Exploring New Streams.—The Sheridan Sun states that Joel P. Geer, the steamboat man sent a letter to P. M. Scroggin the other day in which he says he will bring his light draft steamer, "The Harvest Moon," to within a short distance of Sheridan for $10 or $15. The idea of making the trip is to demonstrate to our representatives in congress that Yamhill can be made navigable for steamboats from the Willamette river to Sheridan. Mr. Geer figures that a saving in freight could be made to the farmers of Yamhill county of $40,000 per year. Mr. Geer also wishes to form a joint stock company to put in a lock at the LaFayette rapids which will cost from $6,000 to $8,000. Then, with an appropriation from the government all of the obstructions could be removed, and the question of navigation from Portland to Sheridan would be assured. Mr. Geer intimates that he will have the river surveyed soon, and expects to complete the organization of a locks company this year if possible. Our people are interested in the matter, and we have reason to believe that substantial assistance will be given Mr. Geer all along the line. If the steamer attempts the trip, we will try and give notice in the Sun. It will be a novel performance, inasmuch as it will be the first effort ever made to navigate the Yamhill above McMinnville. With the aid of locks at LaFayette the matter of navigating the Yamhill would be comparatively easy for boats of light draught.

Hands Let Out.—Conditions in the flour business are such that the Imperial mills have found it necessary to practically close down for the summer, though they may continue to run a few days in each month to supply local trade. All help except such as is absolutely necessary has been dispensed with and there is left at the mill only J. W. Ganong and L. C. Caples both retained on half pay and R. C. Ganong who goes into the sale room at much lower pay and C. T. Hickman, the nightwatch. This lets out men who have never before been omitted from the pay roll even when the mill was closed down for a considerable period. The reason for this is found in the close times and the low price of flour. Again there is not wheat enough obtainable at prices that will permit grinding for export, and to advance the price enough to secure the wheat being held would preclude exporting at a profit.

The Receiver's Office.—Allan B. Shoups writes the Salem Statesman as follows: "The receivership of the land-office at Oregon City is a political plum in Oregon which still remains unpledged and from present appearances it will hang on the tree, too high for democrats to reach for the next two years nearly. The present incumbent, Hon. Peter Paquet, was not appointed to the office until February, 1892, and his term is of four years duration. Mr. Paquet is one of the strongest republican warhorses in the state but since his appointment to a federal office he has not been an active, or in other words an offensive partisan, and no charges against him of any kind have yet been filed at the interior department."

Found a Medalion.—A short time since John Forsyth while looking about on the sand bank below town for arrow heads found what he took to be an ancient coin but which upon examination proved to be a memorial medallion issued in 1835 in commemoration of the 300th anniversary of the first printing of the bible in English. Upon one side of the medallion is a relief of the translator of the words, "Miles Coverdale." Upon the reverse it reads, "To commemorate that glorious event, the publication of the first English bible by Miles Coverdale, Bishop of Exeter, October 4, 1535 and the third centennial of the reformation, Oct. 4, 1835."

Lots of Snow.—S. D. Coleman who has been connected with the Barlow toll road almost from its inception was in the city a couple of days this week and says that the prospect for an early opening of the road is the worst that it has ever been as there is more snow on the mountains than he has ever known. At the toll gate where the sun beats down with force and soon melts the winter's accumulations from the sandy soil there is still two feet of snow. It is not only much deeper on the summit of the mountains than it usually is but it extends much further down into the valley. This will tend to make the spring backward and wet unless a chinook or very heavy warm rain comes and melts the snow in a hurry, and we are hardly anxious to have the snow go off in that way.

Our Spring Greeting for 1894.—The time has come when you must think about spring wear and we want you to connect these thoughts with our stock and store. You will find our stock representative of the best the market affords, both in material and make up. We guarantee our price in every case as the quality of the goods will warrant. Price must always be considered in relation to quality, and the final test of quality lies in actual use. We lay special stress on the quality of our goods as we aim to keep the best of every grade. No effort is spared by us to be thoroughly abreast the times, keeping always in stock prevailing styles, and adding promptly from time to time, as they appear, any new novel styles. Satisfied customers make regular patrons. That is what we want to make of you.

Glass & Smith, The Clothiers, Hatters and Furnishers.
The Blue River Mines.—At the annual meeting of the Blue River Mining & Milling Company in this city last Monday, arrangements were entered into for the immediate placing of their mine in Lane county of a 30-ton mill, which is to be in running order by July 1. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: W. H. Smith, president; George Hamilton, secretary; H. Straight, treasurer; B. F. Linn, W. H. Smith, George Hamilton, J. W. Grout and S. P. Green, directors; J. W. Grout, manager.

Married.—In Albany, Oregon, on March 28 at the M. E. parsonage, Mr. E. Ketchum to Miss Georgie Olds. The groom has for some years been manager and bookkeeper for a lumber firm in Albany and the bride is a daughter of David Olds of this city.

Change of Management.
 With the April number (Midwinter Fair Number) the editorial and business control of the Overland Monthly will be assumed by Rossmoreville Wildman, late United States Consul at Singapore, and at Barman, Germany, and United States World's Fair Commissioner for Straits of Borneo. Mr. Wildman has been more recently the proprietor of the Idaho Statesman, Boise city, and prominent in Idaho politics; he was one of the five delegates to Washington who secured statehood for Idaho. He is also known in literature as a contributor of stories and sketches to Harper's Weekly, St. Nicholas, The Youth's Companion, and other periodicals. The general standards of the magazine will remain unchanged and for the present at least, the retiring editor, Miss Shion, will be somewhat closely connected with the literary management.

Perhaps never in the history of modern journalism has any newspaper gained so rapidly in public favor as the Chicago Inter Ocean. Within the past two years it has, by adopting progressive methods and injecting push and enterprise in all its departments forced itself into the very front rank of Chicago newspapers. That this popularity is deserved is beyond question. The publisher during this time, Mr. H. H. Kohlsaat, has spared neither expense nor effort to attain his ideal—and he has succeeded. Unconspicuously republican on all National issues, the Inter Ocean does battle for what it believes to be the true faith in a manner that at once commands the attention of the public and respect of all. It can be recommended to those who desire a clean, reliable, enterprising metropolitan family newspaper.

TEACHERS MEET.

THE REGULAR MONTHLY SESSION OF THE ASSOCIATION.

The Next Regular Meeting to be held in the New School House at Milwaukee.

At new Era school house last Saturday the Clackamas County Teachers' Association was called to order at 10:30 a. m. by President Gibson. There was a large attendance of teachers from all parts of the county.

After the reading of the minutes by the secretary the following teachers were duly elected members of the association: Misses Aggie McArthur and Minnie Joehnk.

The program of the day was opened by some choice instrumental music furnished by Mr. G. Randall. Prof. W. H. Powell opened the discussion on the subject, "Use of the English Verb," which was discussed at some length by the association.

A very pleasing recitation was given by Miss Minnie Joehnk. "Interest" was the subject assigned to Prof. S. U. Downs, who treated it in an able manner. Mr. Downs does not believe in teaching many formulas to pupils. He uses the 6 per cent method in teaching this subject.

He was followed by Prof. W. H. Powell on the subject of "Percentage," who believes in connecting percentage and interest and teaching them by the 100 per cent method. Both teachers illustrated the above named methods to the association. Several teachers took part in the discussion, which followed.

At this juncture an interruption came, in the form of an invitation from Warner grange for the teachers to step over into the grange hall, and take dinner to which they heartily responded and did ample justice to the bounteous repast spread before them.

Kind words of welcome were spoken by J. Foster of Warner grange, which put all present in good humor, and all members of the grange vied with each other, in making the occasion one to be long and pleasantly remembered.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
 Called to order at 1:30. On reassembling the association was again favored with music from Mr. Randall.

A poetical recitation was given by Miss Aletha Phelps. An historical address on "Oregon" by Mrs. H. S. Gibson showed her thorough acquaintance with this subject, her allusions to the efforts of the early pioneers in the matter of providing schools for the education of the young, showed their appreciation of the value of education.

Her tribute to the energy, ability and genius of Oregon's sons and daughters are illustrated by the stasis representation at the late Columbian exposition was entirely just and well merited.

The New Era Choral Union next rendered a quartette which was well received.

"Morals in the Public Schools," a paper prepared by Miss Jennie Rowen, held the attention of all present, and was well worthy the study, of every teacher, as it contained many hints and suggestions, that would prove helpful in teaching this all important subject. Among other things, the speaker would advise the reading of short stories containing a moral to the children.

A delightful song was then sung by Mrs. Cooper.

Several members, who were on program, being absent, the remainder of the time was occupied in discussing various topics of interest to the teachers.

After which the committee on program reported the following for next meeting.

- PROGRAM.

OSWEGO ITEMS.
 The Oswego school is having an interesting series of lectures by citizens of the town one each alternate Friday afternoon. Friday, the 10th, Mr. F. L. Mintie talked upon the civil war and the 30th Mr. Gray gave a very interesting talk upon the World's Fair and its influence upon our country. April 13th, Capt. A. Evans, jr., will deliver a lecture upon Mexico and South America where he has spent several years. The pupils are required to reproduce these talks from notes taken by them and are both interested and benefitted thereby.
 We have a piano. It is not an $800 instrument, but it is a good instrument, rich and strong in tone. The pupils already show decided improvement in their marching since this acquisition. It did not cost the district a cent, being the result of two entertainments given by the pupils and Miss Bessie Evans' School of Expression for the purpose aided by the generosity of a number of the citizens.

 Katie Feathers will teach a three months term of school in District No. 99.

WE WANT YOU

to come to our store LOOKING PLEASANT SOMETIMES. We have so much to sell besides quinine, and all those bitter things; we don't want you to think we are happy only when you are sick. Of course if you must be ill we always want to put up your prescription, but we have a thousand and one things that you need besides medicine. Just now we have some particularly fine bathing accessories. Rubber and bristle bath brushes from $1 to $1.50; bath mitts 50 and 75c.; elegant bath towels from 35c to $1.50. They will last you for years and you take solid comfort every time you use them. Then everyone must have perfume and toilet waters. We have all kinds and at all prices.

IS THIS PLAIN ENOUGH?

If you buy anything at our store and it isn't exactly what it should be or what it was represented to be—if you're not satisfied, bring it back, and we'll refund full price. If you find that you could have bought the same thing any place else, at the same time, for less money, come in and we'll give you a rebate equal to the difference. We will protect our customers in every way and will consider it a favor if you will report any dissatisfaction.
