Oregon at the Mid-Winter.

Oregon's way is now clear for partici-Francisco has been attended by successful results. Tuesday evening Colonel Mitchell, superintendent, received dispatches from Captain Mitchell, the first Oregon in demanding free space in the pected. grounds of the mid-winter fair, coupled rule prohibiting all exhibitors, whether states, counties or individuals from sharing in jury awards unless the exor classified building. Neither of these cross, until he made his appearance. rules were acceptable to the committee of 15 and taking advantage of a businesstrip Captain Mitchell intended to make to San Francisco, he was requested to do day? to best to set the two obnexious rules aside. Late last night he wired: answer.
"Well," said Belinsky when he was and all exhibits in the building will be in competition for awards. This by vote of the executive committee," A meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce building today at 5:30 to decide upon location and space, and to push the work forward at once. Chairman George T. Myers arrived from Seattle on Monday, and will doubtless preside, At this time everything promises well for Oregon to make a good showing.

Philomathean Society Notes.

Quite a number of the members of the society are going to take part in the entertainment to be given by the King's Daughters, Friday evening at Shively's hall.

Several of the members of the High school are expecting to join the society at its next meeting.

The librarian is kept busy looking after the books as there is a great demand for them.

The last meeting was the first open meeting and quite a number of visitors were present. The program was as

Song-"I Heard a Voice"-Misses Anna Dolan, Sade Chase, Ina Chase and Vara Caufield.

Recitation "The Dark Bridal" Bert Beattie.

Song "Mary Had a Little Lamb" Philomathean Quartette.

Debate-"Resolved, That Washington was a Greater General Than Bonaparte;" affirmative, C. A. Purdom, Imo Harding; negative, George McBride and Eva Meldrum. Solo-"The Day When You"il Forget Me"..... Kate Ward.

Miss Finley was critic for the evening. The subject for debate being a very difficult one, the debate was not as good as usual. The debate was decided in favor of the affirmative, Prof. Soulen, Josie Fullerton and Hattie Case acting as judges.

The instrumental piece by the boys was something new and very amusing. The next meeting will be held on Saturday, November 26 and will be devoted to Longfellow and his works.

"Sweet Charity."

In the Artists' Exhibition of 1893 at the New York Academy of Design, there shillon's BELLADONNA PLASTER 550. was exhibited an oil-painting by J. L. G. Ferris, entitled "Sweet Charity." Its richness of coloring commanded instant attention, while the lesson it taught was so impressive that one naturally returned to it for a second

Its subject is a young lady of colonial Rec times who is on an errand to one of the poorer families of the town. She has Cross a sensible, charming lace which expresses with remarkable fidelity the Tansy a sensible, charming face which exsentiment of her errand. A Story of a Russian Novellat. Turgenieff once asked the famous critic, Belinsky, and five others to dine with him at his home in the country, where he kept a famous chef.

"I will prepare such a banquet for you as you have never imagined," he declared, and he not only fixed the day, but insisted upon each person's giving his word of honor that he would be

"Don't fear for us," said Belinsky. 'We shall be there, but you must not repeat the trick you played us last winter, when you asked us to dine and were not at home when we arrived. In order to remind you I will write to you the day before.'

On the appointed day-a very hot day the party set out for the country house in the morning and arrived thoroughly pating in the midwinter fair. The mis- fatigued by heat and dust. But no host sion of Captain H. E. Mitchell to San appeared to welcome them. The house was deserted. Repeated knocking at the door was answered by silence.

"Can Turgenieff have repeated last winter's trick?" exclaimed Belinsky. His friends tried to persuade him that they showing that Nevada would stand by had arrived earlier than they were ex-
