Fouts and Ina Hunton, and Messrs. J. E. Wolf, Jacob Peterson, F. L. Zimmerman, Fred Wolff, Bennie Trenkmann, Allie Oberender, L. E. Hunton, Frank and Willie Wolf and Carl Wolff.

TO TRADE.—Two yokes of good work oxen for oats or hay. Apply to Gladstone saw mill office.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable.

Is Your Laundry Well Done? Nothing exasperates a person so much as to have a fine white garment returned from the laundry yellow and musy, buttons half off, and in a condition not fit to wear.
