CHAT ABOUT TOWN.

Boarding at Mrs. Howard's will satisfy you. Fur babies and children's pictures go to Brown's gallery. J. G. Foster of New Era was about the streets the first of the week.

The latest in visiting cards at the Enterprise Office. Prices to suit you. Good green tea 30c. a pound. Choice colored 37 1/2c. a pound at the Red Front.

If you have a picture to enlarge take it to Brown's gallery and the work will be sure to suit you. DON'T FAIL TO WITNESS THE GRAND march at Armory hall December 25th of the Red Men's Masquerade ball.

The infant child of E. E. Taylor of Canemah died last Thursday aged nine days and was buried the following Saturday. The new floral panel-picture ready for delivery to our readers for a Thanksgiving present from us is described at length in another column.

Hall's Hair Renewer cures dandruff and scalp affections; also all cases of baldness where the glands which feed the roots of the hair are not closed up. On December 1st Mrs. Howard will open a boarding house corner, Sixth and Main streets where a few boarders wishing home accommodations may be supplied. Those wishing to engage board may apply now.

It is strange that some people will suffer for years from rheumatism rather than try such an approved standard remedy as Ayer's Sarsaparilla; and that, too, in spite of the assurance that it has cured so many others who were similarly afflicted. Give it a trial. There is no article of furniture made that is so popular or is used so extensively as an Xmas present as the handsome and luxurious, fancy rocking chair. We all realize this fact and a large number of us realize that no better place exists to buy these rockers than the establishment of Bellomy & Busch.

MUSIC BY THE WILLAMETTE STRING band under the leadership of Prof. John Everset of Portland for the Red Men's Masque ball December 25th. Mack Howell who is a candidate for councilman on the citizens ticket has been annoyed by reports to the effect that he pays no tax in the city and that he is not a property owner. He says that he is not only a property owner but that the records show that he has paid taxes to support the city and invites any who wish to inspect the records for themselves.

Messrs. H. P. Hardman and J. B. Dregelis who have just come from New York have opened up a tailor shop to be known as the New York where all kinds of tailoring can be secured at eastern prices, workmanship guaranteed. It is their determination to do such work and at such prices as will keep the work in this city instead of Portland.

UNITED STATES SENATE.

A Lengthy Session—The Hawaiian Question Under Consideration.

The United States Senate for Oregon City was called to order by President Miller promptly at 7:30 o'clock p. m. at the A. O. U. W. hall last Friday. Minutes of previous session read and approved.

Resolution introduced by Mr. Spencer, of West Virginia, for an amendment to the constitution, providing for the election of president and United States senators by direct vote.

Report of committee on judiciary favorable on senate bill No. 1, introduced by Mr. Powell of South Dakota, providing for a department of education, with a secretary for that department in the president's cabinet. On motion, this bill was made a special order for business on Friday evening, December 1, at 8 p. m.

President Miller having another engagement for the evening, asked to be excused and called Senator Hyde to the chair.

The hour of 8 o'clock having arrived, senate resolution No. 2, introduced by Mr. Ferrin, of Connecticut, which had been made a special order for the hour, was taken up. This resolution censured the Hawaiian policy of President Cleveland, and demanded that the president make no further effort to restore monarchy in Hawaii, but should use all honorable means to bring about annexation of the islands to the United States.

On motion, President Miller was asked to give in brief his views on the Hawaiian question. In a short speech the president pronounced himself an ardent annexationist and hoped to see the islands a part of the great American union in the near future. Our growth and commercial interests make the Hawaiian islands an imperative necessity to our full development, and especially to the prosperity of the Pacific Coast.

At the conclusion of the president's speech Senator Ferrin took the floor and opened the debate with a fiery speech in defense of his resolution. He demanded that President Cleveland should be impeached should he restore Queen Lili to the Hawaiian throne, and asked that the senate counteract the administration's monarchical tendencies and bring about the annexation of the islands to the United States.

Senators Strange, Dye, Meldrum, Swope, Hoffman, Meserve, Hammond, Noble and Powell spoke in favor of the resolution and brought out many and weighty reasons for the annexation of the islands, and were vigorous in their condemnation of the administration's policy.

The resolution was opposed by Senators Spencer, Rinearson, Straight, Driggs and Campbell, who depicted the direful results that would follow annexation, and portrayed in a most feeling manner the anguish they suffered by reason of the many wrongs and insults that had been heaped upon Queen Lili and her friend President Cleveland.

The senators having become warmed up in the debate the previous question was moved to prevent an all night session. A vote was taken, resulting in 18 votes for the resolution and 7 against.

The report of the committee on ways and means was taken up and made a special order for business for the next session at 7:30 p. m.

H. E. Smith and J. C. Bradley were proposed and elected members. Senate adjourned to meet Friday, December 1, at 7:30 p. m.

Go to Brown's gallery for your Christmas photo's before it is too late. School department cards one cent each at the Enterprise office.

Opium Smugglers Plead Guilty.

The interest taken by the public in the smuggling cases, which are to occupy the time of the United States district court for the next two or three weeks, was shown by the crowd which filled every available seat and space in the courtroom on Monday some time before court convened. It was fully understood that Nat Blum, whose case was to come up, would plead guilty, but many were evidently anxious to see the noted smuggler who has attracted so much attention of late.

Attorney Starr arose and, speaking for his client, Blum, said: "Your Honor, we desire at this time to enter the plea of guilty." The court then asked Blum if he pleaded guilty, and rising to his feet Blum answered rather faintly, "I do."

Sentenced was suspended and Blum left the courtroom closely followed by a deputy marshal. He will be under his present bonds until sentenced, but his liberty will be only in name, and he will be kept under strict surveillance.

The indictment to which he pleaded guilty was not read, but charges him with smuggling opium on five counts, the quantity smuggled amounting in value to $48,600.

In the afternoon five others plead guilty. Sweeney was first arraigned, and the indictment was read to him charging him with smuggling the 800 pounds of opium stolen from the Haytian Republic, and a second count with facilitating the transportation of this opium to the house of Nat Blum and on a third count for concealing the opium. He entered a plea of guilty to all the counts, and on a motion of Mr. Murphy his sentence was suspended.

Jackling, Patterson, Berg and Garthore were then arraigned jointly under a general indictment charging them with entering into a conspiracy with Nat Blum, William Dunbar, F. J. Mulkey, C. B. Cardinell, A. A. Porter, R. G. Paddock, Chas. Linville, M. Kearney, M. Caro, John Ross, James Lotan and John Doe to smuggle opium into the country. The indictment contained five counts, in each of which it was alleged that in furtherance of this conspiracy Dunbar, Blum and Jackling did, at various times, smuggle large quantities of opium. Each of the four separately entered a plea of guilty.
