Peter McGrath, who died Sunday morning of lung trouble, was an old and well known resident of this place having been for years one of the keepers of the locks across the river. He had not been in good health for some time previous to his death though not considered dangerously sick up to a short time prior to death. The funeral occurred on Tuesday from the Catholic church of which he was a member, but under the auspices of the society of Ancient Order of Hibernians, of Portland, to which he belonged. The funeral was largely attended.

Last week Wednesday as the Elwood was making a trip up the river in the vicinity of the mouth of the Yamhill it was discovered that Wm. Armstrong assistant engineer on the boat was missing and it is supposed that he was drowned. An effort was made to find him but it seems to be the opinion of the hands upon the boat that he had been missing a good while before his absence was noticed. His folks live in this city, and his untimely death is much regretted by all who knew him.

Chas. Porter, who is at present located at Prairie City where he is running a grist mill, came down the last of the week for the purpose of purchasing a plant for a grist mill which he and his partner are putting in for the people of Drewry, in Harney county, who although they can raise fine wheat have to pay $7 per barrel for flour. The people have raised a bonus of $3,000 for the mill. Charley brought a few fine apples down with him just to show what the country up there can do.

Sometime in the "wee sma" hours of Wednesday night or about the early dawn of Thursday the contingent of Coxey's army which started from California by way of Oregon and Washington for the East passed through this city on a freight train. Their last stop was at Salem where they were given a warm meal and permitted to go on their way rejoicing, it being their intention to take the midnight freight for Portland.

Work has been resumed at the coffee dam, it being the intention to get a small section at the upper end of the works cut off before the June rise and a part of the concrete work in. False work is also being placed to keep back as much water as possible so that work may be prosecuted with all vigor later in the season.

Judge W. L. White wished to inquire for a lost turkey gobler which he thinks must have strayed from the premises of Mrs. Rhodes on the hill last Saturday. He can not think any one has been so mean as to appropriate the bird for culinary purposes, and would like to hear his gobbler once more about the place.

Chas. Kelly has the carpenters at work on a neat cottage which he himself will occupy. It is near Chas. Burns' place at Green Point.

The subject of Prof. Shorey's sermon in the Congregational church next Sunday evening will be "The Commonwealth or Coxey's Army."

District Court Notes.

After the ENTERPRISE went to press last week the republican state convention finished its labors by nominating district officers and selecting the central committee. W. N. Barrett was renominated by acclamation for prosecuting attorney and G. Wingate for member of the state board of equalization. Alonso Gessner of Salem was made the nominee for joint senator for Marion and Clackamas counties and Chas. Holman was named for member of the state central committee. The state central committee organized by the election of G. A. Steel as chairman and H. L. Wells as assistant secretary. No secretary was chosen. In selecting the chairman Mr. Steel had one more vote than Thos. Tongue, chairman of the convention.

On Monday the contractors, Hamshaw & Behun resumed work on Main street which had to be stopped last December on account of the rains. A small force of men and a few teams were put to work at the Seventh street crossing preparing the street for the gravel foundation and on Wednesday they began hauling gravel from the pit. The brick for the block between Sixth and Seventh street are on the ground and with good weather that block will soon be ready for travel. Some work is being done on lower Main street but it is not the intention of the contractors to push work till the weather is well settled.

What might have been a serious accident occurred at the improvement work across the river Wednesday evening when Hugh Brennan was struck by a heavy timber swinging from a derrick and knocked into the river. He had hardly struck the water before W. B. Dooley was in beside and hold of him. Other workmen speedily fished them from the water and Brennan was brought across to Drs. Carlil & Somers's office where it was found that in addition to some severe bruises he had several ribs fractured. On Thursday morning he was getting along well.

Last Friday evening there was a preliminary meeting at I. O. O. F. hall for the purpose of making a preliminary organization for a Rebekah lodge. Mrs. M. M. Charman was chosen noble grand; Mrs. C. O. T. Williams, vice-grand; Mrs. F. R. Charman, secretary and Miss S. L. Stevens, treasurer. They will meet again on the evening of the 4th of May for the purpose of instituting the lodge. It was intended to have the institution of the lodge on the 27th of this month, but as the degree teams from Portland could not be present at that time it was deferred one week.

Major Thos. Charman who was one of the delegates to the state convention from this county was a member of the first republican convention held on the Pacific coast. There was barely enough present at that convention to take the places on the ticket yet so rapid was the growth of republican principles that at the election which followed the ticket only lacked a few votes of being elected. He had been nominated for treasurer and came within twenty votes of winning.

Inquiries are constantly coming to the land office in this city as to when the Siletz reservation will be opened to settlement. As the bill providing for the opening of this reservation is still before congress it is in no way certain that it will be thrown open. At best it will be some time before homesteaders can make filings.

On Thursday H. S. Strange received a telegram from his brother at Wilbur stating that their mother, who has been sick for some time, was at the point of death and asking him to notify his younger brother, A. C. Strange, who is teaching at Beaver Creek. He took the evening train, hoping to arrive in time to see his mother alive.

A force of men have been busy all the past week fixing the grade of the electric line at 14th street and putting in the switch at that point. This they completed Tuesday evening. The trolley wire has yet to be placed and the track cleared before the switch will be ready for use.

Have you seen that new cigar case which C. G. Huntley has just added? It is a daisy, as besides holding a lot of fine cigars it will keep them as fresh as when made. Try one and see.

F. B. Charman and C. G. Huntley were invited down to the opening of the new Multorpor republican club room on Thursday of last week and report having had an excellent time.

C. V. Cooper, of Portland, was in this city on Thursday on business.
