SALMON AND STEURGEON.—The many fishermen at the falls of the Willamette and the lower Clackamas will be interested in this account from the lower Columbia and the plan proposed for increasing the fish supply. It is as follows: The continued scarcity of sturgeon in the Columbia river is working a great hardship on the fishermen, who have expended large sums of money for gear and arranging for the fall and winter fishing.

OPUM SMUGGLED TO OREGON CITY.—It has probably not been thought by our people that the operation of the opium smugglers would be extended to this city but so many are the wiles of those who are trying to smuggle in opium that it is not a matter to cause particular surprise when the tracks of these gentry are discovered far from their usual haunts.

UPPER RIVER COMPETITION.—The Statesman notes that competition on the upper river is becoming brisk and that a passenger rate war has been inaugurated on the river. It has not come wholly unexpected. A short time ago the Altona, it seems, made some sort of a move which sorely displeased the other boats and talk was very freely indulged in touching upon a reduced rate of passenger fare.

ANNUAL CREAMERY MEETING.—On Monday of this week the Clackamas County Creamery association held its annual meeting and elected officers for the ensuing year. The report of the board of directors showed that some of the machinery had been disposed of in accordance with the vote of the meeting last year, but that the real estate, building and part of the machinery was still owned by the company.

Board of Trade's Annual Meeting—Officers for the Year.

Last Monday evening was the regular monthly and annual meeting of the Oregon City board of trade and the room in which the meetings are held was well filled with representative business and professional men of this city who took an active interest in the proceeding.

Before proceeding to the election of officers Secretary F. E. Donaldson reported relative to the condition of the board at this time compared with one year ago, showing that seventeen citizens of the city had shown their appreciation of the work being accomplished by the board by joining. Owing to the financial situation during the year not much had been attempted by the board but with the new year and the pamphlet which is being prepared it is thought that 1894 will not be far on its way before the board will have shown its capacity for good in work done and results accomplished.

Treasurer T. L. Charman stated that his report was in the hands of the finance committee and would be presented at the next meeting. The amount of money on hand was stated by him to be $142.

The following officers were then elected: Geo. C. Brownell, president; Major Thos. Charman, first vice-president; H. E. Smith, second vice-president; F. E. Donaldson, secretary and T. L. Charman treasurer.

Upon the report of the advertising committee that funds were needed to make the initial payment upon engravings required for the new pamphlet, the secretary was authorized to draw a warrant upon the treasurer for $50 to be used for that purpose.

Isaac Blum representing the finance committee of the Mid-winter fair association was present and being invited to address the board spoke at considerable length of the work undertaken by the association and their plan of securing funds and exhibits. The board endorsed the work undertaken by the association and expressed its disposition to assist the association by appointing as a committee to canvass the county and secure funds and an exhibit, T. L. Charman, H. E. Smith, J. G. Fishbury, Chas. Meserve and J. T. Apperson who were authorized to appoint persons in the several localities in the county to cooperate with the board in securing funds. The list of subscriptions was headed by Capt. J. T. Apperson with $50. Much interest was evinced in the proposition and it is thought the Clackamas county will do its part in making the exhibit from Oregon a success.

In order to make a speedy and thorough canvass of the county the committee has invited the following named parties living in different parts of the county to cooperate with them in securing subscriptions: Molalla, J. W. Thomas; Marquam, Barton Jack; Neely, J. D. Ritter; Meadow Brook, Chas. Holman; Clarks, G. W. Grace; Highland, Ed. Harrington; Viola, W. C. Ward; Springwater, Al W. Lacey; Logan, Hon. Jas. Tracey; Curtinville, Prof. D. F. Warner; Mulino, C. T. Howard; Caras, Dr. J. Castro; New Era, Eli G. Maddock; Canby, V. O. Mack; Milwaukie, R. Scott; Clackamas, Chas. F. Clark; Damascus, Wm. Boring; Eagle Creek, H. Wilburn; Sandy, H. Bruns; Mink, John Moeckke; Wilsonville, Hon. J. Kruse; Pleasant Hill, C. T. Toose; Union precinct, Jacob Miley; Barlows, Hon. Wm. Barlow; Stafford, J. Q. Gage; Oswego, G. W. Prosser; Salmon, Mrs. J. T. McIntyre.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sent for circulars; face.

The World's Fair in Retrospect.

The largest and handsomest monthly magazine of the season is THE ESQUIRE MAGAZINE for January, with its 388 pages. It is devoted to a retrospect of the World's Fair, embracing special papers by notable writers, and the fullest collection of pictures of the Fair that has been published. The architectural mechanical, electrical, mining, and transportation features of the great Exposition are capably treated by such writers as Henry Van Brunt, Robert H. Thurston, Elihu Thompson, Rossiter W. Raymond, Colonel Henry G. Prout, and others of like prominence, while Andrew Carnegie discusses the value of the World's Fair to the American people, and General Alfred T. Goshorn compares it with the Centennial Exhibition of 1876. An account is given of the organizers and designers of the World's Fair, and a statement of its cost and income. The illustrations artistically portray an immense number of important mechanical and other exhibits in the field to which this capital magazine is devoted. This number, is, in short, specially designed to indicate the practical value of the World's Columbian Exposition to the science and industry of the time, and deserves to be bound for permanent preservation in the library of every one who is interested in modern industrial progress. The great array of special matter here outlined does not prevent the appearance in their usual completeness and variety of the editorial departments of the magazine, each under the name of an acknowledged expert in his particular field. Altogether it is the most readable and most attractive magazine of the year. Published from the Times Building, New York. Price 25 cents.

THEY TRIED DYNAMITE.—Since the disappearance of Joseph Rechner on the 26th of December last there has been much speculation as to the cause of his sudden disappearance, but all speculations have failed to solve the mystery. On Tuesday it was deemed advisable to explode dynamite in the river for the purpose of trying to raise the body if it had found a resting place there and several heavy shots were fired but without anything being brought to the surface. It begins to look as if the mystery may never be solved.

CROWDED SCHOOL ROOMS.—Possibly the residents of the Oregon City school district are surprised that the enrollment was so great after the Christmas holidays that the school board was obliged to seat and furnish another room in the new building so as to relieve the fourth and fifth grades which were crowded far beyond the capacity of the room to seat or the ability of the teachers to handle. The new room is presided over by Miss Maggie Williams who has for the past year been engaged in teaching the Falls View school.

Oregon Will Be There. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—H. E. Mitchell, the Oregon commissioner to the Midwinter fair has arrived in the city again full of enthusiasm for the exposition in general and for Oregon's part in it in particular. Mr. Mitchell says "Oregon's building is all ready to ship. It will be here within a few days. And what is better than that, we have got money with which to erect it and to stock it with a creditable exhibit. We have got money in good hard coin and the exposition management may rely upon it that our exhibit will be everything it should be. We shall not rely entirely upon what we had at Chicago by any means, but will augment it in every way and as a matter of fact, the greater part of the exhibit will be entirely new. It is true that we have been a little late in getting thoroughly started, but we intend to make up for lost time by pushing hard."

INCREASING THEIR CAPACITY.—The Crown paper mills have found a growing market for their product during the last few months and of late have found it difficult to keep up with the orders. In order to increase the capacity of their mill they are planning to put in a couple of engines or beaters so that they may make stock ready faster than is now possible. In order to do this they will remove a partition, throw across some heavy steel beams and consolidate machinery by moving the grinders. They are also placing a new winder which was made at the Oregon City Iron Works.

Is Your Laundry Well Done?

Nothing exasperates a person so much as to have a fine white garment returned from the laundry yellow and mussy, buttons half off, and in a condition not fit to wear. The Troy Steam Laundry sends out none but first class work—a trial order will convince you. Office with F. A. Waddock, post office building. Bundles left Tuesday evening will be returned Saturday morning.
