

CLACKAMAS COUNTY

THE ENTERPRISE CORRESPONDENTS SWEEP THE FIELD.

Beaver Creek Items—Prepared by the School in their Language Work—A. C. Strange, Teacher.

Rev. R. Staub and wife went to Portland Monday to spend a few days with their children.

Miss Grace Bohlander, of Oregon City, is visiting at home for several days.

The young people of the Reformed church are going to start up a young people's meeting.

Miss Louise Steiner has been very ill and was not expected to recover, but is now somewhat better.

Miss V. Kirk was a visitor to our school last week.

David Thomas was the loser of a couple of sheep last week, some one's dog having killed them.

E. Owens and John Shannon are clearing a piece of ground in the canyon, cutting down trees and charcoaling the stumps, and will finish in about two months.

In the contest between the Mink spelling school and the one at this place last Wednesday evening the former were victorious.

They have been challenged to meet us again, however, and will probably do so in about two weeks. Miss Lottie Ely and Robbie Gmther bore off the laurels of the evening.

The boys of the school have been prospecting for iron with a magnet the past week and succeeded in finding considerable sand nearly entirely iron in Beaver creek.

The directors have purchased for us the past week in the way of apparatus a physiological chart and a map. We are very thankful for them as they have been very much needed.

At the election of officers in the Beaver Creek Justice's Court last Thursday, Jacob Steiner was elected judge and Charles Eix by prosecuting attorney. Another open meeting will be held in two weeks.

School is very full now, there having been an average attendance last week of forty-five.

Mr. Parry, of Oregon City, has rented a place in this neighborhood and moved out last week.

The people in the Carus neighborhood are trying to get an electric railway built out that way from Oregon City. At a meeting held a week ago Monday night several subscribed very liberally to the subsidy required.

HIGHLAND HAPPENINGS.

A Correction Made—Defunct Literary Society—Sundry Local Notes.

HIGHLAND, Jan. 29.—I wish to correct a statement in your paper of January 19th, written in Highland items, dated January 10, stating that E. Harrington had a social hop at his house the evening of January 6, which was a falsehood, told with the intention of injuring E. Harrington and family. About twenty-five of E. Harrington's friends were gathered at his house and spent the evening very pleasantly by singing and listening to instrumental music and making candy, after which we were treated to a sumptuous lunch and then started for our respective homes. There was no dancing nor playing. Orlando Fellows has not been sick since then from the effects of eating too much candy, as stated. Mr. "Correspondent" should be very careful and write nothing but the facts.

Our Sunday school is in a very prosperous condition with about forty-five scholars enrolled. Charles Rutherford superintendent. It is thought the attendance will be better as soon as the weather becomes settled.

The Highland Literary society died for want of breath; and we would like it from what the president of the populist club says, that that concern is liable to die from over-exertion.

Highland Grange No. 261 holds its regular meetings the first Saturday of each month and is in a flourishing condition. New members are added to the list nearly every meeting.

William Livingston, from near Salem, was in this settlement last week visiting friends and neighbors, and on his return took his son Charles with him for the purpose of sending him to school at Salem.

A surprise party was held at James Parrish's last Friday evening. A grand time is reported.

Many are complaining of bad colds; otherwise the health of this vicinity is good.

GRIST.

Leland District.

LELAND DISTRICT, Jan. 21.—The weather is very warm with a great deal of rain for this time of year. But grain looks well. The farmers of this neighborhood are busy between showers grubbing out stumps.

The spelling school at the Leland school house last Friday evening was well attended. Miss Lottie Eastman and Miss Zella Rider carried off the honors of the evening.

Rev. Mr. Jones of Oswego gave the people of this place a very instructive lecture last Saturday evening and preached at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

Mr. Curtis, state superintendent of Congregational Sunday schools, will preach here next Sunday evening, February 4, and will organize a Christian Endeavor society.

Mr. Mott, of New Era, has sold his farm to Mr. Moore, of Portland, for $2300.

Enos Cahill's mill, like all other manufacturing concerns, is standing still for want of orders.

HATREED.

Mink Musings.

MINK, Jan. 30.—Chas. Moehnke is again able to return home. On his way home he brought a land buyer to Mink, but his money was too small to purchase land in Mink.

Rev. Karns preached his first sermon in Mink last Sunday. He will make his home at Mr. Stabens.

Robert Guenther was on his way to Oregon City this morning and he says they have another little boy at home.

Misses Minnie and Emma Blum were home to spend Sunday with their mother.

REDLAND RAMBLINGS.

The Literary Society on the Improve—Wedding Bells—Other Neighborhood Notes.

REDLAND, Jan. 28.—As usual a crowded house greeted the efforts of the literary society last Saturday. The success of the society and the interest manifested by the neighborhood have surpassed the most sanguine expectations of the founders of the society.

The improvement of the young folks in literary attainments has been rapid and extremely encouraging. The society has certainly been a benefit and is a source of pleasure to old and young. The program last Saturday was unusually full and varied, and the young people who took part deserve great credit for their performance.

The following received credit marks: Claude Stone, Ida Young, Maud Stone, Ella Dempster, Otis Boylan, Evelyn Dempster, Mattie Dempster, Irene Johnson, Mark Sprague, Lester Sprague, Mabel Johnson, Fred Berky, Olan Boylan, Ethel Sprague, Lizzie Armstrong, Hattie Wilcox, Milda Linn, Jane Noyer, Dan Mosher, Jack Fulham, Tim Linn, Frank Linn, James Linn, Phil Linn. The youthful debaters led by Dan Mosher and Ed Johnson acquitted themselves very creditably considering their youth and inexperience. The question, Resolved, That the right of suffrage should be based on education, was decided in the affirmative. The next question to be discussed is, Resolved, That the vegetable kingdom is of more benefit to man than are the mineral and animal kingdoms combined. J. D. Wood affirmative and W. H. Dempster negative. The society decided to accept the invitation of the Logan debaters to meet them in joint discussion of the question, Resolved, That the warriors of more benefit to the welfare of a nation than is the statesman. The meeting to be at Harding's hall next Saturday, the 3d of February, at 1 o'clock p. m. The following speakers are to represent Redland: W. E. Mumpower, W. H. Dempster, Wm. Stone, J. D. Wood, G. C. Campbell, John Hatton and — Whitman.

Last Saturday Miss Bertha Boylan and Arthur Mattoon were married by Justice Miller of Highland. In the evening the newly married pair were treated to a rousing old-fashioned chartvari which was promptly met by an invitation to "walk in," and the groom came down handsomely and treated the boys to candy, cigars, etc.

Reverend Sylvanus and Quinn of Springwater were the guests of G. C. Armstrong last Monday.

Mrs. Cohn is visiting in Portland for a week or two.

Ezra Johnson, who has been sojourning in Redland for some time, has gone to Montavilla.

W. J. Johnson spent several days in Portland last week.

J. D. Wood's school is progressing finely with more than 40 pupils enrolled.

Julius Campbell and Asa Boylan are intending to build a hall, the work to begin this week.

Farmers are still plowing. A populist meeting was held at the Strickland school house last Saturday where the causes and cure of hard times were discussed.

Mrs. Frank Stone gave birth to a girl on Sunday the 27th.

MARQUAM MENTION.

Incipient Biaz—Stealing Wheat—Anxious for an Electric Line.

MARQUAM, Jan. 30.—Some miscreant entered J. T. Drake's barn last Sunday night and carried away several bushels of wheat.

Mrs. E. M. Hartman is quite ill, but is improving at present writing.

Miss Bell Ridings gave Molalla a flying visit this week. She reports having had a good time.

Mrs. E. Skirvin started for West Point today to visit her invalid mother.

The house of H. S. Skirvin caught fire one night last week. The flames had gained considerable head way when discovered, but a bucket brigade was soon formed and the fire extinguished with only a bad scare and little damage.

The railroad meeting advertised for this place on the 31st, will be largely attended by our citizens who have a deep interest in such enterprises and are willing to give a helping hand. A motor line from Oregon City extending through Clackamas county would be a bonanza to any company and open to market a rich country which is almost isolated from any mode of travel. The time has now arrived when the people and country both demand a railroad of some description and the first company that embraces the golden opportunity will be doubtly paid for their expenses.

Currinsville Cullings.

CURRINSVILLE, Jan. 30.—The following named persons have been very sick with the grip: G. Lion, Mr. Hamilton, Mrs. Robert Currin, Prof. Warner, Park Brown, Norman Tracy, Theodore Shankland and Katie Currin.

Dr. E. T. Carnes, of Portland, is in this town on business.

The dance at this place a few nights ago was way-up-and-a-coming as was remarked by everyone present.

Rev. Malloy preached an able discourse Sunday evening.

Ed. Bates went to Portland with a big load of fine winter apples last Monday.

A few good work horses were sold at this place last week and farmers wishing good horses for spring work should come to Currinsville before buying.

L. H. Hale met with quite a painful accident last Friday morning while riding one of his horses out of the pasture. The animal became frightened and ran away and while running the animal stumbled and fell throwing the rider on his shoulder and fracturing one of the bones.

It was remarked the other day by a man that is addicted to the use of liquor that hard times is superior to the Keeley cure for remedy.

The A. O. U. W. had another interesting meeting last Saturday.

Salmon Spray.

SALMON, Jan. 25.—As Thomas Lawrence was on his way to his home at Upper Salmon on a trip to Sandy, the bridge over Boulder creek, between Cherryville and Salmon, went down with his team and sled.

He fortunately escaped with a few bruises. The horses were also bruised so that they will not be of much use for a while.

Our mail failed to arrive on Tuesday on account of the accident to Boulder creek bridge, and accompanying high water. This bridge is on the road claimed by the toll road company.

The snow has all disappeared in this valley and the rain is coming down as usual. The air is mild and balmy.

PROGRESS.

HAZALIA HITS.

Too Wet for Farmers—Poor Potato Market—The Sick Mending.

HAZALIA, Jan. 30.—The much needed repairs on the road between here and Oswego are being done as fast as the weather will permit. Supervisor Prosser is having gravel hauled and put in the many places where the heavy rains have caused washouts and mire holes.

The farmers are now trying to dispose of their potatoes, but the low price offered is discouraging.

So far but little plowing has been done, as the constant rains have kept the ground too wet.

Considerable new ground is being cleared and other improvements are going on.

Those having peach orchards are now pruning them.

These warm days are causing some uneasiness among the fruit raisers but not half so much as the Wilson bill is. That strikes a blow that hurts us in more ways than one.

The sick are all convalescent. Mr. Ford was able to go to Portland to visit his daughter two days ago.

Mrs. Eben Hays, of Sherwood, is visiting at her son's, J. R. Hays, Mr. Ackerson from Nebraska is a brother of Mrs. Hays. They had not met before in eighteen years.

Miss Flora Dyer, of Oswego, who has been visiting in the neighborhood, was called home by the illness of her sister who is very low with pneumonia.

The voters of the school district met last Saturday and voted a two mill tax for school purposes.

E. Hamilton, who formerly lived here, died of paralysis at Waterloo, Oregon, January 12.

Messlames Walling and Childs organized a reading circle last week. The spelling school, literary society and reading circle keep all busy.

At the last meeting of the literary society Alice Tufts, a little girl not yet six years old, recited "Barbara Fritchie" in a splendid manner. The next question to be debated by the society, is, Resolved, That intemperance causes more misery than war.

Central Pointlets.

CENTRAL POINT, Jan. 29.—Nearly all the farmers of this place are busy at present grubbing and clearing land.

Rev. Jones, of Oswego, delivered a lecture at the Leland school house last Saturday night which was attended by nearly every one in the neighborhood.

Henry Waldron is laid up in bed with a game leg which he received at a jumping match last Sunday.

David Penman, Jr., has just completed a fence along the road in front of his farm and intends to break a piece of land soon that he has grubbed this winter.

L. Waldron is hauling oats to Oregon City. He says the roads are fine after a fellow gets down to them, but he says he nearly lost his team and wagon getting down.

H. Eastman, Sr., was up from Portland and spent Saturday and Sunday with his family, returning on Monday.

There was a spelling match at the Leland school house last Friday night. Miss Lottie Eastman went home with the honor of being the champion speller. She also took the medal at the Brown's school house the week previous.

Harry Eastman lost a valuable horse last Friday by the blind staggers.

HEADLIGHT.

Stafford Items.

STAFFORD, Jan. 29.—The weather for the past week has not changed much from what we had been having. The sun shone occasionally, and a few slight showers fell.

J. R. Dentel fell on a stick and split his lower lip while returning home from one of his neighbors last Wednesday evening. He went to Oswego and has it stitched up and is improving as fast as can be expected.

Thefeld Reichle fell over a woodpile Saturday night while on his way to church and banged his face up considerably. A lantern with a light in it would not be a bad companion these dark nights.

Mr. Neibauer and family have changed places of residence with Mr. Schultz and wife. Mr. Schultz will run the blacksmith shop the coming year.

Jack Hanna is clearing land for Samuel Mayer.

John Gage, Jr., has been breaking horses whenever the weather was favorable of late. He has some that are quite well broken, and others that are otherwise.

Rev. Kleaver has added a hen-house to his main buildings at the parsonage, and the church property begins to look like a small town.
