TRAIN COLLISIONS.

Two Collisions For the Week—Many Killed and Injured.

TWO NOTED NAMES MENTIONED.

The Outlook For 1896 Discussed By An Eminent Editor—Wheat Very Low But Moving.

JACKSON, Mich., Oct. 13.—The most awful railroad disaster of the present year is what can be said of the terrible wreck which occurred this morning right in front of the depot of the Michigan Central company in this city. Twelve lives were wiped out and nearly twice that number of people mangled and crushed. All the people who were happy and joyful were on their way to Chicago presumably to visit the World's fair. This is the first wreck of any consequence on the Michigan Central railroad since 1870 and the result is appalling.

The train in which the casualties occurred was an excursion train that left Watertown, N. Y., yesterday for Chicago in two sections heavily loaded. The first section reached Jackson at 8:50 this morning and stopped at the depot to change engines. Many passengers alighted during the time to get a bit of breakfast during the wait. This in itself was a most fortunate occurrence as had it not been for this the list of killed and injured would have been much greater. While the first section was standing in the station the second section came into the yards at the rate of twenty miles an hour. The engineer saw the semaphore set and tried to stop but for unaccountable reasons the airbrakes on his engine failed to work and the heavy train crashed with terrific force into the cars standing still. The two rear coaches of the first section were telescoped and it was in these that most of the casualties occurred. In these cars every passenger was either killed or terribly injured. The third coach from the rear was thrown to one side and four passengers in it were killed and others injured. With the exception of the engine and baggage car the rear section was unharmed.

McKinley and Lincoln.

New York, Oct. 16.—Gen. Felix Agnus, editor of the Baltimore American, who has just returned from the world's fair with his brother-in-law, Collector Kilbreth, spent a day in Indianapolis with ex-President Harrison. "I had a very pleasant visit," said Gen. Agnus. "I find him still sad over his great bereavement in the death of his wife, but otherwise he was quite well. He said he thought the deplorable condition of the country was due almost entirely to the radical change from republican to democratic policy. It was not men but measures, he said mostly that made the difference. I spoke of 1896, but Gen. Harrison is not thinking of that very distant day. He spoke very kindly of McKinley, and said he was deeply interested in his fight in Ohio.

"I also met Robert Lincoln at a dinner in Chicago," Gen. Agnus continued. "I told him that the camp-fires were starting up for the great battle of 1896, and that many of the Southern republicans were turning to him as the man above all others to lead them on to victory. 'I am in no sense a candidate for presidential honors,' he said, 'but under no circumstance would I accept the nomination if it came from states that cannot deliver a single republican electoral vote. Besides you will find ninety-nine out of every 100 republicans in Illinois and the west are all in favor of McKinley. If McKinley wins his fight this fall, as we all expect him to do, by a good majority, I think he will almost inevitably be the republican standard-bearer for president in 1896. No other name is seriously thought of at present in the west. The financial depression out here has made every one want McKinley times again."

Leaving the State.

ASHLAND, Oct. 16.—Another batch of forty tramps arrived in Ashland on the freight from the north this evening. This gang attempted to take possession of the day coach on the overland at Grant's Pass this evening but were beaten off by trainmen with clubs and revolvers after numerous window lights in the car had been broken. The freight lays in Ashland over night before going south and the town is infested with tramps each night. Though aside from the Chinese outrage last Wednesday night no particular depredations have been committed.

Wheat Very Low But Moving.

PORTLAND, Oct. 12.—Wheat according to the Commercial Review is moving very freely from all quarters, the average daily receipts at this point since the 1st inst. exceeding 1300 tons. The outward movement would have made a satisfactory showing were it not for the stormy weather which has interfered with putting grain aboard ship. However, three full cargoes have been completed and the vessels are now down river or to go within a day or two. The market has shown a weak undertone throughout the week, partly owing to the pronounced weakness of eastern American markets and partly due to weak cables, which disclose a hesitancy on the part of European buyers to operate on an extensive scale in distant cargoes, and whenever sales are pressed, sellers are at a disadvantage and are generally compelled to make concessions. Sales of Walla Walla wheat have been free on the basis of 85@87½ per cental, the latter figure being an extreme and only obtainable for round lots of extra quality. Valley ranges at 95@97½ per cental for shipping grades and 97½@98 for milling.

California's Mid-Winter Fair.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—The fondest hopes of the projectors of the California Mid-winter International Exposition are more than realized. The prospects of its success have increased daily until now the greatest fogies of the United States are willing to admit its success. Its scope has been broadening daily. At first there were those who, unmindful that the word "fair" was unknown to Californians, doubted that exhibits and concessions enough would be secured to utilize the one hundred acres of Golden Gate Park set aside for the exposition. But since that time the executive committee has been forced to secure additional space until now the grounds will cover about 160 acres. There were those who said enough exhibitors could not be persuaded to bring their goods across the continent but the work of securing exhibits has been progressing rapidly though quietly and although it is by no means finished the administration knows that at least twenty-five nations will be represented at the fair when it opens in San Francisco on New Year's day. Applications for space have been literally pouring in upon the commissioner here who represent the various nations which will take part. So far from there not being exhibits enough to fill the buildings it is feared that many of those who make applications for space must be refused. This is so well understood that even after the commissioners have rejected a number of applications as below the high standard that has been made for the Mid-winter Fair it has even now been found necessary to build annexes to two of the buildings.

The Lick observatory exhibit will be transferred to the Mid-winter Fair after the close of the world's fair.

It has been announced that no applications for space will be received from exhibitors after the 25th of October.

Anti-Chinese Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The house this afternoon passed the McCreary bill, with the amendments offered by Geary and Caminetti. The bill, as passed, extends the provisions of the Geary law six months, defines Chinese laborers and Chinese merchants, makes mandatory photographic identification, requires marshals to carry out orders for deportation, and excludes Chinamen convicted of felony from permission to register. Geary declares that the bill as passed is perfectly satisfactory to the coast, and if enforced at the expiration of the time limit, will settle the Chinese problem. Those who depart will not be able to transfer their registration certificates and in the course of time all will disappear from these shores. The administration is also satisfied with the bill, so Chairman McCreary, of the foreign affairs committee, avers.

Receiver for the Union.

OMAHA, Oct. 13.—A plea in equity was filed in the United States district court today. Judge Dundy appointed S. H. H. Clark and E. Ellery Anderson of New York and O. W. Mink of Boston receivers for the Union Pacific railroad. The application for a receiver was made by the executors of the Frederick L. Ames estate, Oliver Ames, Samuel Carr, Edwin F. Atkins and Peter Wyckoff. The announcement of the application and appointment of the receivers came simultaneously about noon.

Children at the Fair.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Ten thousand tickets of admission to the world's fair were given to the principals of the various schools in the city today for distribution among the pupils by various public spirited citizens.

The attendance for the past week at the fair has been something over 2,000,000 persons. If the same ratio of attendance continues it will bring the grand total up to about 12,000,000.

Death of Marshal MacMahon.

PARIS, Oct. 17.—Marshal MacMahon died at 10 o'clock this morning at the Chateau LaForet, on the river Loire. He was able to take food till yesterday. During the night his strength gradually declined until the end came peacefully. Members of his family were at the bedside.

000,000,000,000,000.

This is What the Senate Has Done Since It Convened.

CANNOT GOVERN THEMSELVES.

How Can They Be Expected To Frame Wise Laws For the Country?—A Jail Burned.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The condition of the repeal bill in the senate with reference to a compromise is not so easy of definition today as it appeared Saturday when it was unmoved that a compromise had been agreed upon. The situation appears to have changed somewhat from the standpoint of the ultra repeal forces. The reason for this change real or apparent, is in fact that the administration has again made known its wish that a further effort be made to force the repeal bill through without amendment. It is said Cleveland is determined that congress shall continue to debate the question if necessary until December 1.

There will probably be no more night sessions in the senate while the repeal bill is pending. The silver senators clogged the wheels effectually for about two hours tonight and would probably continue to do so but for an understanding brought about by the entanglement, which was inaugurated between the opposing forces to check filibustering. A promise was made for some leaders on the repeal side of an attempt to so arrange matters as not to make another effort to secure night sessions. The agreement, while it was not perfected, had the effect of causing the silver men to cease their calls for a quorum and permitting Peffer to continue his remarks without interruptions from the call bell. When the arrangement is completed there will be no more night sessions.

Efforts at a compromise are kept up in a desultory way, and Senator Cockrell, who has taken the lead as a compromiser, continued his work in that direction. He did not, however, make material progress. Both radical democrats and republican repeal senators asserted positively that a compromise proposition would never secure the vote of sufficient senators to insure its adoption.

Murder at Pullman.

PULLMAN, Wash., Oct. 17.—Early this morning, at the Artesian hotel, a burglar shot A. B. Cooper, a clerk in Blackman Bros.' store, through the breast, killing him instantly. Cooper was sleeping with one of the Blackman brothers. Blackman was awakened by a pistol shot and sprung out of bed and got a light. He found Cooper on the floor, dead with a bullet wound, and gave an immediate alarm, but no trace beyond the murderers revolver, which had been dropped on the hall floor, could be found. All the doors in the hotel were locked. It is supposed that the burglar knew of Cooper's habit of carrying a large sum of money with him, and came into the room and endeavored to take the money from under his pillow. This is supposed to have awoke Cooper, who grappled with the thief and was shot. Several other guests of the hotel were also robbed of money and jewelry, though the latter was all found in the hallway. If the murderer is caught he will be hung by the citizens. G. F. Parker, a guest of the hotel, has been arrested on suspicion.

Baltimore Jail Burned

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 14.—The Brnsh electric-light works were entirely destroyed by fire last night. A spark fell from the machinery and quickly ignited the woodwork, which was saturated with oil. Within an hour the plant was in ruins and the city in darkness. A strong wind was blowing and showers of sparks were carried a great distance. When the fire was at its height flames were discovered in the eaves of the city jail. The warden was notified of the danger by the shrieks of the prisoners, who were frantic with terror and alarm. It is believed that all the prisoners were removed before the flames drove the rescuers from the scene. Loss to electric light works will be about $125,000.

Grant Family Reunion.

New York, Oct. 17.—A reunion of the Grant family was held tonight at the Fifth avenue hotel. All the living representatives of General Grant's family were present to bid Mrs Sartoris bon voyage as she sails for Europe tomorrow. There were present Mrs. General Grant, Hon. Fred Grant, wife and two children; Ulysses S. Grant, wife and two children, and Mrs. Sartoris, with three children.
