FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1894.

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE.—F. M. Capps well and favorably known in this county was laid to rest in Damascus cemetery on last Friday, 27th. He was born January 19, 1842, died April 25, 1894, of consumption, after a lingering illness of several months. His religion consisted in "doing unto others as he wished them to do to him," and which religion he practiced rather than preached. Before death he spoke freely of his near approach, and, but for leaving those dear to him, gladly awaited the final hour. The writer has known him since early boyhood, and know from a warm acquaintance with him of the many and noble qualities he possessed. How kind and tender hearted to any in need. How ready and willing to attend the bedside of any sick ones and minister to their want. How fully he has earned his final rest—that other work to be taken up. A large circle of friends assisted in the last sad rites, and the school children in charge of Prof. Alex. Thomson attended in a body. Farewell, dear friend! may we meet again.

E. C. HACKETT.

A LEGIBLE SIGNATURE.—Is what every man ought to be able to append to all communications and he can not do that unless he is a good penman. An opportunity will be afforded you to learn to write a neat and rapid hand by calling at Shively's hall on Friday evening of this week when Prof. Stubbs will open a class. The professor has taught penmanship during the past fifteen years in some of the best business colleges of the country and is well known from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast as a penman of rare ability. As a pen artist and designer he has no superior on the continent. Beautiful examples of his skill have by reason of their merit found places in the leading art journals of America. Seeing is believing. Notice the specimens fresh from his pen now on exhibition in this city.

OLD AND YOUNG DANCED.—During the winter the young people and the old folks each supported a dancing club or school, both of which were well attended and most interesting. As the time had come to close for the season the members of the old people's class determined to make the last meeting a memorable one, so they invited the other class to join them on last Saturday evening at the Armory where all necessary arrangements had been made to enjoy the evening, not forgetting refreshments, and such a pleasant time has not been experienced in many a day as was had that night. It is most probable that owing to the success of the dancing classes the past winter they will be reorganized early next fall.

THE FINEST MUSIC.—The Denver Times notes that the trained voices of the vocalists and the skill and sympathetic power the accompanists made the concert an oasis in the desert of the ordinary musical happenings. Sig. G. Ferrari rendered these baritone solos from the operas of Ernani and Nabuccodonosar, also selections from Donizetti's L'Elisir D'Amore, adding dramatic action to vocal in the latter, and carrying his audience away. In the closing number a duet from "Il Trovatore" by Miss Clara Bernetta and Signor G. Ferrari. Hearty applause and enthusiastic encore followed her selections.

GETTING SCARCE.—The last Columbian stamps were issued to the postmasters before the first of January this year and since that time many of the offices have exhausted their supply so that more letters pass through the postoffices now with the old kind stuck on than are decorated with the much despised Columbian. The large denomination cannot be obtained at all except of dealers at exorbitant prices and the smaller denominations are beginning to be in active demand.

THEIR CRYSTAL WEDDING.—Last Tuesday was the fifteenth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Groom and Rev. and Mrs. Gilman Parker planned to make the day a pleasant one by inviting the worthy couple to their home to spend the afternoon and evening. After a sumptuous dinner and a social visit they were surprised by the sudden appearance of the members of Baptist church in a body, who had no sooner arrived than they proceeded to make themselves at home. A very pleasant evening was passed in social intercourse and games, in the midst of which the new Oregon City band arrived and announced their presence by discoursing some of their finest. Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served and then the gayeties proceeded till time for the last car warned the merry makers that it was time to part, but before leaving Mr. and Mrs. Groom were wished many happy returns of the day.

VOLUME 7, No. 7.—Of the ENTERPRISE was published on December 13th, 1872, and was at that time a seven column folio, at the head of which appeared the following: "A democratic paper for the business man, the farmer and the family circle, issued every Friday by A. Nolner." Among the business cards appeared those of W. F. Highfield, jeweler; Huelat & Warren, attorneys; F. Barclay, surgeon; Johnson & McCown, attorneys. The Lincoln Bakery was then run by Williams & Harding, and Chas. H. Caulfield advertised a new and well selected stock of dry goods, fancy goods, millinery, shoes, groceries, etc. The well known merchant, Thomas Charman, advertises a full line of general merchandise and offers to buy legal tender and county script, from which it would appear that the county was in debt even then.

LOGGING THE SANDY.—The Sunday Oregonian says, the attempt to raft logs down the Sandy will probably prove successful, and the saw mill will be erected near Troutdale. Code Bos., who are at the head of the enterprise, had some men up the river getting out boom sticks last week, which they undertook to raft down the river to the point where the mill is to be built. The raft came down several miles over the worst part of the river with the men on it, when it struck a boulder, where it held fast. The boom sticks are 75 feet long, but saw logs are not half that length, and would come down without any trouble at all. The projectors of the enterprise say they are well satisfied with the experiment and think they will be able to get timber down the river without trouble.

TO ROB FARMERS.—According to the Eugene Guard a new game has been invented by sharpers to rob the farmers and here it is. A smooth-tongued fellow approaches a farmer, claiming to have a new sickle-grinder and secures him as agent in that neighborhood. He is persuaded into signing a contract for one-half gross of the machines for trial. The wording of the contract is changed and some figures added which makes the order call for $2200 worth of machines. A few days afterward another fellow appears and claims that the machines have arrived, presents his bill. The farmer is paralyzed and denies the account. Of course he is then shown his signature and sees that they have the best of him. A compromise is offered that he pay a few hundred dollars, and he finally accepts.

SHEEP AT LARGE.—Last week the ENTERPRISE noted that a petition was in circulation asking the county clerk to place upon the ballot a printed form permitting voters to give expressions to their preference relative to sheep running at large. He has looked up the law on this question and finds that voters may cast a ballot for or against hogs running at large, but no separate provision exists for other animals and that therefore the vote must be applicable to all other animals.

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggist, 75c.

Mid-Winter Fair excursion tickets, Oregon City to San Francisco and return, via Southern Pacific Co's Shasta Route, will be placed on sale January 23rd. Rate $27.50, including five admissions to the fair. Tickets good for thirty days from date of sale.

ON MAIN STREET.—The work of making this the finest and best street in Oregon goes on apace. The first of the week the block in front of the ENTERPRISE office was finished and workmen are now busy bringing the block next north, down to grade. The dirt and rocks from this section of the street are being taken to Moss street by the Congregational church and there dumped at the south end of the trestle and used in making the fill which is there necessary. A rough stone wall is being placed on either side well back from Main street to serve as a support for the dirt which will have to be firm enough to support the brick which will form the street surface over the fill.

CROAKERS IN THOSE DAYS.—From a copy of the ENTERPRISE published in December, 1872, we glean the following: The workmen are engaged at present in blasting out the rocks at the mouth of the locks, which had been left there to keep out the water. In ten days from this date boats can pass up and down. What will those croaks say then who predicted that they would never be completed, and others who declared they would not be done in five years? They will be done, and before the first day of January, 1873 as provided by law. We learn that it is the intention to pass the first boat through on Christmas day.

SOME GOOD ROADS.—J. W. Doores and wife of Marquam were in the city the first of the week visiting W. W. H. Samson and family. Mr. Doores in speaking of the roads of that section of the county says that when work was done upon them the past year they have been much better this spring than across the line in Marion county and that the two roads across the Butte Creek bottom leading to Marquam have attracted the settlers of Scott's mills so that they have gone fully a mile out of their way to travel these roads as they could get along so much better. It pays to make good roads when you are making.

A DARING BURGLAR.—A resident of the hill was absent from home the other evening, his wife being away at an entertainment at the same time, when some one entered his house upon a predatory excursion and was diligently doing the house when the owner returned about half past eight and disturbed him in his researches so that he made haste to get away, not stopping to secure any booty. He had gained admission to the house by a front window, but did not take time to leave by the same route. He ran out at the back door before the proprietor had time to catch even a sight of his form.

FRUIT PROSPECTS.—Despite the cold weather and storms of the past week the prospects for a good crop of fruit was never much better than it is at present, with the exception perhaps of peaches. Cherries were fairly loaded with blossoms and while many of them were beaten off by the heavy rains and slight hail there are plenty left on the trees to make a full crop, and there are mostly well set so that it will take continued cold weather or frost to spoil the crop. Apples are coming nicely into bloom with limbs hanging full and plums and prunes promise a good yield.

A CYCLER'S CLUB.—Oregon City has never given a great deal of attention to cycling on account of the poor streets in the city and the worse roads outside of town. With the improvement of Main street and two streets on the hill there will be a fair opportunity for riding the "bike" and there is talk among some of the boys forming a "cyclers" club, which it is believed will not only arouse interest in this fine sport but lead to much enjoyment and healthful exercise.

POSTMASTER PROTECTOR.—On the last day of April Mr. Eugene Protzman, Portland's new postmaster, was installed in his office. His commission had arrived several days previous, but as all accounts have to be closed up to the end of the month, he waited till that time before entering upon the discharge of his duties.

SNOW IN THE MOUNTAINS.—J. T. McIntire, who was in the city the past week serving on the jury says that he sees no immediate prospect for an early opening of the road over the mountains as the snow is deeper above his place at Salmon than it has been for years. He does not expect now to see teams crossing the toll road before the first of July.

LOST.—Check of deposit on the Portland Savings Bank for $100 in favor of C. H. Kinney. A reward will be paid for its return to G. C. Kinney, Oregon City.

LAWYERS.—Keep your blanks and papers clean and in order. Buy a spool case at the Red Front for $1.50.

The Bandon Woolen Mills.
The Bandon Record of April 27, notes the enterprise of several of our city's former citizens as follows:
Bandon's future prospects are looking upward, and we have faith in her abiding prosperity. The push and enterprise that is being, and will be put forward by her citizens for the solid upbuilding of industry here, cannot but be crowned with success, unless business continues to keep in a paralyzed condition all over the country.

The Bandonville brought in a large amount of machinery for the woolen mills last Monday, and although the steamer's hold was packed full, and her deck piled high with looms and spindles and carding machines, yet there is fully one-fourth of the machinery left for the next trip of the vessel.

Messrs. Clark and Palmer, of the Woolen Mill Company, came up with the machinery, and brought a number of operatives with them. The machinery is already housed in the mill, and is being placed in position as fast as possible. The machiners is of the best, and when it is ready for operating, it will be superior to any mill on the coast, and for a two-set mill will have a fourth greater capacity than any of the mills on the coast.

The same issue also states that the following named persons arrived on the Bandonville last Monday: F. E. Palmer, T. W. Clark, Frank Burkhart, James Chase and R. Wilbur.

The Old Way
is to take pills when you are constipated or bilious, but they don't go down easy and when they get down there's a shudder. The better way is to take Simmons Liver Regulator, nature's own remedy, purely vegetable, in liquid or powder form. You can take a pinch of the powder on the tongue and with a sup of water swallow it without taste. The Regulator tones up the digestive organs and prevents indigestion and constipation.

PRICE OF PAINT.

Are you thinking about painting your house this spring? Do you want to use the very best paint made? And do you want to get it for a very reasonable price? If you do, come to our store and get a color card of Masury's Mixed Paint and let us tell you about it.

If you think of mixing the paint yourself—or in other words using white lead and linseed oil—you will surely want the best, and the right way to get the best, is to buy of a firm you can depend on. We know of a wholesale house in Portland that put out what they claimed to be a pure linseed oil, and when tested by a competent chemist it was found to contain almost fifty per cent. of fish oil. The linseed oil we sell you we guarantee strictly pure, and we also guarantee our price to be equally as low as that charged for the inferior oil. Come and see us before buying.
