"You are Now One,"

Said the minister to the happy pair he had just tied together.

"Which one?" asked the bride.

"You will have to settle that for yourselves," said the clergyman, but they had not done it that moment, because they went to Bellomy & Busch and bought their household goods such as furniture, bedding, carpets, stoves, crockery, glassware, in fact every thing they needed for house keeping and are very well satisfied now.

A CLEAN SWEEP.

McKinley's Majority Will Reach 90,000 In Ohio.

NEW YORK ITSELF ONCE MORE.

Republican Roll—Ohio, New York, Massachusetts, Kansas, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Etc.

The additional election returns received yesterday carry out the predictions made Tuesday night of a clean republican sweep in all states, except Virginia, and even there the democratic majority was cut down. In Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania the majorities for the republican candidates were fully as great as the most enthusiastic had hoped. The following table shows the pluralities for the head of the republican ticket in the states mentioned:

Pennsylvania	130,000
New York (over Maynard)	90,000
Ohio	90,000
Iowa	35,000
Massachusetts	30,000

McKINLEY AND THE TARIFF.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7.—With a plurality of 50,000 and two-thirds of both branches of the legislature, McKinley has won the most decisive victory recorded in Ohio since the civil war. It has been won on national issues. It would not have been a surprise two weeks ago, but after the action of congress there seems to have been such a reaction that the overwhelming vote is a surprise. Democrats did not allow the contest to go by default, but made a most vigorous fight with harmonious working forces. Ex-Governor Campbell canvassed the state for Lawrence T. Neal all last week, and the democratic committee was hopeful after congress had reached a decisive action. The weather was pleasant all over the state, and there was a full vote of over 800,000. In former years there have been small votes, those of one party or other not turning out, but the voters were out today all over the state, and McKinley has a majority over all, with the democratic, prohibition and populist tickets opposed to him. This is the first majority over all any state candidate has ever had since Foster's election, just after Garfield's death in 1881. The republicans are apprehensive on one part of their victory. The legislature elected today does not select a United States senator, and it is over two-thirds republican—strongest since the war. With such a large working majority they fear such legislation by city members as may lead to defeat two years hence, when another legislature is to be selected that will choose Senator Brice's successor.

No more doubt being held, at midnight headquarters are being abandoned and meetings held nominating McKinley for president in speeches by Boutelle, Dooliver, Horr, Chairman Dick and others.

IOWA SOLIDLY REPUBLICAN.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 7.—The story of the election today can be told in a few words. It was a sweeping republican victory, giving to that party the governor, state officers and the general assembly, with the power to elect a United States senator to succeed J. F. Wilson. The day was quiet throughout the state, and the vote small. The first returns showed how the contest had progressed. They told of republican gains of from four to six to the precinct. This gain was kept, and added to the 22,000 republican plurality last year will make up the plurality of 30,000 or more for Jackson. The prohibition and populist vote according to present indication will reach 20,000 and 25,000 respectively. Chairman Blythe, of the republican state central committee, said: "Jackson will have 35,000 plurality and the general assembly will be republican by fifteen to twenty on joint ballot. The republican victory was won entirely on the economic issue. Prohibition was without any influence except as it increased prohibition votes. The verdict of the polls today is a plain refusal of the people of Iowa to endorse the Cleveland administration."

THE IRON STATE SPEAKS.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—Returns from 49 of the 67 counties, including Philadelphia and Alleghany, of the vote for state treasurer, show a net republican gain of 46,553, indicating a majority in the state of considerably above 100,000.

CHICAGO SHOWS REPUBLICAN GAINS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The elections today were hotly contested, and the republicans seem to have at a late hour tonight the best of it. The Times, the senior democratic paper, concedes the election of the entire republican judicial ticket, with one possible exception, and claims no more than five of the county commissioners inside the city. Outside of the city, of course, it is republican. The judicial ticket heretofore has been on a non-partisan basis, but this year the democrats broke away and nominated a ticket of their own, and the republicans seemed to have elected every judicial candidate. The great fight has been over the election of Judge Gary who presided at the trial of the anarchists. At the time Governor Altgeld pardoned the anarchists he made a severe attack upon Gary, and the fight has been between the latter against the state machine, with the result that Gary seems not only to have polled the full republican strength, but to have secured a portion of the democratic vote as well. General results show decisive republican gains over the presidential election of a year ago.

THE BAY STATE SAFE.

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—The result of the election in Massachusetts today can only be described as a huge political landslide. For the first time in three years the state will have a republican governor and his plurality is 30,000 at least. The whole ticket is elected with him and the legislature is solidly republican in both branches. Boston complete gives: Banks, pro., 1237; Greenhalge, rep., 29,320; Russell, dem., 39,065. Russell's plurality is 9764. One hundred and eighty-one cities and towns, including Boston, gives Banks 3923; Greenhalge, 91,213; Russell, 80,303, a republican plurality of 11,010. The same cities and towns in 1891 gave Allen, rep., 72,967; Russell, dem., 80,350, a democratic plurality of 6641, showing a republican gain of 17,411.

In 1891 Governor Russell carried the 25 cities outside of Boston by 30,000. Up to this hour there are few figures as yet from those cities, but the general drift of the returns received indicate that they will be carried by Greenhalge strongly. The percentage of gain and loss shows that Mr. Greenhalge will have in towns alone 16,000 votes more than the plurality in Boston, with 29 outside cities to hear from. One of these cities, New Bedford, gives him 1364 plurality, where in 1891 Russell and Allen were about even. The indications are that the other outside cities will increase Greenhalge's lead to 25,000 or 30,000.

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATIC AS USUAL.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 7.—The democrats had things their own way in Kentucky today, and according to reports received up to 9 o'clock the next legislature will be made up of 110 democrats, 25 republicans and 3 populists.

VIRGINIA GONE DEMOCRATIC.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov.—Revised figures of election returns, as made up by dispatches from two-thirds of the state at 2 a. m., show that the democrats have carried Virginia by a majority of not less than 25,000, and O'Farrell runs behind his ticket several thousand votes.

NEW YORK TOO IN LINE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—One of the most peculiar campaigns in the history of the state closed at sundown this evening, and it is safe to say the democratic managers are not more surprised at the result than the republicans. The dominant issue in all portions of the state has been ring rule, and the republicans in New York City, Brooklyn, Albany and Buffalo have been greatly assisted by the organized efforts of independent democrats. Isaac H. Maynard, candidate on the democratic ticket for judge of the court of appeals, against whom the independent democrats waged war, was overwhelmingly defeated. Practically complete returns indicate that the republicans elected their entire state ticket, and they will have a good working majority in the legislature. Returns at 1:30 A. M. indicate the election of republican senators, 18; democratic senators, 14; republican assemblymen, 74; democratic assemblymen, 54. This gives a republican majority in the senate of 5, in the house 20, and a joint ballot 24.

HAD ENOUGH OF THE POPULISTS.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 8.—Dispatches up to 2 o'clock from all parts of Kansas show republican gains. Twenty-seven counties heard from are all republican, including the most populous counties of the state, many of which were populist the past two years. It looks like a clean sweep of the state for the republicans. Additional returns show republican gains in nearly every county. Fusion seems to have proved a failure. In Sedgwick county, for instance, where it was tried again, there were tremendous republican gains.

McKINLEY'S 90,000.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 9.—The republican victory is complete and unprecedented. McKinley's plurality will possibly reach 90,000, the greatest ever given any governor except John Brough, and a more remarkable political revolution than even the enormous plurality of the war governor. The republicans have elected 25 or 26 of 31 senators, and from 85 to 95 representatives; also three-fourths of the county officials. All the congressional districts, except two appear to have gone republican. The

AWFUL ACCIDENT.

Ship Load of Dynamite Explodes Wrecking a City.

FIRE, RUINS AND DEATH.

More Than 1000 Killed—Destruction and Suffering—Thousands Homeless.

MADRID, Nov. 4.—From Boo, a village near Santander, the capital of the province by that name comes a frightful story of explosion, fire, havoc and death. The British steamer Volo, with a cargo of dynamite, arrived at Santander. The fact of the explosive being aboard was unknown to the authorities. Last evening the vessel took fire and the fire department hurried to the scene to prevent the spread of the flames to the other shipping, to the docks and to adjoining houses. The governor of the province, chief municipal officers and many leading citizens were superintending the work of subduing the flames. Just as the news was spread that the vessel contained dynamite, and the people started panic-stricken from the scene, the flames reached the terrible cargo and with a deafening roar it exploded, scattering death, fire and destruction on every side. The wharves shipping and neighboring houses were torn to fragments. The whole city was shaken as if by an earthquake, and windows were shattered for miles around. Among the prominent people missing is the governor of the province, who was last seen on the deck fighting the flames in the front rank. Others supposed to be dead include several representatives of the municipal and provincial government, besides many citizens. Fire at once broke out in the ruins of the shattered buildings, and spread to those still standing with great rapidity. The inhabitants were so dazed by the shock of the explosion that they were for a long time unable to do anything to stay the spread of the fire, which as this dispatch was sent was eating its way from house to house, threatening the destruction of the whole city. The explosion threw down all the wires, cutting off telegraphic communication with the city, hence the first news came from Boo. Finally communication was opened with the adjacent country, and all the villages in the neighborhood sent fire apparatus to the scene, and a strong combined effort is being made to save the city. All sorts of reports are current as to loss of life, ranging from hundreds down to fifty. The rapid spread of the fire prevented any systematic attempt at recovering the bodies or learning the number of the dead.

Private telegrams say that over 1,000 people met their death by the fire and explosion at Santander. In addition a trans-Atlantic steamer was burned, and forty of her crew perished. It is reported that in addition to the killed already mentioned, the president of the provincial council, the colonel and chief officials of the civic guard are seriously wounded. It is also said the whole city will likely be destroyed and the population of 80,000 rendered homeless. A dreadful panic prevails on all sides. Engines from many points have arrived and are making a determined stand against the flames.

Armed Rebellion Next.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Dispatches were received yesterday with information concerning the acts of tramps on the lines of the Southern Pacific company. A gang of forty-eight tramps boarded a train outside of the city limits of El Pasco. An attempt was made to persuade them to leave the train at Lordsburg, but they refused to do this and said that they had jobs in San Francisco and that they were on the way to this city. They were armed and demanded to be carried free westward. Four dispatches were received, of which one was as follows: The tramps are organized and travel in gangs of thirty to 100, with a captain and lieutenants. All parties joining them on the road are required to put up what money they have, and a ticket is issued to each member, which entitles him to travel with the gang and eat with them when provisions are furnished.

Other dispatches have lately been received, indicating that the tramps are determined to ride free.
